

CANADIAN TRAIN ROBBER ARRESTED

POLICE GUARD SIXTY CHICAGO CAB STANDS

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Police today guarded sixty taxicab stations in Chicago while three investigating organizations sought clues to the bombing of two cab garages here Sunday night and the burning of John D. Hertz racing stables at Gary, Ill., early yesterday.

Ten men were arrested following the garage blasts and fifteen others were sought today, chief of whom was Harry Brown, known as "Frisco Dutch," who was tried for the murder a year ago of Joseph Wokray, president of the Checker Cab Company. Brown was accused of the killing, alleged to have climaxed a contest for control of the taxi company.

INDUSTRY REACHES HIGH LEVEL REPORT OF CLEVELAND BANK

Manufacturing Is Better
Than Year Ago Review Says

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 3.—Industrial activity is at high levels, with a majority of manufacturers doing from 5 to 25 per cent more business now than a year ago, according to the monthly review of the Cleveland Federal Reserve Bank, released today.

"Iron and steel plants during September were able to expand operations on a rising price scale," the review says.

"Heavy automotive demand has been a strong factor in the situation, acting as it has on the district's steel, accessory, rubber, paint and glass industries."

"Various other lines, such as electrical supply and machinery, are likewise doing more business than a year ago."

"Money rates are firm, but no shortage of credit for commercial purposes is reported from the district's leading financial centers," the bank says. It points out, however, that building operations recently have made an unfavorable showing, reflecting higher cost of borrowing for construction purposes.

The bank says the character of demand for iron and steel benefited northern Ohio, Youngstown and Pittsburgh particularly.

It says that the outlook for the last quarter of this year is slightly encouraging.

Greater activity was reported in the clothing industry and manufacturers were inclined to be more confident of the winter trade than they were a month ago.

"The shoe manufacturing industry was described as 'in good condition.'"

Conditions in various miscellaneous lines were summarized as follows:

Electrical supplies: Business is somewhat better than a year ago.

Machinery, machine tools: Sales of engineering specialties are well in excess of a year ago.

Metal containers: Demand is increasing and data shows a gain in business of about 10 per cent over last year.

Motor accessories: Manufacturers remain extremely busy. Numerous factories are operating large night forces in an endeavor to keep up with incoming orders.

Paint: Salesmen now on the road are said to be obtaining larger orders than heretofore.

Paper: Conditions in the paper trade leave something to be desired; profits are smaller despite heavier business, and recently orders have exhibited a declining tendency greater than seasonal.

Stoves: The usual seasonal increase in inquiries for stoves and ranges is now taking place.

LORAIN JURY PROBE IS TAKING RECESS

ELYRIA, Oct. 3.—Grand jury investigation of alleged deplorable crime conditions at Lorain, was at a standstill today.

County Prosecutor Dow Baird excused the jurors late yesterday, telling them it would not be necessary to report for duty again until tomorrow morning.

The crime probe was precipitated by the shooting of twenty-two-year-old Betty Heywood by three Lorain dry officers.

Baird has revealed nothing of what has taken place in the grand jury room. Twenty-one witnesses have testified.

No intimation of what action the grand jury took in the case of the three dry raiders accused of shooting Miss Heywood, has been given. The raiders are at liberty under $1,500 bond each.

SALE DATES RESERVED

Mrs. Bessie Peterson, Oct. 18.

R. C. Watt, Oct. 25, 1928.

Gray W. McCampbell, Nov. 1.

Tunney And Miss Lauder Marry

RETIRED CHAMPION WEDS SOCIETY GIRL IN DUAL CEREMONY

Civil And Religious Rites Unite Pair Quietly In Rome

ROME, Oct. 3. — In a simple service, before only a few friends, Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight boxing champion, was married today to Miss Mary Josephine Lauder, American society girl and heiress.

The civil ceremony took place in a drawing room on the third floor of the Hotel De Russie, which looks out across the Piazza Del Popolo. Only a few friends and Italian officials watched as Tunney—the former office clerk and marine—was married to the girl who had been his inspiration when he started to amass a fortune as a boxer.

The civil ceremony was performed by Commandatore Giuseppe Brofferio, chief clerk, assisted by Commandatore Bellezza and Mario Cherubini, an attorney.

The drawing room in which the civil service was held was fitted with furniture from the sixteenth century.

Those who accompanied Miss Lauder on her trip from the United States, with the addition of Thornton Wilder, the author, James D. Mahony, Tunney's private secretary and several others numbering about twenty-five in all, were the only members of the wedding party with the exception of the Italian officials.

The ceremony was brief. An Italian official read the passages of the marriage law and outlined the duties of both the wife and the husband toward each other. Then he turned to Miss Lauder:

"Do you take Mr. Tunney as your husband?" he asked.

She replied in a low voice to the affirmative.

"Do you take Miss Lauder as your wife?" the official asked Tunney.

Tunney replied with a firm "yes".

The obligations of the marriage contract under the Italian law then were read to the couple, now man and wife. Tunney was designated as the "head of the family" and his bride was abjured to accompany him wherever he considers it suitable to fix his residence.

The newlyweds stood silent while

(Continued On Page Two)

CHARGE ARMY OFFICER IMPORTED FOR MURDER

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 3.—

Charges that a former Italian army officer was brought to Cleveland to assassinate Joe and John Lonardo, once dominant figures in Cleveland's underworld, and that Anthony Caruso, who was murdered last July, was killed because he knew the slayer, were being investigated by police today.

The story of the supposed plot was revealed to Detective Lieutenant Frank Story by an unidentified informant who was closeted most of the night with the police official. Story said the informant was conversant with the Lonardos and Caruso and was familiar with their business activities.

The Lonardos were ambushed in a barber shop here a year ago. Joe died instantly but John pursued the gunman to the street where he was killed. Caruso, standing in his store, was said to have seen and recognized the assassin.

Caruso subsequently refused to talk, but spurred by a $10,000 offer made by Lonardo henchmen, was preparing to tell when he too, was shot down, Story said.

ABSORBING TALE OF GRAFT BEING HEARD ON SEWER SCANDAL

Defendants Calm As State Reveals New York Graft

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—An absorbing story of graft, as it is done on a gigantic scale and in America's greatest city, steadily is being woven in the trial of New York's latest administrative scandals.

As the $30,000,000 Queens sewer case swung into its second week of testimony today, the state found the background of its charges firmly laid. Its job now will be to prove two former high officials of Queens Borough guilty of conspiracy—a task in which the odds are heavily against it.

Calmly and with little show of anxiety, the two defendants in the case sit in the antiquated Queens County courtroom and watch former District Attorney Emory Buckner wade through a mass of documentary evidence.

On the same witness stand where Judd Gray tremulously took a window weight and demonstrated how he murdered the husband of Mrs. Ruth Snyder, scores of witnesses rapidly are sending another celebrated New York trial forward to the jury.

They are telling the story behind a program of sewer construction amounting to more than $29,500,000, of which the state claims that at least $8,000,000 was unaccounted for.

Maurice E. Connolly, former president of Queens Borough, and Frederick Seely, his chief construction engineer, definitely have been linked, in the last week with contracts awarded illicitly under the New York state laws.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

CHARGE ARMY OFFICER IMPORTED FOR MURDER

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 3.—

Charges that a former Italian army officer was brought to Cleveland to assassinate Joe and John Lonardo, once dominant figures in Cleveland's underworld, and that Anthony Caruso, who was murdered last July, was killed because he knew the slayer, were being investigated by police today.

The story of the supposed plot was revealed to Detective Lieutenant Frank Story by an unidentified informant who was closeted most of the night with the police official. Story said the informant was conversant with the Lonardos and Caruso and was familiar with their business activities.

The Lonardos were ambushed in a barber shop here a year ago. Joe died instantly but John pursued the gunman to the street where he was killed. Caruso, standing in his store, was said to have seen and recognized the assassin.

Caruso subsequently refused to talk, but spurred by a $10,000 offer made by Lonardo henchmen, was preparing to tell when he too, was shot down, Story said.

ABSORBING TALE OF GRAFT BEING HEARD ON SEWER SCANDAL

Defendants Calm As State Reveals New York Graft

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—An absorbing story of graft, as it is done on a gigantic scale and in America's greatest city, steadily is being woven in the trial of New York's latest administrative scandals.

As the $30,000,000 Queens sewer case swung into its second week of testimony today, the state found the background of its charges firmly laid. Its job now will be to prove two former high officials of Queens Borough guilty of conspiracy—a task in which the odds are heavily against it.

Calmly and with little show of anxiety, the two defendants in the case sit in the antiquated Queens County courtroom and watch former District Attorney Emory Buckner wade through a mass of documentary evidence.

On the same witness stand where Judd Gray tremulously took a window weight and demonstrated how he murdered the husband of Mrs. Ruth Snyder, scores of witnesses rapidly are sending another celebrated New York trial forward to the jury.

They are telling the story behind a program of sewer construction amounting to more than $29,500,000, of which the state claims that at least $8,000,000 was unaccounted for.

Maurice E. Connolly, former president of Queens Borough, and Frederick Seely, his chief construction engineer, definitely have been linked, in the last week with contracts awarded illicitly under the New York state laws.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens. Connolly and Seely were to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockpoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other type. Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

GAZETTE MAKING READY FOR ANNUAL WORLD SERIES RADIO PARTY HERE

Sportdom's annual classic, the series of baseball games between the National and American League champions for the championship of the world, starts Thursday in New York City.

There, Miller Huggins' famed team of all-stars, the New York Yankees, consistent pennant winners in the junior circuit, will play hosts to Bill McKechnie's second senior loop champions, this time the St. Louis Cardinals.

Thousands of fans thrilled by the cry "play ball" and the immense importance that hinges on the result in the world of sport, will crowd the Yankee stadium to see the opening game. Thousands of other fans, just as interested, will not be permitted to attend the games.

Xenians thus at a disadvantage

will find the next best place to be Thursday will be in front of the Gazette Bldg., where they can hear the play-by-play description of the game by radio.

THE GAZETTE is prepared to entertain at its annual world series radio party. Through one of the two big national radio hookups from the playing field, it will receive the vivid action story of the game and relay it to fans here through the amplifying device and big horn that has proved popular at other big events here in the past.

The party, of course, is free and everyone is invited. The horn will protrude from a second story window on the Detroit St. side, and the big banner will be displayed as the signal that another radio party is on.

GENE AND POLLY ARE MARRIED

Big Bank Deposits Result In New Arrests

TWO MORE CAPTAINS OF POLICE ARE HELD IN PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—Arrest of two more police captains who are alleged to have made fortunes by accepting bribes from bootleggers and saloon keepers was promised today by District Attorney John Monaghan.

Monaghan refused to reveal names but said records had been found providing that one had bank deposits and securities totaling $12,000 while another had assets of $18,000.

Yesterday the first direct testimony concerning tributes laid by police upon disorderly houses was brought out in a hearing before Judge Edwin O. Lewis. A woman testified that one house paid $220 a week to police. It was estimated that there were fifty houses in that district, all of which bribed patrolmen.

The woman said she paid three members of the vice squad each Wednesday and that on Friday a special detective received his money. William Dixey, James P. Kelly and Warren E. Robertson of the vice squad and Edward Casey, the special detective, were held in $2,500 bail each.

FESS ATTACKED IN OPPONENT'S TALK

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 3.—

"America today does not need the smug morality of the Fesses, the Villenbrants, and the Strattons," Charles V. Truax, Democratic candidate for United States senator, told the Young Men's Democratic Club at a rally here last night.

Truax and Richard Cleveland, son of President Grover Cleveland, were the principal speakers at the gathering. Truax concentrated his attack on the senior Ohio senator, Simon D. Fess; Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant U. S. attorney general, and Dr. John Roach Straton, and continued:

"I ask you to defeat one of the worst scoundrels in Ohio, one of the worst character assassins, Senator Simon D. Fess. I intend to pull all these character assassins out of the holes and make them fight in the open."

Cleveland told of "this fellow Al Smith, I'm crazy about."

"Governor Smith never disappoints, never sidesteps, never quibbles," Cleveland said. "He knows what ought to be done and does it."

AMERICAN CAPTURED BY REBELS IN NICARAGUA IS FOUND DEAD

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Oct. 3.—George Marshall, American mining engineer captured by Sandino rebels in April, died in the mountains of Nicaragua, near Masatepe, it became known today.

Officials identified the body of a man found near Masatepe as that of Marshall, through a description furnished them by Mrs. Marshall, who at present is residing in Porto Rico.

The identification cleared up the mystery that had marked the disappearance of Marshall after Sandino rebels raided the La Luz mine in eastern Nicaragua on April 12.

Marshall was manager of the gold mine and he had one American assistant. The other American escaped, but the rebels seized Marshall and took over the mine.

For a brief time the rebels attempted to work the valuable gold deposit, found this impossible, then fled after burning most of the mine structures. Marshall was taken with them.

NINE SLAIN IN FRONTIER WAR

ATHENS, Oct. 3.—Nine persons, including the Yugo-Slavian

CANADIAN TRAIN ROBBER ARRESTED

POLICE GUARD SIXTY CHICAGO CAB STANDS

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Police today guarded sixty taxicab stations in Chicago while three investigating organizations sought clues to the bombing of two cab garages here Sunday night and the burning of John D. Hertz racing stables at Gary, Ill., early yesterday.

Deputy Police Commissioner John Stege expressed certainty that the fire, which destroyed racing horses valued at $200,000, was connected with the bombing as part of a war between rival cab companies here.

Ten men were arrested following the garage blasts and fifteen others were sought today, chief of whom was Harry Brown, known as "Frisco Dutch," who was tried for the murder a year ago of Joseph Wokray, president of the Checker Cab Company. Brown was acquitted of the killing, alleged to have climaxed a contest for control of the taxi company.

Hertz is a director of the Yellow Cab Company. Sheriff Cyrus Sanford of McHenry County said he believed the barn had been burned in an effort to destroy Reiza Count, Kentucky derby winner. The famous horse was saved.

INDUSTRY REACHES HIGH LEVEL REPORT OF CLEVELAND BANK

Manufacturing Is Better
Than Year Ago Review Says

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 3.—Industrial activity is at high levels, with a majority of manufacturers doing from 5 to 25 per cent more business now than a year ago, according to the monthly review of the Cleveland Federal Reserve Bank, released today.

"Iron and steel plants during September were able to expand operations on a rising price scale," the review says.

"Heavy automotive demand has been a strong factor in the situation, acting as it has on the district's leading financial centers," the bank says. It points out, however, that building operations recently have made an unfavorable showing, reflecting higher cost of borrowing for construction purposes.

"Various other lines, such as electrical supply and machinery, are likewise doing more business than a year ago."

"Money rates are firm, but no shortage of credit for commercial purposes is reported from the district's leading financial centers," the bank says. It points out, however, that building operations recently have made an unfavorable showing, reflecting higher cost of borrowing for construction purposes.

"The bank says the character of recent demand for iron and steel benefited northern Ohio, Youngstown and Pittsburgh particularly. It says that the outlook for the coal industry in the district for the last quarter of this year is slightly encouraging."

Greater activity was reported in the clothing industry and manufacturers were inclined to be more confident of the winter trade than they were a month ago.

"The shoe manufacturing industry was described as 'in good condition.'"

Conditions in various miscellaneous lines were summarized as follows:

Electrical supplies: Business is somewhat better than a year ago. Machinery, machine tools: Sales of engineering specialties are well in excess of a year ago.

Metal containers: Demand is increasing and 1928 to date shows a gain in business of about 10 per cent over last year.

Motor accessories: Manufacturers remain extremely busy. Numerous factories are operating large night forces in an endeavor to keep up with incoming orders.

Paint: Salesmen now on the road are said to be obtaining large orders than heretofore.

"Paper: Conditions in the paper trade leave something to be desired; profits are smaller despite heavier business, and recently orders have exhibited a declining tendency greater than seasonal."

Stoves: The usual seasonal increase in inquiries for stoves and ranges is now taking place.

LORAIN JURY PROBE IS TAKING RECESS

ELYRIA, Oct. 3.—Grand jury investigation of alleged deplorable crime conditions at Lorain, was at a standstill today.

County Prosecutor Dow Baird excused the jurors last yesterday, telling them it would not be necessary to report for duty again until tomorrow morning.

The crime probe was precipitated by the shooting of twenty-two-year-old Betty Heywood by three Lorain day officers.

Baird has revealed nothing of what has taken place in the grand jury room. Twenty-one witnesses have testified.

No indication of what action the grand jury took in the case of the three day raiders accused of shooting Miss Heywood, has been given. The raiders are at liberty under $1,500 bond each.

SALE DATES RESERVED

Mrs. Bessie Peterson, Oct. 18.
R. C. Watt, Oct. 25, 1928.
Gray W. McCampbell, Nov. 1.

Tunney And Miss Lauder Marry

RETIRE CHAMPION WEDS SOCIETY GIRL IN DUAL CEREMONY

Civil And Religious Rites
Unite Pair Quietly
In Rome

ROME, Oct. 3. — In a simple service, before only a few friends, Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight boxing champion, was married today to Miss Mary Josephine Lauder, American society girl and heiress.

The civil ceremony took place in a drawing room on the third floor of the Hotel De Russie, which looks out across the Piazza Del Popolo. Only a few friends and Italian officials watched as Tunney—the former office clerk and marine—was married to the girl who had been his inspiration when he started to amass a fortune as a boxer.

The civil ceremony was performed by Commandatore Giuseppe Brattorio, chief clerk, assisted by Commandatore Bellezza and Mario Cherubini, an attorney.

The drawing room in which the civil service was held was fitted with furniture from the sixteenth century.

Those who accompanied Miss Lauder on her trip from the United States, with the addition of Thornton Wilder, the author, Jan S. D. Mahany, Tunney's private secretary, and several others numbering about twenty-five in all, were the only members of the wedding party with the exception of the Italian officials.

The ceremony was brief. An Italian official read the passages of the marriage law and outlined the duties of both the wife and the husband toward each other. Then he turned to Miss Lauder:

"Do you take Mr. Tunney as your husband?" he asked.

She replied in a low voice to the affirmative.

"Do you take Miss Lauder as your wife?" the official asked Tunney.

Tunney replied with a firm "yes."

The obligations of the marriage contract under the Italian law then were read to the couple, now man and wife. Tunney was designated as the "head of the family" and his bride was abjured to accompany him wherever he considers it suitable to fix his residence.

The newlyweds stood silent while

(Continued On Page Two)

CHARGE ARMY OFFICER IMPORTED FOR MURDER

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 3.—Charges that a former Italian army officer was brought to Cleveland to assassinate Joe and John Lombardo, once dominant figures in Cleveland's underworld, and that Anthony Caruso, who was murdered last July, was killed because he knew the slayer, were being investigated by police today.

The story of the supposed plot was revealed to Detective Lieutenant Frank Story by an unidentified informant who was closeted most of the night with the police official. Story said the informant was conversant with the Lombardos and Caruso and was familiar with their business activities.

The Lombardos were ambushed in a barber shop here a year ago. Joe died instantly but John pursued the gunman to the street where he was killed. Caruso, standing in his store, was said to have seen and recognized the assassin.

Caruso subsequently refused to talk, but spurred by a $10,000 offer made by Lombardo henchmen, was preparing to tell when he too, was shot down, Story said.

ABSORBING TALE OF GRAFT BEING HEARD ON SEWER SCANDAL

Defendants Calm As State Reveals New York Graft

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—An absorbing story of graft, as it is done on a gigantic scale and in America's greatest city, steadily is being woven in the trial of New York's latest administrative scandals.

As the $300,000,000 Queens sewer case swung into its second week of testimony today, the state found the background of its charges firmly laid. Its job now will be to prove two former high officials of Queens Borough guilty of conspiracy—a task in which the odds are heavily against it.

Calmly and with little show of anxiety, the two defendants in the case sit in the antiquated Queens County courtroom and watch for District Attorney Emory Buckner wade through a mass of documentary evidence.

On the same witness stand where Judd Gray tremulously took a window weight and demonstrated how he murdered the husband of Mrs. Ruth Snyder, scores of witnesses rapidly are sending another celebrated New York trial forward to the jury.

They are telling the story behind a program of sewer construction amounting to more than $29,500,000, of which the state claims that at least $8,000,000 was unloyal graft.

Maurice E. Connolly, former president of Queens Borough, and Frederick Seely, his chief construction engineer, definitely have been linked in the last week with contracts awarded illicitly under the New York state laws.

The third chief figure in the sewer scandal, John M. Phillips, so-called sewer pipe czar, has been the object of most of the charges. But Phillips, who was to have been tried with Connolly and Seely, is out of the law's reach. He died before the trial began.

The state has sought to show, and with a measure of success, that Phillips, Connolly and Seely formed a triumvirate in 1917 to control the awarding of contracts for the huge amount of sewer work in Queens.

Seely was to word the specifications in such a way that they fitted a patented lockjoint pipe controlled by Phillips, but no other pipe, Phillips was to get whatever price he asked for his pipe and divide the profits with Seely and Connolly.

The search was renewed after police were advised that unidentified gunmen fired two shots through the door of the Dr. Roy G. Werner home here. The bullets apparently were intended for the home of Municipal Judge Carl Hoyt who resides next door.

Although Dr. Werner admitted he had been threatened by blackmailers two years ago police were inclined to link the shooting with the Ross case. Judge Hoyt, it was pointed out, has been one of Ross' staunchest supporters.

AKRON GANGS RENEW ATTACKS ON JUDGE

AKRON, O., Oct. 3.—Police and detectives today renewed with vigor their search for the men who recently attempted to destroy the home of Councilman Kyle Ross, chairman of a councilmanic committee created to investigate vice conditions here.

The search was renewed after police were advised that unidentified gunmen fired two shots through the door of the Dr. Roy G. Werner home here. The bullets apparently were intended for the home of Municipal Judge Carl Hoyt who resides next door.

Although Dr. Werner admitted he had been threatened by blackmailers two years ago police were inclined to link the shooting with the Ross case. Judge Hoyt, it was pointed out, has been one of Ross' staunchest supporters.

TWO KILLED WHEN AUTO STRIKES BUS

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 3.—J. N. Townsend, Canton, died last night in Mt. Carmel Hospital from injuries he sustained in a head-on collision between the automobile in which he was riding and a Buckeye Stage Company bus on the Three C's highway eight miles east of Washington C. H.

Townsend's wife was killed in the crash.

Townsend was unconscious when he was brought here and did not regain consciousness.

The accident occurred when the car driven by Townsend crashed into the bus when he attempted to pass a car driven by H. F. Warner, a rural mail carrier.

The bus, enroute to Cincinnati, was hurled from the road, but the driver and three other passengers escaped injury.

DARROW TO DEFEND MAN FOURTH TIME

WARREN, O., Oct. 3.—Clarence Darrow, famous criminal lawyer, will be called to the defense of James Munsene, alleged bootlegger again Oct. 29 when Munsene is scheduled to go on trial for the fourth time, charged with attempting to bribe Sheriff J. H. Smith.

Munsene was convicted twice in trials at Warren, but both times the court of appeals reversed the decision on error. The third trial resulted in a hung jury. Darrow, a friend of Munsene's father, represented the defendant at that time.

TWO MORE CAPTAINS OF POLICE ARE HELD IN PHILADELPHIA

Big Bank Deposits Result In New Arrests

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—Arrest of two more police captains who are alleged to have made fortunes by accepting bribes from bootleggers and saloon keepers was promised today by District Attorney John Monaghan.

Monaghan refused to reveal names but said records had been found providing that one had bank deposits and securities totalling $42,000 while another had assets of $31,000.

Yesterday the first direct testimony concerning tributes laid by police upon disorderly houses was brought out in a hearing before Judge Edwin O. Lewis. A woman testified that one house paid $220 a week to police. It was estimated that there were fifty houses in that district, all of which bribed patrons.

The woman said she paid three members of the vice squad each Wednesday and on Friday a special detective received his money. William Dixey, James P. Kelly and Warren E. Robertson of the vice squad and Edward Casey, the special detective, were held in $2,500 bail each.

FESS ATTACKED IN OPPONENT'S TALK

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 3.—"America today does not need the sense, the morality of the Fesses, the Willoughbys and the Stratons," Charles V. Traux, Democratic candidate for United States senator, told the Young Men's Democratic Club at a rally here last night.

Traux and Richard Cleveland, son of President Grover Cleveland, were the principal speakers at the gathering. Traux concentrated his attack on the senior Ohio senator, Simon D. Fess; Mrs. Mabel Walker Whitebrand, assistant U. S. attorney general, and Dr. John Roach Straton, and continued:

"I ask you to defeat one of the worst scoundrels in Ohio, one of the worst character assassins, Senator Simon D. Fess. I intend to pull all these character assassins out of their holes and make them fight in the open."

Cleveland told of "this fellow Al Smith, I'm crazy about."

"Governor Smith never disappoints, never sidesteps, never quits," Cleveland said. "He knows what ought to be done and does it."

ROYAL ARCH MASONS MEET IN COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, Oct. 3.—Mayor James J. Thomas welcomed delegates to the 112th annual convention of Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons of Ohio, at Masonic auditorium today.

The fraternal welcome was extended by Burleigh E. Cartmell, Delaware, grand marshal.

Tonight the Royal Arch degree will be conferred under the proposed new ritual of the Grand Chapter in the auditorium by representatives of the eleventh district chapters, under auspices of Ohio Chapter No. 12, at Zanesville. The convention will close tomorrow.

SET MURDER TRIAL

CONNEAUT, O., Oct. 3.—The trial of Almeria Churchill, 41, of Conneaut, on a charge of killing Roy Dean, Monroe Center cattle buyer, has been set for Oct. 22.

Churchill pleaded not guilty when arrested yesterday. Dean was shot to death on a farm three miles southeast of Conneaut on July 19 during an alleged drinking party.

GAZETTE MAKING READY FOR ANNUAL WORLD SERIES RADIO PARTY HERE

Sportdom's annual classic, the series of baseball games between the National and American League champions for the championship of the world, starts Thursday in New York City.

There Miller Juggins' famed team of all-stars, the New York Yankees, consistent pennant winners in the junior circuit, will play hosts to Bill McKechnie's second senior loop champions, this time the St. Louis Cardinals.

Thousands of fans thrilled by the cry "play ball" and the immense importance that hinges on the result in the world of sport, will crowd the Yankee stadium to see the opening game. Thousands of other fans, just as interested, will not be permitted to attend the games.

Xenians thus at a disadvantage

will find the next best place to be Thursday will be in front of the Gazette Bldg., where they can hear the play-by-play description of the game by radio.

THE GAZETTE is prepared to entertain at its annual world series radio party. Through one of the two big national radio hook-ups from the playing field, it will receive the vivid action story of the game and relay it to fans here through the amplifying device and big horn that has proved popular at other big events here in the past.

The party, of course, is free and everyone is invited. The horn will protrude from a second story window on the Detroit St., side and the big banner will be displayed as the signal that another radio party is on.

GENE AND POLLY ARE MARRIED

Miss Polly Lauder, American society girl, became Mrs. Gene Tunney, wife of the retired heavy-weight champion at a ceremony performed in Rome Wednesday. Inset is Tunney.

AMERICAN CAPTURED BY REBELS IN NICARAGUA IS FOUND DEAD

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Oct. 3.—George Marshall, American mining engineer captured by Sandino rebels in April, died in the midlands of Nicaragua, near Mastawa, it became known today.

Officials identified the body of a man found near Mastawa as that of Marshall, through a description furnished them by Mrs. Marshall, who at present is residing in Porto Rico.

The identification cleared up the mystery that had marked the disappearance of Marshall after Sandino rebels raided the La Luz mine in eastern Nicaragua on April 12.

Marshall was manager of the gold mine and he had one American assistant. The other American escaped, but the rebels seized Marshall and took over the mine.

For a brief time the rebels attempted to work the valuable gold deposit, found this impossible, then fled after burning most of the mine structures. Marshall was taken with them.

Marshall was manager of the gold mine and he had one American assistant. The other American escaped, but the rebels seized Marshall and took over the mine.

NINE SLAIN IN FRONTIER WAR

ATHENS, Oct. 3.—Nine persons, including the Yugo-Slavian vice governor, were killed in a fight between Yugo-Slavians and Albanians on the frontier near Scutari, according to advices reaching here today.

Eight Yugo-Slavians and one Albanian were killed.

The fight arose after the chief of an Albanian clan had been murdered. His relatives crossed the border demanding justice.

EX-BANK CASHIER HELD UNDER BOND

COSHOCTON, O., Oct. 3.—Harvey A. Sicker, former cashier of the West Lafayette Banking Co., was at liberty today under $5,000 bond, charged with making a false statement to bank examiners. He declined to enter a plea when arraigned before Common Pleas Judge J. D. Daugherty.

The West Lafayette bank was closed in January to permit an audit by the state banking department and was re-opened a month later under new management.

EXONERATE WOMAN FOR MAN'S MURDER

MARTINS PERRY, O., Oct. 2.—Mrs. Ray Richardson was at liberty today, exonerated of criminal responsibility in the fatal shooting of Harrison Briggs at a birthday party at her home Sunday night.

HEAVY DAMAGE IN LANDSLIDE

GENEVA, Oct. 3.—Two square miles of Monte Arbin swept down on the Argonne Valley causing great damage, but today the number of casualties and full extent of the loss could not be determined.

Sixteen mountain chalets were swept away while two farms were known to be buried. The rock and dirt debris in some places being as high as 900 feet.

First reports had indicated a considerable casualty list but it was learned later that many of the villagers had evacuated after the first rumblings were heard. Also the mountain slide had been expected for the last year and the residents of the district had been warned.

The "dumb luck" occurred on the ferry. A brakeman saw the bandit and reported to immigration officers. Neither the train crew nor the officers were aware at the time that a robbery had occurred.

They surprised the bandit and overpowered him before he could draw his gun.

The "dumb luck" occurred on the ferry. A brakeman saw the bandit and reported to immigration officers. Neither the train crew nor the officers were aware at the time that a robbery had occurred.

They surprised the bandit and overpowered him before he could draw his gun.

FRACTURED ELBOW PROVES FATAL

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 3.—Shock, due to a compound fracture of the left elbow, suffered while driving an automobile last night, caused the death today of Clendon Bender, 28, undertaker, of Crestline, at the Staling Levins Hospital, Ohio State University.

Bender was driving along the Scioto River road, near the Girls' Industrial School in Delaware County, with his left arm resting on the window of his machine, when a truck struck his arm, crushing it against the window sill. Both bones were broken and the arm badly mangled.

HEADS FORESTERS

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 3.—J. S. Holmes, state forester of North Carolina, was elected president of the National Foresters' Association in convention here, Edmund Secrest, Wooster, was chosen to the executive committee.

Inspection of the Scioto mill state forest in Ross County and the Waterloo state forest in Athens County was to be made today.

SEEK YOUNG GUNMEN

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 3.—Police today were still without trace of two boys, one 14 and the other about 9, who threatened the life of Mrs. C. T. Henderson and her daughter, Fairy, with a revolver when Mrs. Henderson caught them robbing her home. The only clue police have is an old bicycle found in the rear of the home. Police have it, it was abandoned by the youthful burglars.

SPEEDY JUSTICE IS FACING YOUTH WHO OBTAINED $50,000

Daring American Caught
By Border Inspectors.

WINDSOR, Can., Oct. 3.—Canadian justice today was speeding a daring 20-year-old American train robber, captured accidentally by American immigration officers two hours after he had held up a Canadian National Railway train, to a severe lashing and probable life sentence in prison.

The maximum penalty in Ontario for highway robbery is death but never has been imposed, although officials said that as an example to mail robbers there was some possibility it might be asked in this case.

A "dumb break" of luck was blamed by John Gibbs, of Los Angeles, the bandit, for his capture.

He had, without firing a shot, obtained between $30,000 and $50,000 in currency from the mail car of the train soon after it left Chatham, Ont., for Windsor.

"The job was easy as pie," Gibbs boasted to officers after his capture. "I got on the train at Chatham, quietly worked my way to the mail car. The door was open, and I went."

With a pistol, which police found was loaded with soft-nosed bullets, he forced three mail clerks to open registered packages, stuffing the contents in his grimy shirt.

When the train stopped at a siding ten miles west of Chatham, the bandit leaped out. Then, in a businesslike manner, he climbed back aboard the train rods.

Consequently he arrived at the next station with news of the robbery, which was telegraphed back to Chatham and on the Windsor.

The "dumb luck" occurred on the ferry. A brakeman saw the bandit and reported to immigration officers. Neither the train crew nor the officers were aware at the time that a robbery had occurred.

They surprised the bandit and overpowered him before he could draw his gun.

The "dumb luck" occurred on the ferry. A brakeman saw the bandit and reported to immigration officers. Neither the train crew nor the officers were aware at the time that a robbery had occurred.

They surprised the bandit and overpowered him before he could draw his gun.

HEAVY DAMAGE IN LANDSLIDE

GENEVA, Oct. 3.—Two square miles of Monte Arbin swept down on the Argonne Valley causing great damage, but today the number of casualties and full extent of the loss could not be determined.

Sixteen mountain chalets were swept away while two farms were known to be buried. The rock and dirt debris in some places being as high as 900 feet.

First reports had indicated a considerable casualty list but it was learned later that many of the villagers had evacuated after the first rumblings were heard. Also the mountain slide had been expected for the last year and the residents of the district had been warned.

FRACTURED ELBOW PROVES FATAL

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 3.—Shock, due to a compound fracture of the left elbow, suffered while driving an automobile last night, caused the death today of Clendon Bender, 28, undertaker, of Crestline, at the Staling Levins Hospital, Ohio State University.

Bender was driving along the Scioto River road, near the Girls' Industrial School in Delaware County, with his left arm resting on the window of his machine, when a truck struck his arm, crushing it against the window sill. Both bones were broken and the arm badly mangled.

EX-BANK CASHIER HELD UNDER BOND

COSHOCTON, O., Oct. 3.—Harvey A. Sicker, former cashier of the West Lafayette Banking Co., was at liberty today under $5,000 bond, charged with making a false statement to bank examiners. He declined to enter a plea when arraigned before Common Pleas Judge J. D. Daugherty.

The West Lafayette bank was closed in January to permit an audit by the state banking department and was re-opened a month later under new management.

EXONERATE WOMAN FOR MAN'S MURDER

MARTINS PERRY, O., Oct. 2.—Mrs. Ray Richardson was at liberty today, exonerated of criminal responsibility in the fatal shooting of Harrison Briggs at a birthday party at her home Sunday night.

She told police that Briggs was shot as she wrestled with him, endeavoring to take from him a gun with which he had expressed the intention of committing suicide.

SEEK YOUNG GUNMEN

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 3.—Police today were still without trace of two boys, one 14 and the other about 9, who threatened the life of Mrs. C. T. Henderson and her daughter, Fairy, with a revolver when Mrs. Henderson caught them robbing her home. The only clue police have is an old bicycle found in the rear of the home. Police have it, it was abandoned by the youthful burglars.

INDICTED MEN WILL BE ARRAIGNED HERE SATURDAY MORNING

Arraignments in Common Pleas Court of a majority of the eleven persons indicted by the October grand jury Tuesday are expected by Prosecutor J. Carl Marshall to take place Saturday morning.

Judge R. L. Gowdy will be absent from the bench Thursday and possibly Friday, hearing a jury case in Washington, C. H. He thought it probable, however, that at least a few of those under indictment could be arraigned Wednesday afternoon.

Reporting on its customary examination of the county jail, the jury recommended that a lock system be installed, better ventilation provided and that a barred door be installed at the outside entrance. The first two items are suggestions made by previous grand juries.

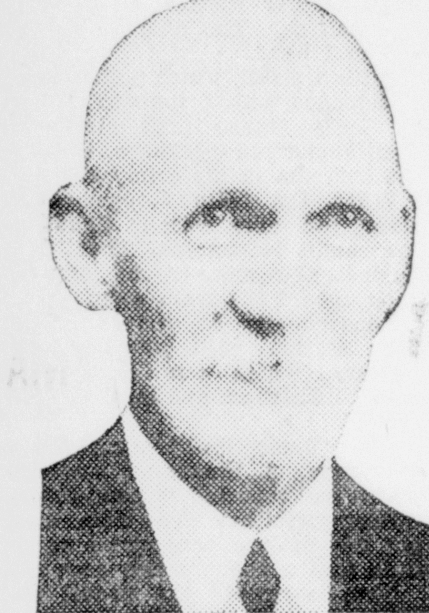

Personnel of the grand jury: Margaret Cooper, A. P. Kelter, Grover King, Anna Williamson, Jessie L. Zedeker, R. L. Dean, E. S. Kelter, Nannie Shambaugh, Rose Cowan, Leota Lackey, Wilbur Cooley, Leslie Smith, Clayton McMillan (foreman), George Bradley and Howard Norris.

HEADS RELIEF CORPS COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 3.—Mrs. Cora B. Hartsock, Lancaster, today entered upon her new duties as president of the ninth district of the Ohio Women's Relief Corps, auxiliary to the G. A. R. She was elected at the fortieth annual convention here.

YEARS OF AGONIES ARE FOLLOWED BY COMPETE HEALTH

Former Sufferer Describes How He Was Relieved Of Stomach And Kidney Miseries.

A promise of abundant health for hundreds of Xenia people and deliverance from common health ailments was made by the Konjola Man when he came to this city two months ago from unusual successes in Cincinnati, Columbus and other large cities. His head-

MR. D. L. GERARD

Photo by Canby's Studio, Main St. quarters at the Galahar Drug Store, 33 East Main Street, Xenia, is the scene of large crowds calling throughout the day to find out for themselves about this surprising new medicine. At the same time, report after report is being received from men and women who have already been relieved of various disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels or rheumatism and neuritis, by this compound.

Mr. D. L. Gerard, Bowersville, Ohio, (near Xenia) made a detailed report of the work of Konjola in his case and also offered his photograph for publication.

"Konjola has given me new health in every way," said Mr. Gerard, "and I am glad to tell others about it so that they may benefit in the same way. A trial convinced me of its merits and that is all I asked my friends to do when they inquire about this medicine."

"My case will sound almost unbelievable because it has reached the point where I thought it was hopeless. So many ailments troubled me that I did not know where to start to gain relief. The medicines and treatments I had tried over a period of two years failed to help me the slightest bit and as the days went by I continued to grow worse. Stomach trouble with its ensuing symptoms, including gas bloating, heavy sensation and bloating attacks came over me every day. Food gave me no nourishment—I did not have any desire for it. Weakened kidneys started giving me trouble at night—just when I needed rest in order to stand the miseries of stomach trouble the next day. Restless nights filled with constant risings, made me feel tired and worn-out the following day. Nervousness was the natural result of those ailments and the least unusual sound startled me. Life was simply miserable."

"How can I find words to describe the miraculous results I obtained through the use of Konjola? Truly it is a master medicine—the medicine of the age. I know that it must be a remedy of a million friends—all former sufferers restored to glorious health, the same as myself. Before I hardly knew what was happening Konjola had restored my stomach organs to natural and healthy action. Food reacted perfectly, nourishing me just as it is intended. Gas bloating and the other symptoms I described disappeared as if by magic. They have never returned. My kidneys do not give me the slightest trouble and I enjoy refreshing, energetic sleep. With the banishing of those two ailments my nerves quieted down and once more I take pleasure in the daily activities—free of all health troubles. I know that others can obtain the same results I did if they will only give Konjola a trial because it is a splendid medicine."

The Konjola Man is at the Galahar Drug Store, 33 East Main Street, this city, where he is meeting the public every day and introducing and explaining the merits of this medicine.

RETIRED CHAMPION WEDS SOCIETY GIRL IN DUAL CEREMONY

(Continued From Page One)

the words were read:

"Many an impostor on wife and husband a reciprocal obligation to live together in faith and to help one another."

Dr. Carney Weeks acted as best man while Mrs. Edwin DeWing, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. George Lauder, Jr., gave the bride away. Thomas L. Daniels, second secretary of the American embassy and Mrs. Daniels were witnesses for the bride in the civil ceremony. William O. Jones, American vice-consul, and Mrs. Jones were witnesses for the groom.

The couple entered the wedding apartment for the ceremony at 12:25 p. m. As soon as the civil proceedings had ended, they passed into an adjoining room where they were united by Monsignor Joseph A. Breslin, vice-rector of the American College in Rome, by the rites of the Roman Catholic Church.

As Tunney's bride is a non-Catholic, the religious ceremony was performed by special dispensation of the church. It consisted of the customary Catholic marriage ceremony, except that at its conclusion the bride formally signed a promise not to interfere with her husband in the exercise of his religion, and to permit all children to be brought up Catholics.

Tunney in his turn was obligated to bring up his children in the Catholic faith and to lead his wife, by an upright life, an example of Catholic devotion.

The two stood before Monsignor Breslin, who was Tunney's pastor in New York, and joined hands while he read the ceremony over them. The guests stood about near the walls.

When Monsignor Breslin had finished, the entire ceremony was over. The guests crowded around and congratulated the couple. All then went into an adjoining room, where a wedding breakfast was served.

Plans of Tunney and his bride for their honeymoon were kept a close secret. It was believed they would try to slip away to some secluded villa where they would be safe from intrusion of the curious.

AUTOIST HURT WHEN STRUCK BY TRAIN AT BARR'S STATION

Charles Shoup, 21, Shakertown Pike, is confined in Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, with serious injuries sustained when his auto was struck by the Baltimore and Ohio electric train at the crossing at Barr's station on the Dayton and Xenia Pike, two miles from Dayton, late Tuesday morning at Barr's Station.

Young Shoup, who is the son of Arthur Shoup, prominent farmer on the Shakertown Pike, and nephew of the late Attorney Marcus Shoup, Xenia, was returning to his home in Dayton when the accident occurred.

Shoup sustained painful head bruises and cuts about the body. He did not lose consciousness and his injuries are not considered fatal.

He was removed to the hospital in Leo Walters' ambulance and his condition Tuesday night was reported as fair by hospital attendants. The auto was overturned and wrecked.

The electric train passes through Xenia twice daily on trips to Chillicothe from Dayton and return and was going north when it crashed into the machine.

KIWANISANS MEET

Aside from an interesting talk by Edwin Galloway concerning his recent trip into Michigan, the weekly Kiwanis Club meeting, Tuesday evening, was devoted to business. Members dined at the Elks' club, as usual and spent the evening in a business discussion.

RECEIPTS GAIN

September's postal receipts showed a gain of $48.19 over the same month's receipts last year, according to the report of Postmaster C. S. Frazer.

Receipts for September, 1928 were $3,036.62 and for 1927, $2,987.43.

Your Lucky Day

By Edna Wallace Hopper
Wouldn't you call it a lucky day when you found a hair dressing that ended wave troubles for the summer season? Here it is. Wave and Sheen is the only product I have found which will keep the hair in perfect trim. Apply it before waving or setting your wave. Use a comb. It can be applied with a brush. Then put in your curlers, or set your wave if you have a permanent. By the time you are ready to dress, your hair will have not only a soft, flattering wave but a glorious sheen. On the hottest days you can be happy in the knowledge that your hair is in keeping with your dainty summer toilette. Get a bottle of Wave and Sheen today at any toilet counter. Your 75 cents back if you are not pleased.

Jamestown News

Mrs. A. J. Barnes opened her home to the members of the Advance Club, for the first meeting of the year, Monday afternoon, October 1. The program for the afternoon was given by Mrs. G. R. Baragill, "My Mediterranean Cruise." The responses to roll call were "Vacation Experiences."

Mrs. Foster Jenks was hostess to George Slagel Chapter, D. A. R., Tuesday afternoon, October 2. The program consisted of responses relating to autumn; regent's address, Mrs. W. W. Johnson; "Motoring Through New England," Mrs. Levi Jenks; poem, Mrs. Hulda Galvin; music.

The Missionary Society of the U. P. Church will meet with Mrs. R. C. Turnbull, Friday afternoon, Oct. 5. A very interesting program has been arranged for the meeting.

Rev. Hubert S. Snyder and family attended the rally day services of the Church of Christ, Bowersville, Sunday afternoon, Mr. Snyder taking part in the program. Ministers from several surrounding towns were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris Jones entertained the Neighborhood Club last Saturday evening, the first meeting of the club year. The evening was spent with music and contests. Those winning prizes were Mrs. O. K. Spahr, Mrs. Myron Fudge and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Tobin. Miss Alma Taylor, of Xenia was a guest of the club. A covered dish supper served cafeteria style was much enjoyed.

Rev. H. S. Snyder and family will spend the week in Sabina. The Church of Christ at that place is having a week of special services. Rev. Snyder will give the sermon Monday evening.

The W. F. M. S. of the M. E. Church will meet with Mrs. J. A. Bevan, Thursday afternoon, October 4. The study book for the year is "The New Fact of Africa." Miss Anna Shigley will give the first chapter, illustrating from the map of Africa. Mrs. Elizabeth Parker will conduct the devotionals. Miss E. May Harper is the president for the year.

Mrs. A. L. Smith, E. Washington St., was hostess to the Rural Improvement Club, Wednesday afternoon, October 3. The responses were quotations from noted people referring to agriculture; Mrs. J. H. Lackey, a paper, "Vision of Agricultural Colleges"; reading, Mrs. B. B. Stackhouse; paper, "What Shall We Do With the Slacker at the Polls?" Mrs. L. L. Gray. An interesting discussion by members closed the program. Delicious refreshments were served during the social hour.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Reid attended the funeral services of the former's brother, Judge Charles Reid held in Washington, C. H., last Friday.

Rev. W. I. Evans, who has been the guest of his sister-in-law, Miss Margaret Gilchrist for several weeks, left Thursday evening for Cleveland, going from there to New York, sailing the first of the week for Moulmein, Burma, India.

Mr. Evans will resume his missionary work for the Baptist Church. Mr. and Mrs. George Sanders and small son were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. John Crabill, Springfield, O.

The Leader's Class of the U. P. Church held its regular monthly social meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Turnbull, north of town, last Saturday evening. During the social hour, a delicious refreshment course was served by the hostess.

Miss Ruth Jeffries, of Oak Park, Chicago, is spending the week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Jenkins. Miss Bessie Wallace will accompany her home and after a few days' visit will go to Washington, Ia., for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Barnes had as guests from Tuesday until Friday of last week, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Clemans of Hammond, Ind.

Prof. and Mrs. A. F. Roush had for dinner guests last Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Aultman, Xenia; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lewis, Ross Twp., and Prof. and Mrs. R. E. Correll, Jamestown.

Mrs. Clarence Long, of Columbus, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Barnes for several weeks, returned home with Mr. Long, who came for a visit over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph George will return this week from Cedarville to their home in Jamestown.

Mrs. Ora Koch left for her home at Millersburg, O., last Tuesday, after several months' visit with her mother, Mrs. Jennie Buckles.

Miss Mary Jenkins left Friday for a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Scott of Milford, O.

Mrs. William Fulton, Mrs. Homer Glass and Mrs. H. A. Black attended the funeral services for

Mr. Wade Fulton, held last Thursday at Washington, C. H.

Mrs. James Heath left Thursday for a visit with her aunt, Mrs. Jane Johnson and Mrs. Lottie Groves, Van Wert, O.

Miss Eloise Cheuvront of Delaware and Miss Martha Cheuvront of Xenia, were weekend guests of their sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Turner.

Mrs. W. D. Ferguson has returned from Wilmington after several days' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Glen Dennis.

Misses Charlotte Taylor and Polly Cline, were Springfield visitors Friday.

Miss Eva Smith of the O. S. and S. O. Home was home for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thuma had as guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Harrison of Jeffersonville and Mr. Mark Hart of Kansas City. Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Zimmerman had as a week end guest, the former's sister, Mrs. Veda Haines, Luttrell.

Mrs. J. A. Milburn of Jeffersonville, spent last week with friends in and near Jamestown.

And So His Face Was Utterly Ruined

OLD GOLD

The Smoother and Better Cigarette

.... not a cough in a carload

Good News Spreads

The New Six '65'

Four-Door Sedan

$895

COUPE • $875

GOOD NEWS of a new remarkable Six... the sweetest, speediest, most powerful automobile ever placed on the market under twelve hundred dollars! Styled to the last minute. Powered to the last notch. Steps up from 5 to 65 quick enough to thrill anybody. Large roomy body, wide seats, rich upholstery. All nickel non-stain chromium. Real beauty—real backbone. You ought to see it. And you ought to drive it.

A New Big Six $1525
Four-Door Sedan •

All Prices f. o. b. Factory

CHANDLER-CLEVELAND MOTORS CORPORATION
CLEVELAND, OHIO

The New Royal Eight '75'

Two-Door Sedan

$1295

FOUR-DOOR SEDAN • $1395

GOOD NEWS of a new magnificent Eight... at a price unprecedented for an Eight so large, luxurious and powerful. Built on a low 118-inch wheelbase. Faultlessly smart. Smooth as ozone from 5 to 75 miles an hour. Wonderful on hills. All nickel is chromium. Equipped with Westinghouse Vacuum Brakes and Chandler's famous "One Shot" centralized system of chassis lubrication. Don't miss seeing and driving it!

A New Royal Eight '85' $1795
Four-Door Sedan •

Allen Motor Sales

105 E. MAIN ST., XENIA, OHIO

CHANDLER

Replace your old radio

GEMBOX
A-C
POWER SPEAKER
SET
$65
WITHOUT TUBES

Crosley Sets and Speakers
FOR 1928-1929

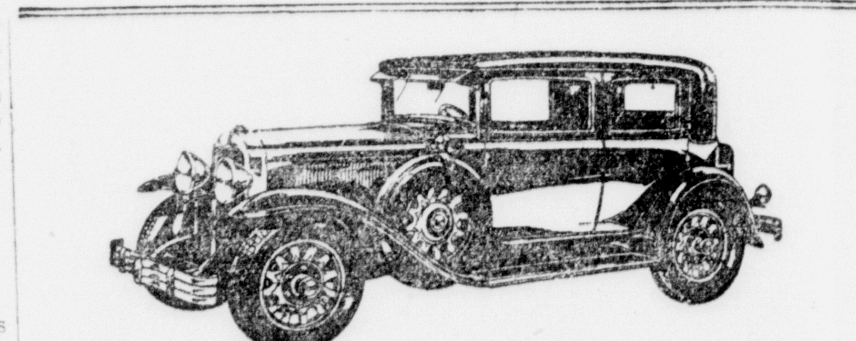

SHOWBOX—A-C Electric, 8 tubes including rectifier, push-pull amplification $80.00
GEMBOX—A-C Electric, 6 tubes including rectifier $65.00
CROSLY DYNACONE—Dynamic type power speaker, for Crosley A-C Electric sets $25.00
BANDBOX—Storage battery, 6 tubes $55.00
BANDBOX, JR.—Dry cell set, 5 tubes $35.00
CROSLY MUSICONE—Magnetic type speaker for Crosley battery sets $15.00

A RADIO SET that operates from storage battery in a home wired for electricity is a losing proposition. Not only is its owner missing the splendid reception which is given by the new Crosley A-C Electric Sets, the wonderful tone quality and volume of the new Crosley Dynacone, but he has a set on his hands which is depreciating in value daily. Soon the only market for battery sets will be in the outlying country districts where there is no electricity.

FAMOUS AUTO SUPPLY CO.

The Yellow Front

YOU'RE THERE WITH A CROSLY

Because it's new... Because it's individual... Because it's the most beautiful automobile of the day, this new Buick... the car of cars is enjoying the year of years...

THE NEW BUICK

is THE NEW STYLE

Drawing the greatest crowds—winning the most enthusiastic praise—rolling up the biggest demand in all fine-car history—the Silver Anniversary Buick with New Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher is scoring the most sensational success ever won by any new quality car!

Millions of spectators thronging Buick showrooms in all parts of the country! Tens of thousands enthusiastically placing their orders for the Buick of Buicks and car of cars!

And all because it is not only a leading engineering achievement of the past twenty-five years—embodying performance abilities unmatched anywhere in the world—but also because it ushers in an entirely new style—a fascinating new mode-of automotive beauty and luxury!

The motorists of America "looked to the leader for leadership" in automotive design. Buick answered with this epic car. And the public is responding with overwhelming demand—a demand that has forced the great Buick factory to production levels unprecedented in its entire history!

BUICK

With Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher

Xenia Garage Co

South Detroit Street, Opposite Shoe Factory.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT... BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

INDICTED MEN WILL BE ARRAIGNED HERE SATURDAY MORNING

Arraignments in Common Pleas Court of a majority of the eleven persons indicted by the October grand jury Tuesday are expected by Prosecutor J. Carl Marshall to take place Saturday morning.

Judge R. L. Gowdy will be absent from the bench Thursday and possibly Friday, hearing a jury case in Washington C. H. He thought it probable, however, that at least a few of those under indictment could be arraigned Wednesday.

Reporting on its customary examination of the County Jail, the jury recommended that a lock system be installed, better ventilation provided and that a barred door be installed at the outside entrance. The first two items are suggestions made by previous grand juries.

Personnel of the grand jury: Margaret Cooper, A. P. Kelter, Grover King, Anna Williamson, Jessie L. Zedeker, R. L. Dean, E. S. Kelter, Nannie Shambaugh, Ross Cowan, Leota Lackey, Wilbur Cooley, Leslie Smith, Clayton McMillan (foreman), George Bradley and Howard Norris.

HEADS RELIEF CORPS COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 3.—Mrs. Cora B. Hartsock, Lancaster, today entered upon her new duties as president of the ninth district of the Ohio Women's Relief Corps, auxiliary to the G. A. R. She was elected at the fortieth annual convention here.

YEARS OF AGONIES ARE FOLLOWED BY COMPLETE HEALTH

Former Sufferer Describes How He Was Relieved Of Stomach And Kidney Miseries.

A promise of abundant health for hundreds of Xenia people and deliverance from common health ailments was made by the Konjola Man when he came to this city two months ago from unusual successes in Cincinnati, Columbus and other large cities. His head-

MR. D. L. GERARD

Photo by Canby's Studio, Main St. quarters at the Galahader Drug Store, 33 East Main Street, Xenia, is the scene of large crowds calling throughout the day to find out for themselves about this surprising new medicine. At the same time, report after report is being received from men and women who have already been relieved of various disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels or their malism and neuritis, by this compound.

Mr. D. L. Gerard, Bowersville, Ohio, (near Xenia) made a detailed report of the work of Konjola in his case and also offered his photograph for publication.

"Konjola has given me new health in every way," said Mr. Gerard, "and I am glad to tell others about it so that they may benefit in the same way. A trial convinced me of its merits and that is all I asked my friends to do when they inquire about this medicine."

"My case will sound almost unbelievable because it has reached the point where I thought it was hopeless. So many stomach troubles me that I did not know where to start to gain relief. The medicines and treatments I had tried over a period of two years failed to help me the slightest bit and as the days went by I continued to grow worse. Stomach trouble with its ensuing symptoms, including gas bloating, heavy sensation and bloating attacks came over me every day. Food gave me no nourishment—I did not have any desire for it. Weakness, kidneys started giving me trouble at night—just when I needed rest in order to stand the miseries of stomach trouble the next day. Restless nights filled with constant risings, made me feel tired and worn-out the following day. Nervousness was the natural result of those ailments and the least unusual sound startled me. Life was simply miserable."

"How can I find words to describe the miraculous results I obtained through the use of Konjola? Truly it is a master medicine—the medicine of the age. I know that it must be a remedy of a million friends—all former sufferers restored to glorious health, the same as myself. Before I hardly knew what was happening Konjola had restored my stomach organs to natural and healthy action. Food reacted perfectly, nourishing me just as it is intended. Gas bloating and the other symptoms I described disappeared as if by magic. They have never returned. My kidneys do not give me the slightest trouble and I enjoy refreshing, energetic sleep. With the banishing of those two ailments my nerves quieted down and once more I take pleasure in the daily activities—free of all health troubles. I know that others can obtain the same results. I did it they will only give Konjola a trial because it is a splendid medicine."

The Konjola Man is at the Galahader Drug Store, 33 East Main Street, this city, where he is meeting the public every day and introducing and explaining the merits of this medicine. —Adv.

RETIRED CHAMPION WEDS SOCIETY GIRL IN DUAL CEREMONY

(Continued From Page One)

The words were read: "Matrimony imposes on wife and husband a reciprocal obligation to live together in faith and to help one another."

Dr. Carnes Weeks acted as best man while Mrs. Edwin DeWing, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. George Lauder, Jr., gave the bride away. Thomas L. Daniels, second secretary of the American embassy and Mrs. Daniels were witnesses for the bride in the civil ceremony. William O. Jones, American vice-consul, and Mrs. Jones were witnesses for the groom.

The couple entered the wedding apartment for the ceremony at 12:25 p. m. As soon as the civil proceedings had ended, they passed into an adjoining room where they were united by Monsignor Joseph A. Breslin, vicar-general of the American College in Rome, by the rites of the Roman Catholic Church.

As Tunney's bride is a non-Catholic, the religious ceremony was performed by special dispensation of the church. It consisted of the customary Catholic marriage ceremony, except that at its conclusion, the bride formally signed a promise not to interfere with her husband in the exercise of his religion, and to permit all children to be brought up Catholics.

Tunney in his turn was obligated to bring up his children in the Catholic faith and to lead his wife by an upright life, an example of Catholic devotion.

The two stood before Monsignor Breslin, who was Tunney's pastor in New York, and joined hands while he read the ceremony over them. The guests stood about near the walls.

When Monsignor Breslin had finished, the entire ceremony was over. The guests crowded around and congratulated the couple. All then went into an adjoining room, where a wedding breakfast was served.

Plans of Tunney and his bride for their honeymoon were kept a close secret. It was believed they would try to slip away to some secluded villa where they would be safe from intrusion of the curious.

AUTOIST HURT WHEN STRUCK BY TRAIN AT BARR'S STATION

Charles Shoup, 21, Shakertown Pike, is confined in Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, with serious injuries sustained when his auto was struck by the Baltimore and Ohio electric train at the crossing at Barr's station on the Dayton and Xenia Pike, two miles from Dayton, late Tuesday morning at Barr's Station.

Young Shoup, who is the son of Arthur Shoup, prominent farmer on the Shakertown Pike, and nephew of the late Attorney Marcus Shoup, Xenia, was returning to his home in Dayton when the accident occurred.

Shoup sustained painful head bruises and cuts about the body. He did not lose consciousness and his injuries are not considered fatal.

He was removed to the hospital in Leo Walters' ambulance and his condition Tuesday night was reported as fair by hospital attendants. The auto was overturned and wrecked.

The electric train passes through Xenia twice daily on trips to Chillicothe from Dayton and return and was going north when it crashed into the machine.

KIWANIANS MEET

Aside from an interesting talk by Edwin Galloway concerning his recent trip into Michigan, the weekly Kiwanis Club meeting, Tuesday evening, was devoted to business. Members dined at the Elks' club, as usual and spent the evening in a business discussion.

RECEIPTS GAIN

September's postal receipts showed a gain of $48.19 over the same month's receipts last year, according to the report of Postmaster C. S. Frazer.

Receipts for September, 1928 were $3,936.62 and for 1927, $2,887.43.

Your Lucky Day

By Edna Wallace Hopper
Wouldn't you call it a lucky day when you found a hair dressing that ended wave troubles for the summer season? Here it is. Wave and Sheen is the only product I have found which will keep the hair in perfect trim.
Apply it before waving or setting your wave. (I use a comb. It can be applied with a brush.) Then put in your curlers, or set your wave if you have a permanent. By the time you are ready to dress, your hair will have not only a soft, flattering wave, but a glorious sheen. On the hottest days you can be happy in the knowledge that your hair is in keeping with your dainty summer toilette.
Get a bottle of Wave and Sheen today any toilet counter. Your 75 cents back if you are not pleased.
—Adv.

Jamestown News

Mrs. A. J. Barnes opened her home to the members of the Advance Club, for the first meeting of the year, Monday afternoon, October 1. The program for the afternoon was given by Mrs. G. R. B. A. G. 111 "My Mediterranean Cruise." The responses to roll call were "Vacation Experiences."

Mrs. Foster Jenks was hostess to the U. P. Church Chapter, D. A. R., George Slagel Chapter, D. A. R., Tuesday afternoon, October 2. The program consisted of responses relating to autumn; regent's address, Mrs. W. W. Johnson; "Motoring Through New England," Mrs. Levi Jenks; poem, Mrs. Huldah Galvin; music.

The Missionary Society of the U. P. Church will meet with Mrs. R. C. Turnbull, Friday afternoon, Oct. 5. A very interesting program has been arranged for the meeting.

Rev. Hubert S. Snyder and family attended the rally day services of the Church of Christ, Bowersville, Sunday afternoon, Mr. Snyder taking part in the program. Ministers from several surrounding towns were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris Jones entertained the Neighboring Club last Saturday evening the first meeting of the club year. The evening was spent with music and contests. Those winning prizes were Mrs. O. K. Spahr, Mrs. Myron Fudge and Mr. and Mrs. Grover Tobin. Miss Alma Taylor, of Xenia was a guest of the club. A covered dish supper served cafeteria style was much enjoyed.

Rev. H. S. Snyder and family will spend the week in Sabina. The Church of Christ at that place is having a week of special services. Rev. Snyder will give the sermon Monday evening.

The W. F. M. S. of the M. E. Church will meet with Mrs. J. A. Bevan, Thursday afternoon, October 4. The study book for the year is "The New Fact of Africa." Miss Anna Shigley will give the first chapter, illustrating from the map of Africa. Mrs. Elizabeth Parker will conduct the devotionals. Miss E. May Harper is the president for the year.

Mrs. A. L. Smith, E. Washington St., was hostess to the Rural Improvement Club, Wednesday afternoon, October 3. The responses were quotations from noted people referring to agriculture; Mrs. J. H. Lackey, a paper, "Origin of Agricultural Colleges"; reading, Mrs. B. B. Stackhouse; paper, "What Shall We Do With the Slacker at the Polls?" Mrs. L. L. Gray. An interesting discussion by members closed the program. Delicious refreshments were served during the social hour.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Reid attended the funeral services of the former's brother, Judge Charles Reid held in Washington C. H., last Friday.

Rev. W. I. Evans, who has been the guest of his sister-in-law, Miss Margaret Gilchrist for several weeks, left Thursday evening for Cleveland, going from there to New York, sailing the first of the week for Mouline, Burma, India. Mr. Evans will resume his missionary work for the Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sanden and small son were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. John Crabb, Springfield, O.

The Leader's Class of the U. P. Church held its regular monthly social meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Turnbull, north of town, last Saturday evening. During the social hour, a delicious refreshment course was served by the hostess.

Miss Ruth Jeffries, of Oak Park, Chicago, is spending the week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Jenkins. Miss Bessie Wal-

INTERNATIONAL PAPER CO.

New York, September 26th, 1928. The Board of Directors have declared a quarterly dividend on sixty (60c) cents a share, on the common stock of this company, payable November 15th, 1928, to Common Stockholders of record, at the close of business November 1st, 1928.

Checks to be mailed. Transfer books will not close.

OWEN SHEPHERD, Vice-President and Treasurer. —Adv.

Replace your old radio GEMBOX

A-C GEMBOX POWER SPEAKER SET $65 WITHOUT TUBES

Crosley Sets and Speakers FOR 1928-1929

SHOWBOX—A-C Electric, 8 tubes including rectifier, push-pull amplification $80.00
GEMBOX—A-C Electric, 6 tubes including rectifier $65.00
CROSLY DYNACONE—Dynamic type power speaker, for Crosley A-C Electric sets $25.00
BANDBOX—Storage battery, 6 tubes $25.00
BANDBOX, JR.—Dry cell set, 5 tubes $15.00
CROSLY MUSICONE—Magnetic type speaker for Crosley battery sets $15.00

While the season is young—before battery sets become a drug on the market—while there is a chance to get out from under, why not come in and talk the matter over with us. You will like the new Crosley sets and marvel at the new Crosley Dynacone. If you like, we can arrange to put an outfit in your own home for comparison with your present set.

FAMOUS AUTO SUPPLY CO.

The Yellow Front
YOU'RE THERE WITH A CROSLY

Because it's new . . . Because it's individual . . . Because it's the most beautiful automobile of the day, this new Buick . . . the car of cars is enjoying the year of years . . .

THE NEW BUICK is THE NEW STYLE
Drawing the greatest crowds—winning the most enthusiastic praise—rolling up the biggest demand in all fine-car history—the Silver Anniversary Buick with New Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher is scoring the most sensational success ever won by any new quality car!
Millions of spectators thronging Buick showrooms in all parts of the country! Tens of thousands enthusiastically placing their orders for the Buick of Buicks and car of cars!
And all because it is not only a leading engineering achievement of the past twenty-five years—embodying performance abilities unmatched anywhere in the world—but also because it utters in an entirely new style—a fascinating new mode of automotive beauty and luxury!

The motorists of America "looked to the leader for leadership" in automotive design. Buick answered with this epic car. And the public is responding with overwhelming demand—a demand that has forced the great Buick factory to production levels unprecedented in its entire history!

THE SILVER ANNIVERSARY BUICK With Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher

And So His Face Was Utterly Ruined

THAT'S RIGHT, FELLA... TAKE YOUR CHOICE... IT'S EITHER OLD GOLDS FOR YOU FROM NOW ON — OR SUICIDE

GIVE HIM AN OLD GOLD TONY, WHILE HE STILL HAS A FACE... NOT A COUGH IN A CARLOAD SEEX TIMES YOU COUGH, SEEXA TIME I CUT YOU FACE!! PLEASE, I SHAVA YOU NO MO'!!

OLD GOLD

The Smoother and Better Cigarette

.... not a cough in a carload

© P. Lorillard Co., Est. 1700

Mr. Wade Fulton held last Thursday at Washington C. H.

Mrs. James Heath left Thursday for a visit with her aunts Mrs. Jane Johnson and Mrs. Lottie Groves, Van Wert, O.

Miss Eloise Chevront of Delaware and Miss Martha Chevront of Xenia, were weekend guests of their sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Turner.

Mrs. W. D. Ferguson has returned from Wilmington after several days' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Glen Dennis.

Misses Charlotte Taylor and Polly Cline, were Springfield visitors Friday.

Miss Eva Smith of the O. S. and S. O. Home was home for the week end.

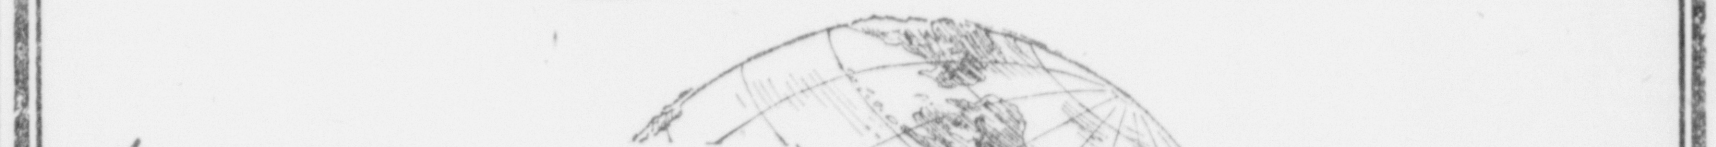

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thuma had as guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Harrison, of Jeffersonville and Mr. Mark Hart of Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Zimmerman had as a week end guest, the former's sister, Mrs. Veda Haines, Luttrell.

Mrs. J. A. Milburn of Jeffersonville, spent last week with friends in and near Jamestown.

By BRIGGS

Good News Spreads

The New Six '65'

Four-Door Sedan

$895

COUPE • $875

GOOD NEWS of a new remarkable Six... the sweetest, speediest, most powerful automobile ever placed on the market under twelve hundred dollars! Styled to the last minute. Powered to the last notch. Steps up from 5 to 65 quick enough to thrill anybody. Large roomy body, wide seats, rich upholstery. All nickel non-stain chromium. Real beauty—real backbone. You ought to see it. And you ought to drive it.

A New Big Six $1525

Four-Door Sedan •

All Prices f. o. b. Factory
CHANDLER-CLEVELAND MOTORS CORPORATION
CLEVELAND, OHIO

The New Royal Eight '75'

Two-Door Sedan

$1295

FOUR-DOOR SEDAN • $1395

GOOD NEWS of a new magnificent Eight... at a price unprecedented for an Eight so large, luxurious and powerful. Built on a low 118-inch wheelbase. Faultlessly smart. Smooth as ozone from 5 to 75 miles an hour. Wonderful on hills. All nickel is chromium. Equipped with Westinghouse Vacuum Brakes and Chandler's famous "One Shot" centralized system of chassis lubrication. Don't miss seeing and driving it!

A New Royal Eight "85" $1795

Four-Door Sedan •

Allen Motor Sales

105 E. MAIN ST., XENIA, OHIO

CHANDLER

Society-Personal-Clubs

THE NICEST courtesy you can show your guests is to have their visits mentioned on this page. The nicest courtesy you can show your friends is to let them know of your visits through this page whenever you go away. The Gazette considers it a favor whenever you turn in an item of any kind. PHONE 70.

MRS. GEYER HEARD AT MISSIONARY MEETING

An interesting talk by Mrs. Carrie D. Geyer on her experiences during three years spent in China, featured a meeting of the Second Auxiliary of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the First M. E. Church at the home of Mrs. Otto Hornick, E. Third St., Monday night.

Mrs. Geyer, who during the time she spent in China taught English in the mission school where she was located, and also tutored teachers in the government school exhibited a number of interesting souvenirs of her stay in that country.

The general subject for the meeting was "Looking Both Ways," and Mrs. William Smith was the leader. Mrs. Emma Simons was in charge of the devotionals, drawing from the texts a lesson on the love of God for His people.

It was announced that the auxiliary now has a membership of eighty with a slogan for this year of "every member get another." The society is entering upon its third year of supporting a student, Terra Ramey, in the Allen Home at Olive Hill, Ky. Each member was asked to save a penny a day for the mite box fund for the year.

The first chapter of the study book was reviewed by Mrs. J. T. Charters, who began by tracing a history of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States from the time of the establishment of the first church in St. Louis by the Rev. Thomas Salmon Giddings, down to the present. The Rev. Mr. Giddings, who endeared himself greatly to the early congregations, was buried beneath the pulpit of the church he established. When the church was replaced by larger edifices, his body was moved three times so that it might continue to rest beneath the church. He was succeeded by the Rev. Francis Asbury who in his pastorate preached 17,000 sermons, ordained 3,000 ministers and took up work among the Indians.

Mrs. Hornick was assisted in dispensing hospitality by Miss Imo Marshall, chairman of the committee; Mrs. John Beacham, Miss Martha Crawford, Mrs. J. C. Dodds, Mrs. Thurman Early, Mrs. V. L. Fairies, Mrs. John Gardner and Mrs. L. A. Parrett. Forty women attended the meeting. Mrs. W. O. Cusick will be hostess to the society at the next meeting.

FIRST MEETING OF JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB

Incorporating a fitting tribute to the late Mrs. Reed Madden, who served as vice president of the club the past two years and who was active in all the club's activities, Mrs. S. M. McKay, new president of the Junior Woman's Club, gave her opening address at the first club meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Graham Bryson, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. R. H. Kingsbury handled the current events topic on the program. The first paper was given by Mrs. J. Robert Bryson on "Geography of France," and the second by Mrs. A. M. Patterson on "Roman Footprints." The club has taken "France" as its subject for study this year and an interesting year is anticipated.

SURPRISE PARTY IS MUCH ENJOYED

The country home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hazard of the Wilmington Pike, was the scene of a pleasant affair Sunday, when friends and relatives gathered at noon with well-filled baskets of delicacies of the season and completely surprised Mrs. Hazard, the occasion being her birthday.

Those who enjoyed the day were: Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Middleton and daughter, Mary; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Glass and family; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Babb and son, Thomas; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bergert and son, and Mrs. C. B. Hazard.

Proposals!

A glance at her blonde loveliness tells better than words why this beautiful New York City girl has received such flattering proposals from kings of movie and stage land. She's Collette Francis, of 255 East 25th St., Brooklyn; now one of the charmers in the Broadway hit, "Rio Rita."

Miss Francis says: "Since I've been on the stage, so many people have asked me what I do to get the beautiful golden gleam and sparkle in my hair that I am beginning to think I'm really taking wonderful care of it. I really never thought much about it. What I do is so simple. Like so many of my girl friends here in New York, I just put a little Landerine on my brush each time I use it. That keeps my hair silky and gleaming, makes it easy to dress and holds it like I arrange it, for hours. My scalp was very dry and I had a lot of dandruff when I first started on it, but all of that trouble stopped quickly. And Landerine keeps my hair so clean I don't need to shampoo half as often, now."

Landerine removes that oily film from your hair and gives it new life and lustre. It isn't oily and doesn't show. The generous bottles are just 35c at any drug or toilet counter. A delicate fragrance necessity for the well-dressed girl.

MINISTER ADDRESSES ORIENT HILL P. T. A.

The Rev. J. P. Lytle, pastor of First U. P. Church, addressed the Orient Hill P. T. A. Monday afternoon and was well received by the organization. His talk followed the business meeting and refreshments were served later.

A good attendance marked the meeting. The hostess committee included: Mrs. J. R. Laycock, Mrs. Roy Sutton, Mrs. E. C. Rader, Mrs. James Faulkner and Mrs. Brown.

Mrs. Ed Wood is confined to her home on W. Main St. with a severely sprained ankle, suffered when she missed her footing, Saturday evening.

Xenia W. C. T. U. will meet Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Miss Jennie M. Thomas, E. Third St.

Mrs. W. H. Thiford will be hostess to the Ladies Aid Society, First Presbyterian Church at her home on N. Detroit St., Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Jane Shaffer, Clifton, is seriously ill. She has been in ill health some time.

Mrs. Olive Mentell, Detroit, Mich., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Sarah Schultz, Clifton.

Mr. D. W. Stewart, Clifton, who has been quite ill, shows some improvement.

Friends may call at the home of Mrs. Mary Grady, W. Main St., any time Wednesday evening.

"European Nations in the Roman Empire" was the subject of the first program of the Xenia Delphian Chapter, Tuesday evening, held with Miss Roberta Shaw, Livsey Apartments.

Mrs. Oscar Maley will entertain the Woman's Relief Corps, Thursday at her home on S. Columbus St. A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon.

Mrs. Arthur LeValley entertained the Ladies Aid of the Clifton Presbyterian Church Wednesday afternoon.

Messrs. Herman Wells and Kenneth Elliott, left Sunday morning for San Antonio, Texas, to spend a vacation of two weeks.

Dr. and Mrs. Paul D. Espey have as their guest this week, their aunt, Mrs. M. M. Warren, of Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wood spent the week end at Miami University, Oxford, O., the guests of Miss Louise Wood, student at that school.

MT. TABOR

Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeWitt of Springfield spent Sunday with Mrs. DeWitt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Revoe and family of Bowersville and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Jones were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Jones and family.

Miss Gertrude Conklin spent last week with relatives in Dayton.

Mr. and Mrs. John Harness of Dayton spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Harness.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Bland of Jamestown, were guests at supper with Mr. and Mrs. A. Hollingsworth and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ermine Rails and daughter of Dayton, spent Sunday evening with Mrs. and Mrs. L. L. Smith and family.

The Loyal Sons' and Daughters' Sunday School Class will hold their monthly business meeting in connection with a masquerade and Wiener roast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Jones Tuesday evening, October 9.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid will be held at the home of Mrs. Anna Toms Thursday afternoon, October 11.

Owing to the home-coming at New Jasper next Sunday, there will be no services at Mt. Tabor.

Missing Scout

The Hansel reunion was held at the home of Mrs. Mary E. Wilson, Yellow Springs, Sunday. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hansel, Mr. and Mrs. George Hansel, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Beougher, and daughter, Sarah; Mr. August Hansel, Mrs. Martha Worthman, and daughter, Virginia, all of Celina; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hiley and Miss Ida Correll, of near Celina; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hansel, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Young, Lima, O.; Mr. and Mrs. John Kendig, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilson and son, Howard and daughters, Gladys and Anna; Mr. Lester Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Maywood Turner and sons, John and Robert, of Clifton.

A group of relatives and friends reminded Mrs. Olive Carter of her fifty-sixth birthday Sunday. At noon, a cafeteria luncheon was served. Games and music were enjoyed throughout the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Preston, W. Main St., returned home from a motor trip to Washington, D. C.

The Downtown Country Club will hold its bi-monthly dinner-meeting at the Frances Inn, S. Detroit St., at 7 o'clock Wednesday night. It is important that all members of the club attend this particular meeting.

Mrs. Anna Miller, Miss Ethel Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanton and daughter, Anna Catherine, of Belmont, were guests Sunday of Mrs. Daisy LaFollette, S. Detroit St.

Phoenix Rebekah Lodge will meet Thursday evening and all members of the degree staff are especially urged to be present for rehearsal. The quarterly payment of dues will also be received.

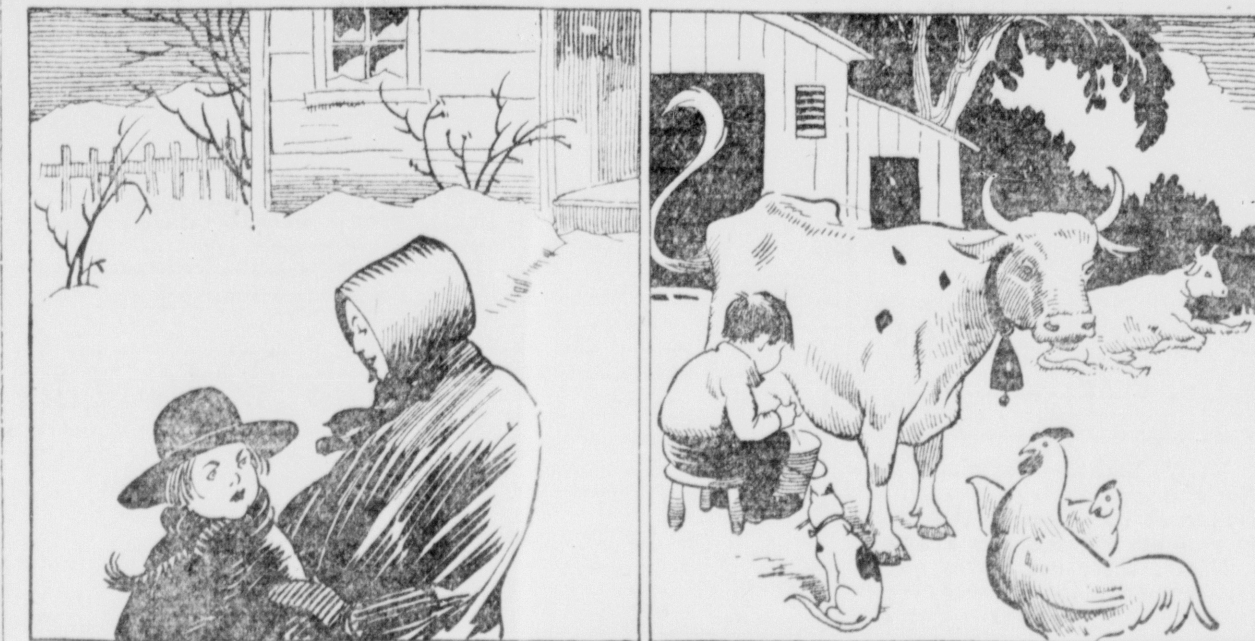

The Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church will meet at the home of Mrs. C. S. Van Horn, S. Detroit St., at 1:30 p. m. Thursday. Annual election of officers will be held and a full attendance is desired.

Wilkin Beemer, 22, of Kenosha, Wis., Boy Scout, is believed to have drowned in Lake Michigan in an attempt to paddle his homemade canoe across the lake. Boy Scouts have established all-night vigils to search for his body.

PICTORIAL LIFE OF HERBERT HOOVER

No. 5

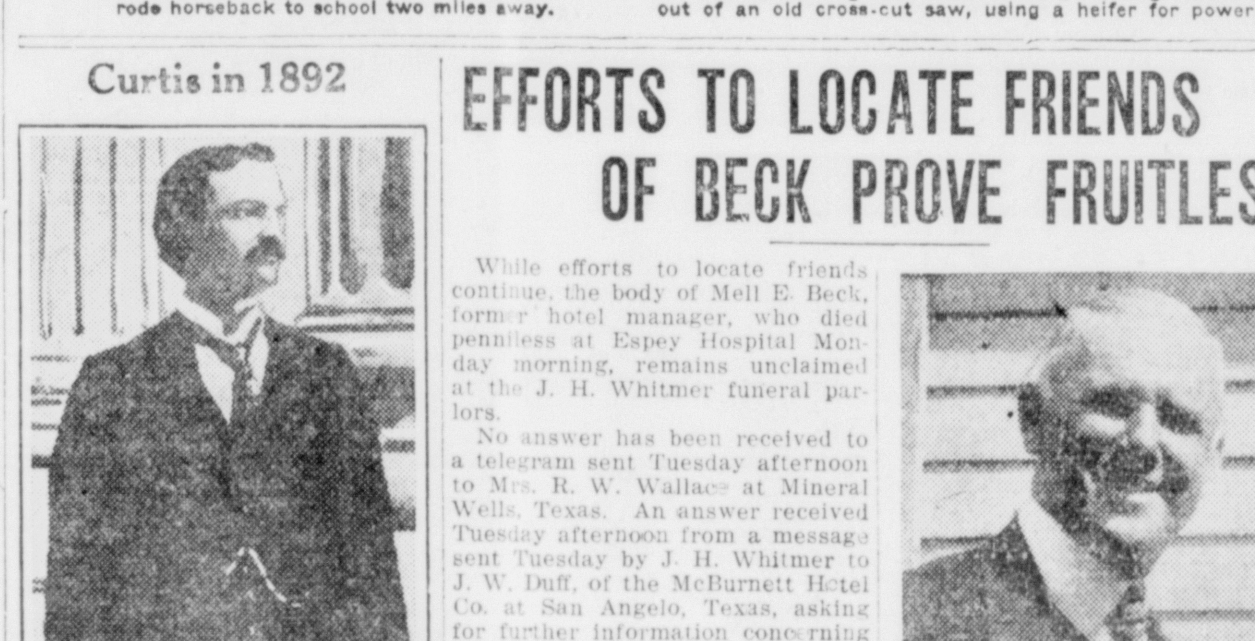

By Satterfield

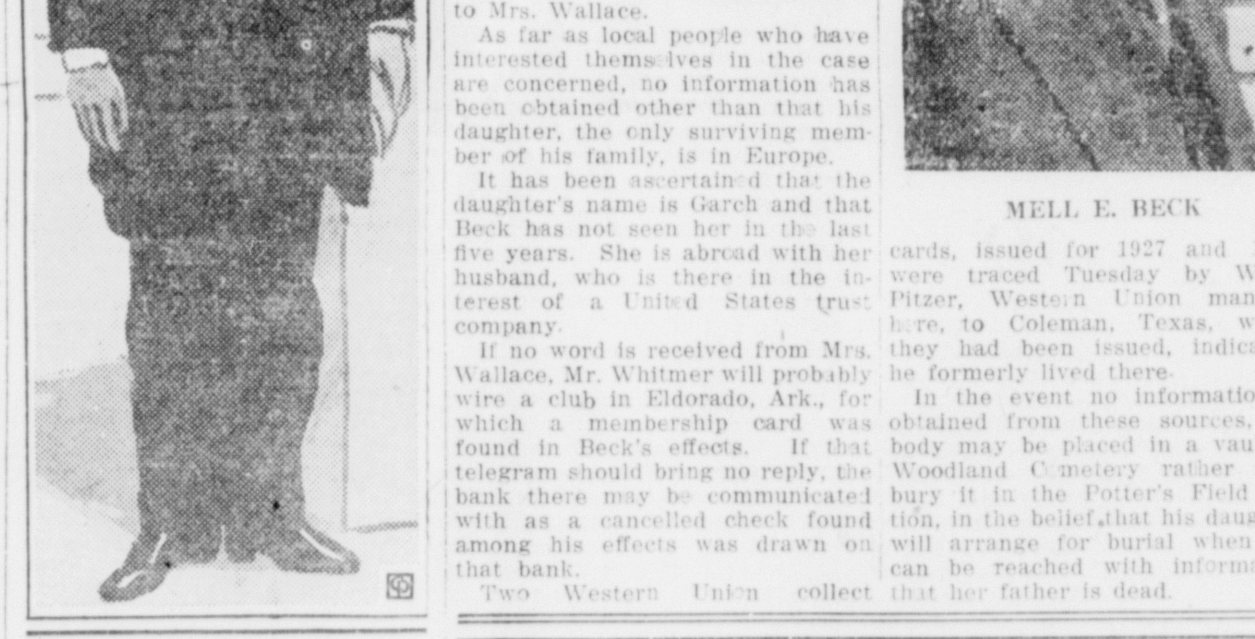

1. After the death of Herbert Hoover's mother he went to live with his Aunt Millie in Cedar Rapids, Ia.

2. He was now ten years of age—old enough to assume an important share in all manner of farm work.

3. In winter Herbert and his cousin rode horseback to school two miles away.

4. The future engineer constructed a mowing machine out of an old cross-cut saw, using a heifer for power.

Curtis in 1892

This old snap of United States Senator Charles Curtis, Republican vice presidential candidate, was taken on the White House steps in 1892 when Curtis was a member of the house of representatives. When Curtis recently visited Oklahoma City, Okla., the picture was given him by Dennis T. Flynn, who, at the time the snap was taken, was an Oklahoma territorial delegate to congress.

Jeffersonian rule came up for approval after four years and won with a whoop. Jefferson had abolished or cut down levees, state dinners and journeys of ceremony. The Federalists groaned at his inroads into the pomp and circumstance of the first two administrations. They sorrowed further as he filed the federal jobs with Republicans—although it was too early in history for "to the victors belong the spoils" and "turn the rascals out."

The Jefferson administration astonished the civilized world by besting the Barbary pirates. It doubled the area of the nation by the Louisiana purchase and sent Lewis and Clark to explore the far northwest.

It was an era of reform and of peaceful revolution. The people liked it and Jefferson was their hero.

Aaron Burr, his running mate of 1800, was dropped in 1804. In July of that year he had killed Alexander Hamilton in a duel; he was soon thereafter to face trial for treason. A Republican congressional caucus substituted for vice president George Clinton, of Ulster county, Revolutionary war general and governor of New York, who had received electoral votes for the presidency in the first three elections. The Federalists held no caucus, but agreed upon Charles C. Pinckney, senator from South Carolina, and Rufus King, of New York, ex-minister to Great Britain.

The Twelfth amendment was in effect. Separate votes for president and vice president were counted for the first time. There were 176 electors, of whom 162 voted for Jefferson and Clinton. It was the first landslide in American history.

(This is the fifth of a series of thirty-five digests of presidential campaigns. The sixth will be: "1805: Jefferson Declines a Third Term.")

Jefferson and Clinton. It was the first landslide in American history. (This is the fifth of a series of thirty-five digests of presidential campaigns. The sixth will be: "1805: Jefferson Declines a Third Term.")

Jefferson and Clinton. It was the first landslide in American history. (This is the fifth of a series of thirty-five digests of presidential campaigns. The sixth will be: "1805: Jefferson Declines a Third Term.")

Jefferson and Clinton. It was the first landslide in American history. (This is the fifth of a series of thirty-five digests of presidential campaigns. The sixth will be: "1805: Jefferson Declines a Third Term.")

Jefferson and Clinton. It was the first landslide in American history. (This is the fifth of a series of thirty-five digests of presidential campaigns. The sixth will be: "1805: Jefferson Declines a Third Term.")

Jefferson and Clinton. It was the first landslide in American history. (This is the fifth of a series of thirty-five digests of presidential campaigns. The sixth will be: "1805: Jefferson Declines a Third Term.")

SEEKS ANNULMENT OF MARRIAGE HERE IN COURT PETITION

Annulment of his seventeen-year-old daughter's marriage to Chester Hoagland, now living at 50 Allen St., Dayton, O., is sought in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court by W. E. Glosser, Bellbrook, on behalf of Hattie E. Glosser, a minor.

Glosser asserts that the defendant is twenty-one years of age. It is charged that his daughter and Hoagland obtained a marriage license at Newport, Ky., September 6, 1923, without the consent of either of the girl's parents.

The girl is now at the home of her father in Bellbrook, according to the petition.

NAMED EXECUTOR
Charles K. Coffelt has been appointed executor of the estate of Julia Ann Coffelt, late of Spring Valley Twp., bond being dispensed with, in Probate Court.

ADMINISTRATRIX NAMED
Ella Hawkins has been named administratrix of the estate of Charlotte Dotch, deceased, and has filed bond of $1,000 in Probate Court.

APPOINTED GUARDIAN
Elizabeth Anderson has been appointed guardian of Bertha Stollings Toner, 14, child of Flora M. Stollings Toner, deceased, with bond of $1,000 in Probate Court.

MARRIAGE LICENSES
Ernest L. Harner, R. R. No. 3, Xenia, superintendent of state fish hatchery, and Hazel Linkhart, R. R. No. 2, Yellow Springs, Rev. Joseph Patton.

FATHER OF YELLOW SPRINGS RESIDENT IS MURDER VICTIM

1. N. Wallace, 55, filling station operator at Serpent Mound, Adams County, and father of Columbus Wallace, Yellow Springs, was found dead in his ransacked shack early Sunday morning. Oils Maddy, 20, Adams County, is being held on a first degree murder charge at West Union, O., and is alleged to have struck Wallace over the head with a blunt instrument in a robbery attempt.

Maddy, according to Adams County officials, is maintaining a persistent denial of the crime. He was taken into custody late Monday following a search of several hours by authorities of Clinton, Highland and surrounding counties.

A blood-stained coat is alleged to have been found in Maddy's possession together with a quantity of money, said to have belonged to Wallace. Maddy claimed the coat was given to him by two men to whom he rented his auto and who left in the direction of Serpent Mound. They returned several hours later, according to Maddy, and gave him the coat.

Wallace was found Sunday by a motorist who stopped at the filling station to get gasoline. After discovering the station ransacked, he searched and found Wallace's body.

Wallace is survived by three sons, Columbus, of Yellow Springs; Webster Wallace, Greenfield, and Peter Wallace, Norwood, O., and one daughter, Mrs. Lillian Setty, Springfield.

According to the telegram, the boy declared he was born January 8, 1912 at Cleveland, O. He said his mother's name is Anna and that William Wheeler, supposed to live on a farm six miles northeast of Xenia, is his stepfather. The boy said he had never been in trouble before.

Probation Officer Watts has been attempting to verify the boy's statement that he lives in Xenia and is also trying to locate the supposed stepfather in Greene County—so far without success.

The telegram requested that Juvenile Court authorities return the boy to this county.

MRS. GEYER SPEAKS AT ROTARY MEETING

Graphic details of life in China, the continual uprisings and internal disorder in that country and of her other travels, were given by Mrs. Carrie D. Geyer, this city, before the Xenia Rotary Club, Tuesday noon.

Mrs. Geyer recently returned from an extended stay in the Orient and travels in several other countries and the account of her experiences was interestingly handled.

Her talk was the only feature on the club program.

WE PAY MORE FOR DEAD STOCK
CALL US FIRST AT OUR EXPENSE
PHONE 454
Xenia Fertilizer and Tankage Co.

MOVED!
XENIA YELLOW CAB CO.
NEW LOCATION
LORECO OIL STATION,
NEXT TO GAZETTE OFFICE
Same Phone Number
CALL 296

Charleston Dance Contest
Judged By England's Leader
Miss Leslie—Sutton, chief judge of the Charleston contest for England, writes: "My unique position in the dancing world today would never have happened if I had not taken care of my health. I constantly had that tired out, depressed feeling, with sick headache, indigestion, biliousness caused by the poisons of constipation. Your mild laxative has been of valuable assistance in keeping my system in a daily healthy condition."

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS
All druggists—25c and 75c and places.

SURE, IT PAYS!
The Cod-Fish lays a million eggs. The beautiful hen but one; But the Cod-Fish doesn't crackle Over what she has gone and done. We scorn the modest Cod-Fish And the boastful hen we prize, Which only goes to show, my friends, It pays to advertise.

John Adams
Jefferson and Clinton. It was the first landslide in American history. (This is the fifth of a series of thirty-five digests of presidential campaigns. The sixth will be: "1805: Jefferson Declines a Third Term.")

John Adams
Jefferson and Clinton. It was the first landslide in American history. (This is the fifth of a series of thirty-five digests of presidential campaigns. The sixth will be: "1805: Jefferson Declines a Third Term.")

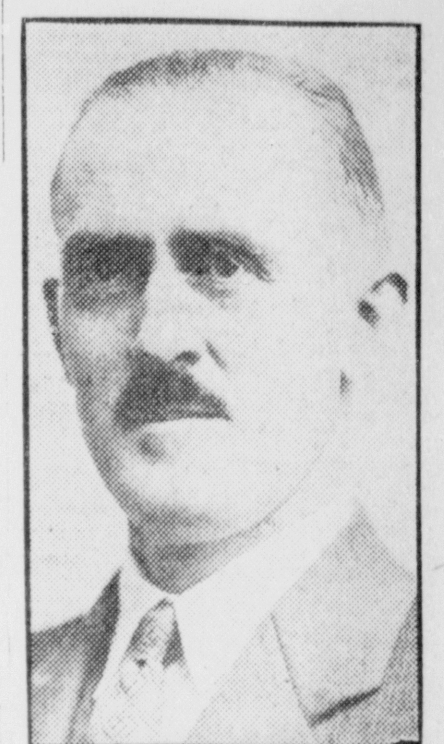

John Adams
Jefferson and Clinton. It was the first landslide in American history. (This is the fifth of a series of thirty-five digests of presidential campaigns. The sixth will be: "1805: Jefferson Declines a Third Term.")

John Adams
Jefferson and Clinton. It was the first landslide in American history. (This is the fifth of a series of thirty-five digests of presidential campaigns. The sixth will be: "1805: Jefferson Declines a Third Term.")

John Adams
Jefferson and Clinton. It was the first landslide in American history. (This is the fifth of a series of thirty-five digests of presidential campaigns. The sixth will be: "1805: Jefferson Declines a Third Term.")

John Adams
Jefferson and Clinton. It was the first landslide in American history. (This is the fifth of a series of thirty-five digests of presidential campaigns. The sixth will be: "1805: Jefferson Declines a Third Term.")

SUGDEN IS ELECTED POST COMMANDER BY AMERICAN LEGION

George Sugden, Greene County deputy sheriff, was elected commander of Joseph P. Foody Post, No. 95, American Legion, for the ensuing year at the annual Legion meeting in post hall Tuesday night.

Mr. Sugden, who formerly served as adjutant of the Legion, succeeds former Sheriff Morris Sharp as post commander.

Other officers elected were: Paul Turnbull, vice-president; H. Cornwell, adjutant; Harry Swigart, finance officer; and Dr. B. R. McClellan, chaplain.

An executive committee composed of Louis Hambrick, Dr. H. C. Messinger, Harry Sheets, Paul Halder and Paul Fuller was also appointed.

The Legion passed a resolution expressing its gratification over the appointment of Dr. A. C. Messinger, this city, as resident physician at the O. S. and S. O. Home, succeeding Dr. T. P. Myler, resigned.

Legionaires also decided to hold their regular November meeting on the night of Monday, November 12, which will be celebrated as Armistice Day. Since this day falls on Sunday it will be observed the following day.

Installation of the newly-elected officers and a party to which the wives of members of the post will be invited will feature the Armistice meeting.

YOUTH ARRESTED IN CINCINNATI GIVES ADDRESS AS XENIA

Louis Hicks, 15, claiming Xenia as his home, is under arrest in Cincinnati, O., on a charge of auto theft, according to a telegram received by Probation Officer J. E. Watts.

Cincinnati authorities apprehended the youth in the stolen car Tuesday and Hicks confessed to the theft, the telegram said. The car, stolen in Cincinnati, was recovered.

According to the telegram, the boy declared he was born January 8, 1912 at Cleveland, O. He said his mother's name is Anna and that William Wheeler, supposed to live on a farm six miles northeast of Xenia, is his stepfather. The boy said he had never been in trouble before.

Probation Officer Watts has been attempting to verify the boy's statement that he lives in Xenia and is also trying to locate the supposed stepfather in Greene County—so far without success.

The telegram requested that Juvenile Court authorities return the boy to this county.

New Face Powder
Now The Fashion
Wouldn't you, too, like a face powder that will keep shine away—stay on longer—spread smoothly—not clog the pores—and always be so pure and fine? It is made by a new French Process and is called MELLO-GLO. It is surely a wonderful Face Powder. Just try MELLO-GLO. Hutchison and Gibney.

WE PAY MORE FOR DEAD STOCK
CALL US FIRST AT OUR EXPENSE
PHONE 454
Xenia Fertilizer and Tankage Co.

MOVED!
XENIA YELLOW CAB CO.
NEW LOCATION
LORECO OIL STATION,
NEXT TO GAZETTE OFFICE
Same Phone Number
CALL 296

Charleston Dance Contest
Judged By England's Leader
Miss Leslie—Sutton, chief judge of the Charleston contest for England, writes: "My unique position in the dancing world today would never have happened if I had not taken care of my health. I constantly had that tired out, depressed feeling, with sick headache, indigestion, biliousness caused by the poisons of constipation. Your mild laxative has been of valuable assistance in keeping my system in a daily healthy condition."

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS
All druggists—25c and 75c and places.

SURE, IT PAYS!
The Cod-Fish lays a million eggs. The beautiful hen but one; But the Cod-Fish doesn't crackle Over what she has gone and done. We scorn the modest Cod-Fish And the boastful hen we prize, Which only goes to show, my friends, It pays to advertise.

John Adams
Jefferson and Clinton. It was the first landslide in American history. (This is the fifth of a series of thirty-five digests of presidential campaigns. The sixth will be: "1805: Jefferson Declines a Third Term.")

John Adams
Jefferson and Clinton. It was the first landslide in American history. (This is the fifth of a series of thirty-five digests of presidential campaigns. The sixth will be: "1805: Jefferson Declines a Third Term.")

John Adams
Jefferson and Clinton. It was the first landslide in American history. (This is the fifth of a series of thirty-five digests of presidential campaigns. The sixth will be: "1805: Jefferson Declines a Third Term.")

John Adams
Jefferson and Clinton. It was the first landslide in American history. (This is the fifth of a series of thirty-five digests of presidential campaigns. The sixth will be: "1805: Jefferson Declines a Third Term.")

John Adams
Jefferson and Clinton. It was the first landslide in American history. (This is the fifth of a series of thirty-five digests of presidential campaigns. The sixth will be: "1805: Jefferson Declines a Third Term.")

John Adams
Jefferson and Clinton. It was the first landslide in American history. (This is the fifth of a series of thirty-five digests of presidential campaigns. The sixth will be: "1805: Jefferson Declines a Third Term.")

John Adams
Jefferson and Clinton. It was the first landslide in American history. (This is the fifth of a series of thirty-five digests of presidential campaigns. The sixth will be: "1805: Jefferson Declines a Third Term.")

EDITORIAL

The Gazette is published morning and evening except Sunday at the Gazette Building, South Detroit Street, Xenia, Ohio, by The Chew Publishing Company, Inc. Entered as second-class matter under act of March 3, 1879, at the Postoffice, Xenia, Ohio.

Members of "Ohio Select List" Daily Newspapers. Robert E. Ward, Inc., Foreign Advertising Representative; Chicago Office, No. 5 South Wabash Avenue. New York Office, 501 Fifth Avenue.

| NEW SUBSCRIPTION RATES | 1 Mo. | 3 Mo. | 6 Mo. | 1 Yr. |
|---|--------|---------|---------|---------|
| In Greene County | $.40 | $ 1.00 | $ 1.90 | $ 3.50 |
| Zones 1 and 2 | .45 | 1.15 | 2.15 | 4.00 |
| Zones 3, 4 and 5 | .50 | 1.30 | 2.40 | 4.50 |
| Zones 6 and 7 | .55 | 1.45 | 2.65 | 5.00 |
| Zone 8 | .60 | 1.50 | 2.90 | 5.50 |
| By carrier in Xenia, 15 cents Per Week. Single Copy, Three Cents. | | | | |

Advertising and Business Office 111
Editorial Department 70
Circulation Department 800

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

A WORD TO THE WISE—Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink; that continue until night, till wine inflame them!

And the harp and the viol, the tabret and pipe, and wine, are in their feasts; but they regard not the work of the Lord, neither consider the operation of his hands.—Isa. 5:11 and 12.

WIDER HIGHWAYS NECESSARY

Ohio's highways are among the best in the nation. They are well paved and maintained and well equipped with warning signs and devices. Moreover, the state's highway system is one of the largest among the forty-eight states. But the highway job is far from finished.

This state will do well to fall in line with those that are widening their highways in an effort to eliminate congestion and check traffic accidents. Many instances could be cited where the widening of improved highways is more urgent than the paving of unimproved roads. Two-lane highways are as antiquated and inadequate in heavily traveled areas as one-way roads in less congested territory.

The purpose of good roads is to facilitate vehicular traffic. The best surface falls short of this purpose if it is too narrow to carry the normal traffic load. Because improving a road invariably increases its traffic load, it sometimes happens that slower progress is made over a narrow improved highway than was previously made over the earth road it supplanted.

Why should through highways be uniform in width? The volume of traffic passing over them is not uniform. Road-building logic seems to require that highways should be made wider where traffic is heavier. Two-lane roads are adequate in the open country far from congested centers of population, but as these highways approach cities their capacity should be increased. This is a principle road makers should have learned long ago from the railroads.

REAL VALUE IN FOOTBALL

In thousands of schools and colleges, the students are organizing for football. Those who cherish ambitions as carriers of the noble pigskin are being invited to join the squads, and submit their abilities to athletic tests.

Their relatives are often a bit anxious, fearing they may get a broken bone or something worse. But there are many perils in boy life anyway, and they are not avoided by keeping off the football field. Those who do not go in for such sports are in more danger from lack of healthful exercise, or the tendency to spend idle hours in harmful ways.

It is a game that brings out the manliest side of the boys. When serious accidents happen, it is frequently from some lack of oversight or proper training. Boys who win and act like gentlemen at football, should be prepared to meet the hard knocks of life.

One reason they don't start another war in Europe is that they are afraid we won't let 'em have the money to finish it.

The Way of the World

By GROVE PATTERSON

INVESTMENT

The suggestion comes that the subject of thrift and investment should be taught in the public schools. This is a good idea. Many elderly men and women lose life-time savings through bad investment schemes. The present laws, known as the blue-sky laws, to protect investors, cannot possibly cover all the bad stocks and bonds. The only salvation is education. Investors must know something about securities and how to judge them. No acquaintance is so valuable to the average man as favorable acquaintance with a good banker.

IT SHOULDN'T BE DONE

Two dozen college girls have been working for a month in Chicago to learn at first-hand how working girls get along. These girls had a variety of jobs and their average earnings amounted to $12.62 per week. This paid for their room, board, laundry and carfare, but for nothing else. Such a study and such an experiment are revealing. Girls can live on $12 a week, but that is all. No girl should be asked to do so. There is no place for a mere living wage in this America of ours. If an honest, industrious worker—man or woman—cannot make more than a living wage, something is wrong somewhere.

PREPARATION

A Cincinnati woman, speaking of "Catholic Charities and the Schools," emphasized that the purpose of schools is to prepare children "for life." This is the big idea. Too many schools are apparently designed to prepare pupils to do this, that or the other thing. There is much preparation for earning a living and not enough for living. In many instances there is preparation for neither. Schools seem just a place in which the boy or girl can kill time until old enough to support himself, or until he becomes of age. The problem of schools is to prepare for life—to give some understanding as to what it is all about.

NEW KNOWLEDGE

Speaking of education, the knowledge of the average reader ought to be greatly expanded by the remarkable new Encyclopedia of Social Sciences, the first volume of which is to be published early next year. The encyclopedia, when complete, will have 15 volumes and contain 10,000,000 words. It will cost $1,000,000. Scientific associations are co-operating and the work will be done by both American and foreign scholars. From this book we should get a birdseye view of what progress we have made in this system of living together that we call civilization.

The Encyclopedia will discuss all known topics in the social sciences, including economics, sociology, history, political science, anthropology, ethics, philosophy, law, education, psychology and the arts. Controversial subjects will be taken up in an impartial manner, being written about by scholars whose interest is indirect and unbiased.

QUANTITY

The emphasis of this entire age is quantity production—well up holstered. How about a campaign for fewer and better people?

NEWS COMMENT and VIEWS

The Diary

of a

New Yorker

By CLARK KINNAIRD

NEW YORK.—Certainly, New York has country around it! Oodles of it. More so than nearly any other large city I know. North, there are drives up the Hudson and, then, there is the Bronx River parkway. I've just come from a thirty-mile drive along it. If you have friends in New York with cars, or if you have your own car, insist on the Bronx River parkway.

It stretches through Westchester county, where are the wealthiest suburban towns. Westchester advertises itself as the most beautiful spot in the world. It's hardly that. It's in third or fourth place (which proves that a New Yorker can be impartial in judgments).

Its landscape is unique. There are rustic, shaven trees, all uniform, all exactly alike. Along the way are numerous rustic bridges (none exactly alike) over small lakes or the "river," a tiny thing. And other highways are carried overhead on numerous other rustic bridges, stone and concrete, architecturally probably the finest road bridges in America.

To the east from New York is Long Island, with countless estates. To the south, in season, take a boat from Forty-second street (Sandy Hook Liner) to Atlantic Highlands and see, not only the harbor but wooded Staten Island (a part of New York City) and the Jersey promontory, with its verdant highlands facing the open ocean and Europe.

To the west are the Palisades, rising sheer from the Hudson opposite Riverside Drive. Why, at the northern end of New York City there is a park—Van Cortlandt—that seems as large as some counties, and which appears to have more trees than whole states in parts of the west.

If you desire a closeup of the financial district without hindrance, go there in the evening or on Sunday and wander among the streets hemmed in by mountainous buildings. Look up. The effect is magical. You are in a dream city.

Or come up the bay on a Staten Island ferry (five cents) at dusk and see a city rise out of the mist to meet you—a regular Gulliver's Travels' city.

New story just told me today: Little boy taken to Bear Mountain fresh air camp from a congested district of New York. He gets out of the bus, looks around. Nothing but an expanse of scenery—a house here and there.

"Humph," he says, "no streets to play in."

Another fresh air camp story: Little girl from tenements had been reaching over the table for food. Bad manners.

Instructor tells her how to act at table. "When you get home, you must say to your mother: 'Please pass the bread!'"

"The little girl shakes her head. 'Ma'll say: 'Where the hell are your arms?'"

The chain store has affected Fifth Avenue. One of my friends has two large Fifth Avenue shops, show places. He's getting ready to open branches on Madison Avenue and on Broadway to compete with chains.

Dealers in old and rare books find New York the best market in the world. Last night I passed hours looking at old books, hand lettered and painted; and printed with the first type ever used.

A Gutenberg Bible, first printed book, is possibly worth $250,000 today. Yale has one. The donor paid $125,000 for it a few years ago. The value constantly increases. Not so many years ago the quotation was $5,000.

What do you want to know about New York? Ask C. K., 2200 Times Building, New York, enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.

Household Hints

By MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

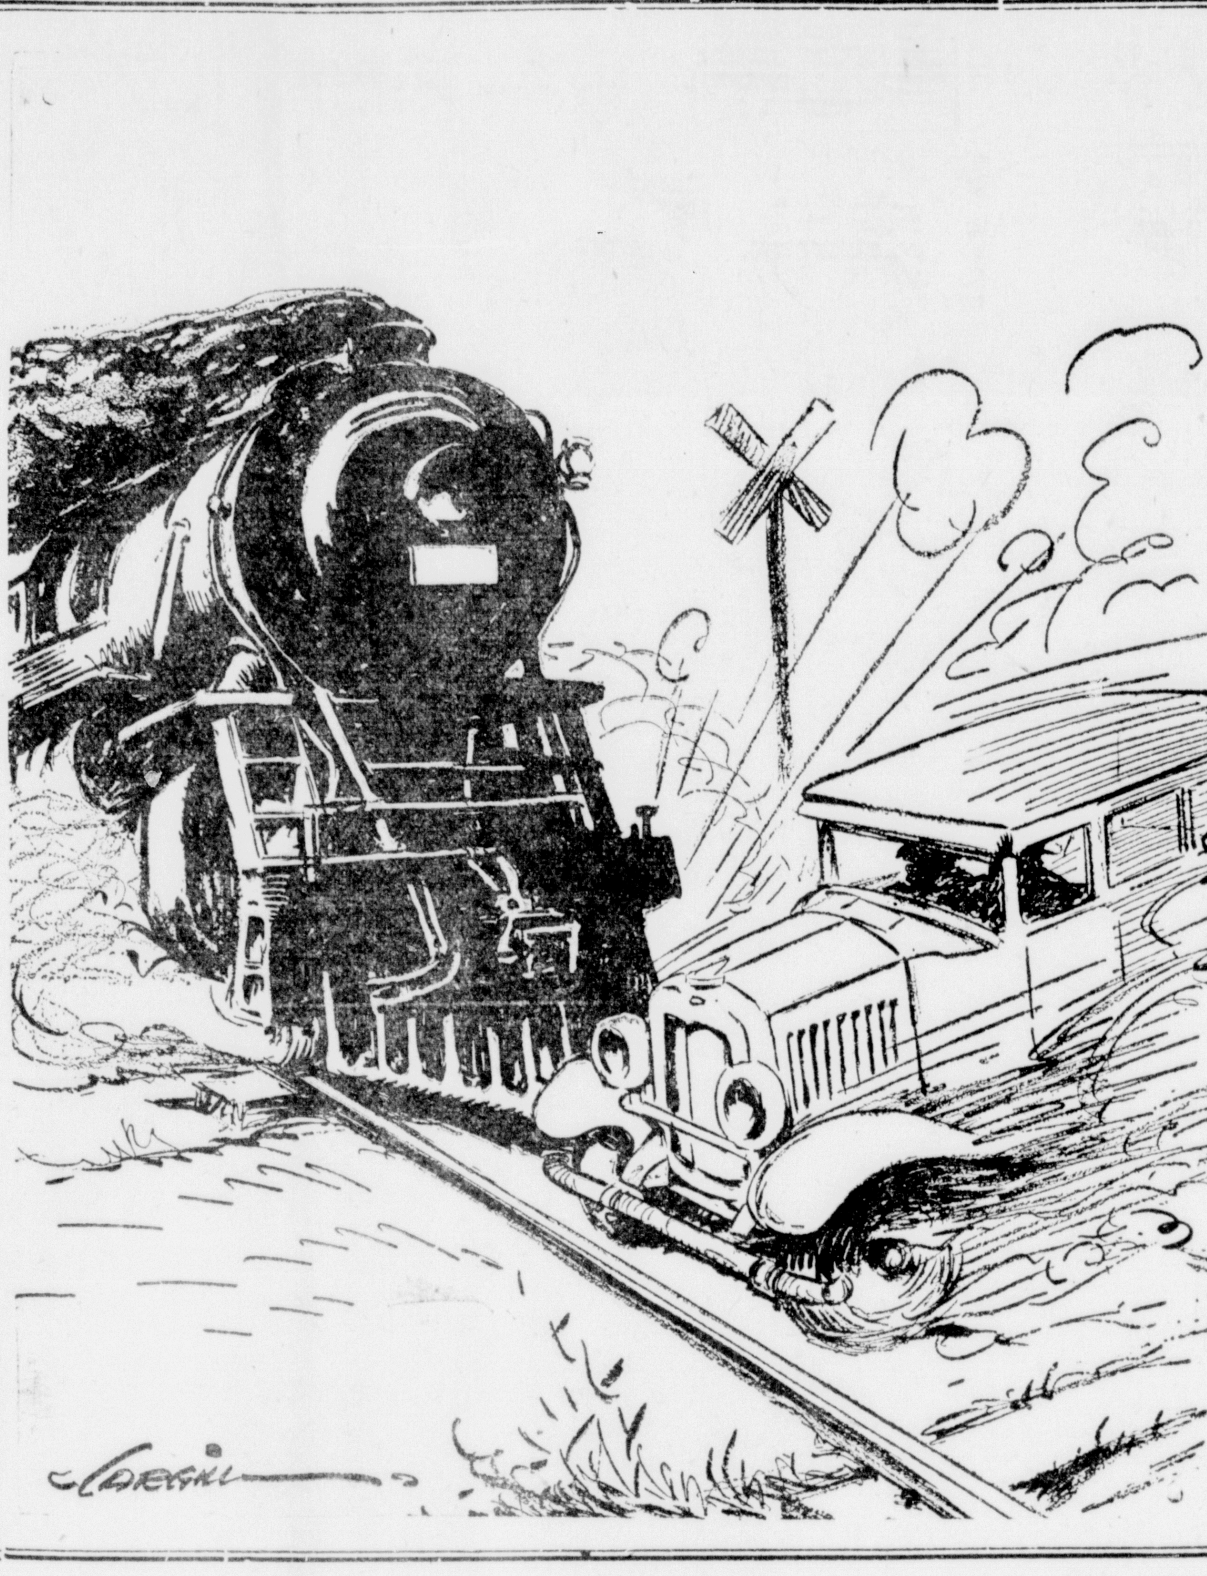

Sautéed Tripe
Baked Sweet Potatoes
Cheese Sticks Swiss Chard Salad
Apple Pie Coffee

Do you use tripe? It makes a nice change and if you are not in the habit of making use of it, it is time you added it to your list of foods. Some people have a prejudice against it, I know, but this might be overcome if they tasted it.

Today's Recipes
Tripe—Wash two pounds of tripe thoroughly and let it stand in salt water for about half an hour. Wash again, put in water and let it simmer until tender. Cut into long strips an inch wide. Heat three tablespoons olive oil in a saucepan, and when hot add two tablespoons sliced white onions. Cook to a golden color. Add the tripe, cook slowly for fifteen minutes. Season with salt, pepper, dash of cayenne, one tablespoon parsley and two tablespoons tomatoes. Serve with grated cheese.

Silk-Covered Buttons
When covering button molds with silk material cover them first with soft flannel or wool and then with the silk. They will look much better.

RACE SUICIDE

How to Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

Preparing for Early Fall
We are speeding along in autumn. However, the summer time always brings its own penalties, as well as its joys, and whether the weather is warm or cool, we still have cases of tan and cases of freckles frequently far into the fall.

During this change in seasons there are changes in the skin and changes in the blood. The system must adjust itself to raw winds and blustering days. The blood thickens. Appetites increase, but before this actually takes place we undergo, unless we are unusually fortunate, a period of time when we are distressed not only to ourselves, but to those around us. The readjustment process is never easy, and during this season when we are attuning ourselves to climatic changes we must take particular care of beauty and health.

Skin care is all important now. It is not alone that we must counteract the bad effect of our reckless abandon that has gone before, but we must prepare for the future, and pay particular attention to the present. It is an easy thing in these early days of fall to develop a lack of elasticity and a coarseness of texture which may permanently affect your complexion. Winter faces should be clear, healthy, glowing with life and loveliness, but unless we prepare for that in the fall, we are not likely to be in the fortunate class of women who can boast a beautiful all-year-around skin.

Did you ever get up in the morning on the wrong side of the bed? You probably remember that the whole day went wrong just because you started it wrong. Take that same principle and apply it to the seasons. Don't start off the season by paying attention to the superficial part of loveliness. Begin at the beginning and begin right. Watch your diet. If you suddenly begin filling your system with heavy foods, particularly if you have undergone a light summer-time diet, you are going to suffer for it with a sluggish brain, a sluggish body and sluggish intestines. Don't think that all you have to do to nullify the effects of summer exposure is to pat a little powder over your face and trust to luck and rouge to make you look yourself. It never works out. It is just as though you spread a nice coverlet over an unmade bed. The bumps and the creases all show through. Your complexion shows the care you give it, and now is the season when you must plan just the system to result in a beautiful skin until next spring.

Diet and Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS M. D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet For Children"

TUBERCULOSIS IN DAIRY COWS MAY INFECT THE CHILDREN

Bovine Tuberculosis.
We have a law in Iowa for the testing of dairy cattle. When a certain per cent of stock owners petition for it the state makes a test that becomes compulsory on all.

"Most countries can get the required number of petitioners, but there is in every case a belligerent minority who oppose the test in every way possible. Their idea seems to be that the test is a fraud, gotten up to make the work for the vets. They claim there is no danger to people from bovine tuberculosis. Of course, if they really believe this, it is easy to see why they object to having their cattle condemned. An article on the subject from a reliable and impartial source would be greatly appreciated."

While it is true the adult is rarely affected by bovine tuberculosis, there is a danger, and a grave danger, from it, for according to authentic investigations over 23 per cent of the tuberculosis in children is of the bovine type. It most often infects the lymph glands—especially the neck and the abdominal—and the bones and joints.

It is now believed that most cases of adult tuberculosis, the contracted in childhood. The germs evidently remain quiescent until some great lowering of the body resistance occurs, and then they find the conditions favorable for their multiplication and active tuberculosis results. Pottenger believes that this bovine form of tuberculosis contracted in childhood, through its growth in the human soil, changes its form to the human form. He has had very great experience in treating and studying tuberculosis, and if his conclusions are correct, then bovine tuberculosis is eventually dangerous to the adult. But even granting it is not, shall we not save the children?

The tuberculin test is the most accurate guide for the recognition of tuberculosis in cows, but such a large percentage of cows have some infection with the disease that if all of them were slaughtered there might be a milk famine. Because of this, other methods besides slaughtering the animals are recommended. The BANG system is considered the most efficient.

The Bang system originated in Denmark, where it is used with very great success. Under this system all animals are tested. The Bang system is based on the fact that the tuberculin test, which shows advanced tuberculosis in a cow, is not so seriously affected as used for breeding purposes only. However, their calves are separated from them so as not to become infected—tuberculosis is not inherited in cattle or in the human family—and the milk from the mother cows is pasteurized before being given to the calves. All of the milk and cream from suspected cows is pasteurized before being used in any way. The calves are tuberculin tested when they are three months old, and if they prove to be free of the disease they are permitted to enter the sound section of the herd. By this system, a healthy herd is built up.

The law also provides that cattle brought into the county shall be kept in quarantine until tested with tuberculin and found free from tuberculosis. Denmark is showing that tuberculosis is not a necessary disease among highly developed dairy

Kellygrams

By FRED C. KELLY

Any code of business or professional ethics that bars truthful advertising is probably poor ethics.

Years ago it was not considered the proper thing for high-grade investment houses to advertise their offerings in stocks and bonds. But the shyster houses went ahead and advertised worthless securities, and since these were the only ones that many small investors heard about, it was not difficult to sell them.

As soon as the better class of dealers began to advertise reliable bonds the manacle of the other kind to gullible buyers became far less. Today the honest dealer is ordinarily barred by professional ethics from advertising. No wonder the charlatans who do advertise find so many victims.

Peter's Adventure

By MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

THE GULLS GROW HOMESICK

"The Gulls didn't think Corcorant's suggestion that the sailors would free Albatross when they had come to land was very likely, but they were too polite to say so."

"Perhaps," agreed the Gulls, "but wouldn't that be just about as bad for the bird? How would you like to be set free on a strange shore miles and miles from home? To be sure, you could find your way back, but it would be no fun having to fly in all kinds of weather, whether you wished to or not—such an unnecessary waste of strength and wing."

It is all very well to tire oneself out in doing what one wants to do, but it is altogether a different matter when some one else makes you.

cows, for they are eradicating it. Tuberculosis is on the decrease, due to the knowledge being disseminated by various health agencies, and the tuberculin testing of cattle. All milk and cream should be pasteurized except the certified milk, for in case there should be tuberculous germs, either bovine or human or other infectious germs, they will be killed by the pasteurization. This does not mean the tuberculin test should be discarded, for we should build up our cattle to be free from disease and this is one of the methods of doing it.

For those who are interested, we have an article on Tuberculosis which gives a list of books on the subject written by authorities for the layman.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose, nor give personal advice. Your questions, if of general interest, will be answered in the column, in turn. Requests for articles must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and 2 cents in coin for each article, to cover cost of printing and handling. For the pamphlet on reducing and gaining 10 cents in coin, with fully self-addressed, stamped envelope, must be enclosed. Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper.

FEATURES

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON.—Good news from Europe! Old World statesmen have framed up a scheme guaranteed to straighten out their various countries' difficulties, of war origin, right away.

A plan has been hit on by which Germany can raise money to hurry up payment of the allies' claims against her. This will put everybody on "Easy Street" and promote good feeling all around.

For one thing, it will mean the departure of French troops from the Rhine valley, held by them since 1923.

It will also enable the British, French, Italian and Belgian governments to pay off a great part of their indebtedness to the United States—though, it is true they take it for granted we will agree to some pretty liberal discounts for cash.

All this sounds so pleasant that only a very cranky person can ask—

Where is Germany going to get the dough?

It must not be imagined, however, that the old world statesmen have overlooked as important a consideration as that. As promptly as you please, back comes their answer, all doped out in advance—

Germany is going to borrow it from the United States.

Washington representatives of the interested powers—the British, French, Italians, Belgians and Germans—oh! so diplomatically! are just beginning to take their next little scheme up with the state department now.

They are thinking, it seems, of holding a meeting somewhere in Europe, to arrange the final details.

They suppose America will want to have an "observer" there.

There may be a few papers for him to sign on the dotted line—as a mere formality.

Needless to say, it is the same old dodge to make America pay for the war.

The allies' original idea was to take all they could get from Germany and persuade the United States to waive collection of all she had loaned to them, too.

Inasmuch as that failed to "take," the next best thing seemed to be to induce America to put up the funds for German reparations, pay her off with her own money, and leave her to get back from Germany whatever she could, whenever she could.

Of course the allied diplomats are careful not to express themselves in any such crude way.

Nevertheless, ever since the armistice was signed, about every so often they have made the attempt, each time done up in some new kind of an attractive-looking package—evidently under the impression that we will fall for one of them, sooner or later, if they keep at it long enough.

Moreover, a good many people in Washington official circles are sufficiently pessimistic to believe that, probably, so we will.

In the present instance, the theory is that the capital is that the wily European negotiators have in mind the initiation of a nice discussion which will slip over into the next administration. They have not met with very satisfactory results under President Coolidge's regime.

Now a new executive is coming into power, no matter who wins.

Feature Service Collection
In Chicago story 300,000 fans to see games, mailed from New York, September 27, make it Saturday, October 13, not Saturday, October 6.

Living and Loving

By MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

Girl Finds Life Happiness After Sacrificing for Family

A short time ago I answered a letter from a girl who was torn between what she thought was her duty to her mother and her lover, who had waited four years for her and wanted to get married. I told her to marry if she possibly could, as my experience had been that girls sometimes give their own lives to minister to others when there was no absolute necessity. Only too often the one demanding the sacrifice died or no longer needed the ministrations, and then the girl would be left to live her life out alone. I am glad to get a letter from one who has had this problem to face. Her advice differs from mine, however.

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I would like to answer the letter of the girl who has to choose between her lover and her mother. I can answer this out of experience on my own life. Up to the age of 11 I had everything a girl could wish for, with the promise of a brilliant future. I expected to go through college and branch out into something beyond the humdrum life of housekeeping. My father's death changed all that, and in my 12th year my mother was stricken down with neuritis and became a helpless invalid. Three months after that my eldest sister's husband died, leaving her with three small children to support. They also made their home with my mother, while their own mother entered a training school for nursing so as to support and educate them. I was the little mother of the home. Well, God gave me strength to do it. My only amusement consisted of reading. I spent 15 years thus. My nieces went through school and college and not one thought of giving me time to go on with my husband. Finally I took a dressmaking course and made money enough, to feel independent. My brother's friends were always my friends, and I could have married early if I had been unfaithful to the trust God had placed in me. When my mother no longer needed me and my sister's children were grown, I married a good man who had waited eight years for me.

"Do your duty to your mother. Other lovers come if he goes. You can get another lover, but you'll never get another mother. And the spiritual satisfaction of a duty well done will always be yours. Now I am happy with a husband and two sons. Do you think I have been happier if I had run away from my duty and developed my own life earlier? I'm sure I would not have been."

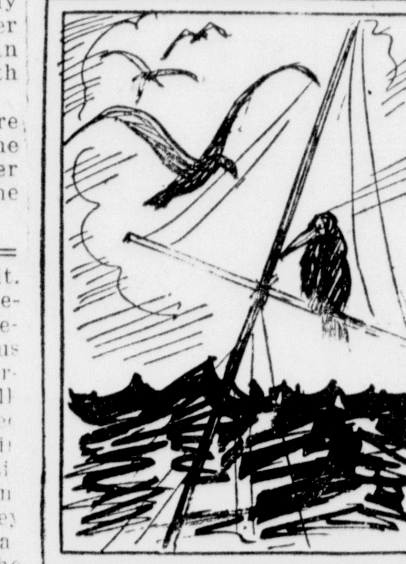

"DUTY."

In your case the sacrifice was necessary and you were still young when you were freed. One could not be happy in deserting one who needed one so often, as I stated before, one could be spared if the family was unwilling to accept the sacrifice unless it was absolutely necessary.

Morwenna: The ring is only the symbol of the engagement, dear, and your fiancé probably has not felt he could afford to give you one yet, but probably will when he can. In the meantime you have the other ring between you and the chest. The understanding is between you and the young man, and your brothers have nothing to do with it. If you really love him you will have faith that he will keep the vow as you are doing. You cannot altogether avoid the teasing and embarrassment. No one ever does, not even when the engagement is publicly announced. I think your brothers' attitude is very nice and thoughtful of you, however, and if you and your fiancé could come to an understanding so that you were both free to go with others, letting them know that you were engaged, of course, it would be life easier for you, as well as quieting your brothers' fear that you may chance toward your boyfriend. This is a matter for you two to decide, however.

how-like enough to hold their precious burdens nor in choosing just the shades of mosses that will match the rocks on which they are to rest. It would take a bright eye to discover Gull's nest, I can tell you!"

Next—"Baby Sea Gull: For Out What His Feet Are For?"

I NEVER HAD THE LEAST IDEA THAT THE TWO-LEGS EVER NOTICED US BIRDS OF THE SEA.

"My, how homesick you are making me!" declared another Gull, hanging his head and dejectedly.

"This is the first year since I was married that I have not watched the children growing up."

"Why did I ever leave home at this season? Do any of you fellows know anything Jovialer to look upon than the eggs that our wives lay? Are there any others in all the world of such lovely shades of blue and gray, or so daintily painted in brown and lilac and purple? How pretty they look lying in the nests with the sun shining upon them!"

EDITORIAL

The Gazette is published morning and evening except Sunday at the Gazette Building, South Detroit Street, Xenia, Ohio, by The Chew Publishing Company, Inc. Entered as second-class matter under act of March 3, 1879, at the Postoffice, Xenia, Ohio.

Members of "Ohio Select List" Daily Newspapers, Robert E. Ward, Inc., Foreign Advertising Representative; Chicago Office, No. 5 South Wabash Avenue, New York Office, 501 Fifth Avenue.

| NEW SUBSCRIPTION RATES | 1 Mo. | 3 Mo. | 6 Mo. | 1 Yr. |
|---|--------|---------|---------|---------|
| In Greene County | $.40 | $ 1.00 | $ 1.90 | $ 3.50 |
| Zones 1 and 2 | .45 | 1.15 | 2.15 | 4.00 |
| Zones 3, 4 and 5 | .50 | 1.30 | 2.40 | 4.50 |
| Zones 6 and 7 | .55 | 1.45 | 2.65 | 5.00 |
| Zone 8 | .60 | 1.50 | 2.90 | 5.50 |
| By carrier in Xenia, 15 cents Per Week. Single Copy, Three Cents. | | | | |

| | |
|---------------------------------|-----|
| Advertising and Business Office | 111 |
| Editorial Department | 70 |
| Circulation Department | 800 |

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

A WORD TO THE WISE—Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink; that continue until night, till wine inflame them!

And the harp and the viol, the tabret and pipe, and wine, are in their feasts; but they regard not the work of the Lord, neither consider the operation of his hands.—Isa. 5:11 and 12.

WIDER HIGHWAYS NECESSARY

Ohio's highways are among the best in the nation. They are well paved and maintained and well equipped with warning signs and devices. Moreover, the state's highway system is one of the largest among the forty-eight states. But the highway job is far from finished.

This state will do well to fall in line with those that are widening their highways in an effort to eliminate congestion and check traffic accidents. Many instances could be cited where the widening of improved highways is more urgent than the paving of unimproved roads. Two-lane highways are as antiquated and inadequate in heavily traveled areas as one-way roads in less congested territory.

The purpose of good roads is to facilitate vehicular traffic. The best surface falls short of this purpose if it is too narrow to carry the normal traffic load. Because improving a road invariably increases its traffic load, it sometimes happens that slower progress is made over a narrow improved highway than was previously made over the earth road it supplanted.

Why should through highways be uniform in width? The volume of traffic passing over them is not uniform. Road-building logic seems to require that highways should be made wider where traffic is heavier. Two-lane roads are adequate in the open country far from congested centers of population, but as these highways approach cities their capacity should be increased. This is a principle road makers should have learned long ago from the railroads.

REAL VALUE IN FOOTBALL

In thousands of schools and colleges, the students are organizing for football. Those who cherish ambitions as carriers of the noble pigskin are being invited to join the squads, and submit their abilities to athletic tests.

Their relatives are often a bit anxious, fearing they may get a broken bone or something worse. But there are many perils in boy life anyway, and they are not avoided by keeping off the football field. Those who do not go in for such sports are in more danger from lack of healthful exercise, or the tendency to spend idle hours in harmful ways.

It is a game that brings out the manliest side of the boys. When serious accidents happen, it is frequently from some lack of oversight or proper training. Boys who win and act like gentlemen at football, should be prepared to meet the hard knocks of life.

One reason they don't start another war in Europe is that they are afraid we won't let 'em have the money to finish it.

The Way of the World

By GROVE PATTERSON

INVESTMENT

The suggestion comes that the subject of thrift and investment should be taught in the public schools. This is a good idea. Many elderly men and women lose life-time savings through bad investment schemes. The present laws, known as the blue-sky laws, to protect investors, cannot possibly cover all the bad stocks and bonds. The only salvation is education. Investors must know something about securities and how to judge them. No acquaintance is so valuable to the average man as favorable acquaintance with a good banker.

IT SHOULDN'T BE DONE

Two dozen college girls have been working for a month in Chicago to learn at first-hand how working girls get along. These girls had a variety of jobs and their average earnings amounted to $12.62 per week. This paid for their room, board, laundry and carfare, but for nothing else. Such a study and such an experiment are revealing. Girls can live on $12 a week, but that is all. No girl should be asked to do so. There is no place for a mere living wage in this America of ours. If an honest, industrious worker—man or woman—cannot make more than a living wage, something is wrong somewhere.

PREPARATION

A Cincinnati woman, speaking of "Catholic Charities and the Schools," emphasized that the purpose of schools is to prepare children "for life." This is the big idea. Too many schools are apparently designed to prepare pupils to do this, that or the other thing. There is much preparation for earning a living and not enough for living. In many instances there is preparation for neither. Schools seem just a place in which the boy or girl can kill time until old enough to support himself, or until he becomes of age. The problem of schools is to prepare for life—to give some understanding as to what it is all about.

NEW KNOWLEDGE

Speaking of education, the knowledge of the average reader ought to be greatly expanded by the remarkable new Encyclopedia of Social Sciences, the first volume of which is to be published early next year. The encyclopedia, when complete, will have 15 volumes and contain 10,000,000 words. It will cost $1,000,000. Scientific associations are co-operating and the work will be done by both American and foreign scholars. From this book we should get a birdseye view of what progress we have made in this system of living together that we call civilization.

The Encyclopedia will discuss all known topics in the social sciences, including economics, sociology, history, political science, anthropology, ethics, philosophy, law, education, psychology and the arts. Controversial subjects will be taken up in an impartial manner, being written about by scholars whose interest is indirect and unbiased.

QUANTITY

The emphasis of this entire age is quantity production—well up holstered. How about a campaign for few and better people?

The Diary of a New Yorker

By CLARK KINNAIRD

NEW YORK.—Certainly, New York has country around it! Oodles of it. More so than nearly any other large city I know. North, there are drives up the Hudson and, then, there is the Bronx River parkway. I've just come from a thirty-mile drive along it. If you have friends in New York with cars, or if you have your own car, insist on the Bronx River parkway.

It stretches through Westchester county, where are the wealthiest suburban towns. Westchester advertises itself as the most beautiful spot in the world. It's hardly that. It's in third or fourth place (which proves that a New Yorker can be impartial in judgments).

Its lamp posts are unique. They are rustic, shaven trees all uniform, all exactly alike. Along the way are numerous rustic bridges (none exactly alike) over small lakes or the "river," a tiny thing. And other highways are carried overhead on numerous other rustic bridges, stone and concrete, architecturally probably the finest road bridges in America.

To the east from New York is Long Island, with countless estates. To the south, in season, take a boat from Forty-Second street (Sandy Hook Liner) to Atlantic Highlands and see, not only the harbor but woody Staten Island (a part of New York City) and the Jersey promontory, with its verdant highlands facing the open ocean and Europe.

To the west are the Palisades, rising sheer from the Hudson opposite Riverside Drive.

Why, at the northern end of New York City there is a park—Van Cortlandt—that seems as large as some counties, and which appears to have more trees than whole states in parts of the west.

If you desire a closeup of the financial district without hindrance, go there in the evening or on Sunday and wander among the streets hemmed in by mountainous buildings. Look up. The effect is magical. You are in a dream city.

Or come up the bay on a Staten Island ferry (five cents) at dusk and see a city rise out of the mist to meet you—a regular Gulliver's Travels' city.

New story just told me today. Little boy taken to Bear Mountain fresh air camp from a congested district of New York.

He gets out of the bus, looks around. Nothing but an expanse of scenery—a house here and there.

"Humph," he says, "no streets to play in."

Another fresh air camp story: Little girl from tenements had been reaching over the table for food. Bad manners.

Instructor tells her how to act at table. "When you get home, you must say to your mother: 'Please pass the bread.'"

The little girl shakes her head. "Ma'll say: 'Where the hell are your arms?'"

The chain store has affected Fifth Avenue. One of my friends has two large Fifth Avenue shops, show places. He's getting ready to open branches on Madison avenue and on Broadway to compete with chains.

Dealers in old and rare books find New York the best market in the world. Last night I passed hours looking at old books, hand lettered and painted; and printed with the first type ever used. A Gutenberg Bible, first printed today. Yale has one. The donor paid $125,000 for it a few years ago. The value constantly increases. Not so many years ago the quotation was $5,000.

What do you want to know about New York? Ask C. K. 2200 Times Building, New York, enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.

Household Hints

By MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

Sautéed Tripe
Baked Sweet Potatoes
Cheese Sticks Swiss Chard Salad
Apple Pie Coffee
Do you use tripe? It makes a nice change and if you are not in the habit of making use of it, it is time you added it to your list of foods. Some people have a prejudice against it, I know, but this might be overcome if they tasted it.

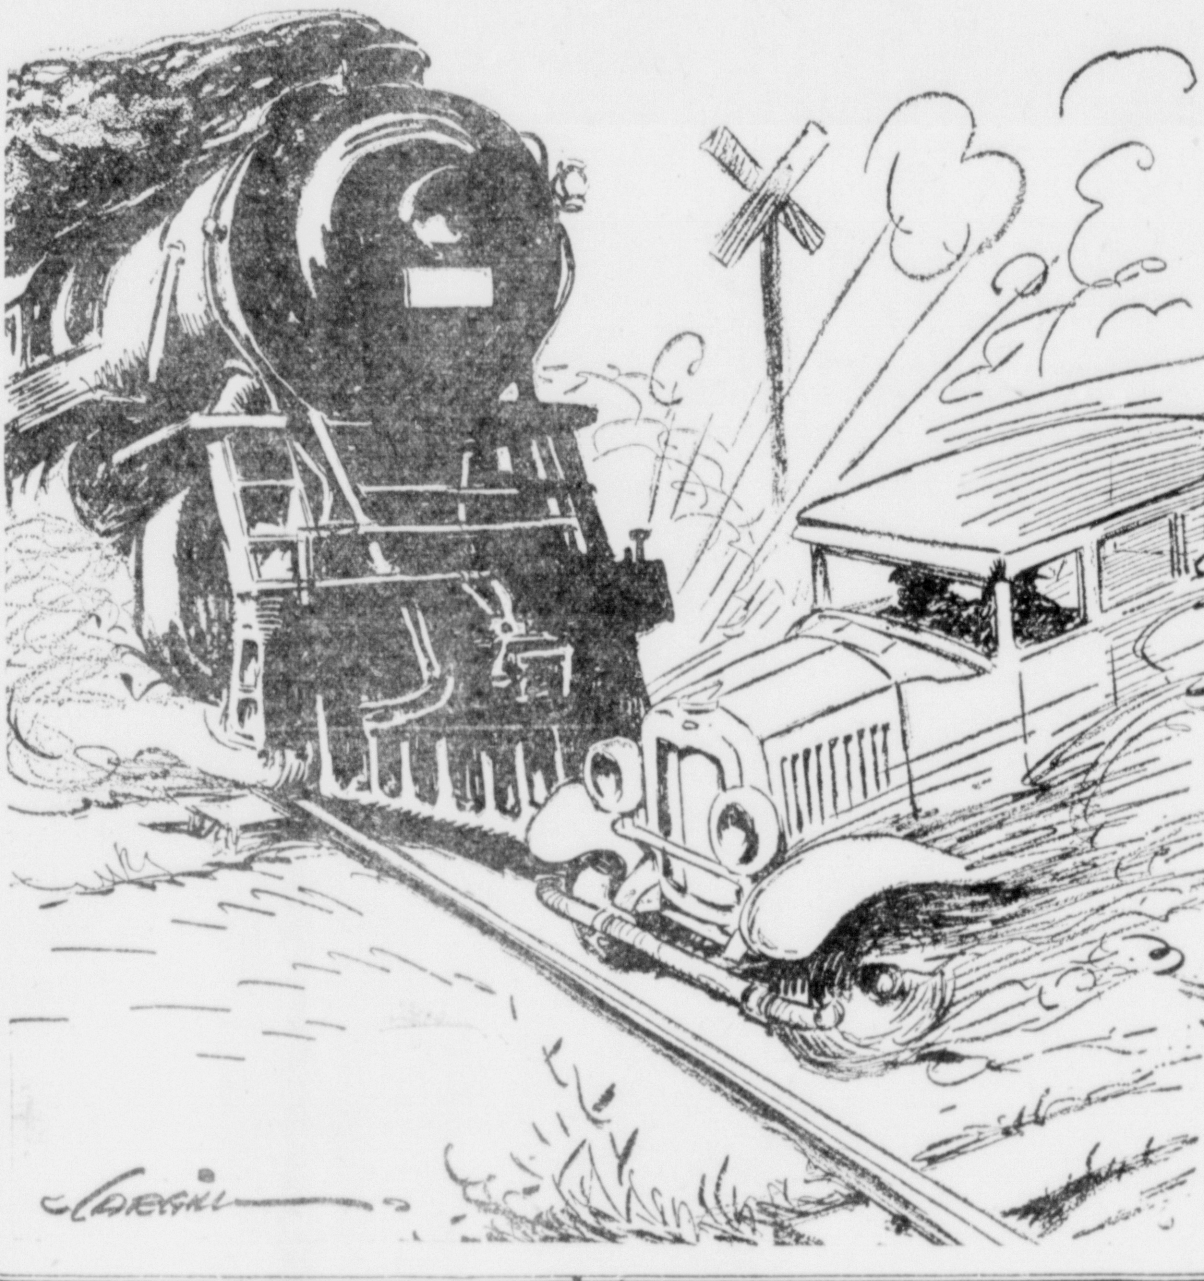

Today's Recipes

Tripe—Wash two pounds of tripe thoroughly and let it stand in salt water for about half an hour. Wash again, put in water and let it simmer until tender. Cut into long strips an inch wide. Heat three tablespoons olive oil in a saucepan, and when hot add two tablespoons sliced white onions. Cook to a golden color. Add the tripe, cook slowly for fifteen minutes. Season with salt, pepper, dash of cayenne, one tablespoon parsley and two tablespoons tomatoes. Serve with grated cheese.

Silk-Covered Buttons

When covering button molds with silken material cover them first with soft flannel or wool and then with the silk. They will look much better.

RACE SUICIDE

How to Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

Preparing for Early Fall

We are speeding along in autumn. However, the summer time always brings its own penalties, as well as its joys, and whether the weather is warm or cool, we still have cases of tan and cases of freckles frequently far into the fall.

During this change in seasons there are changes in the skin and changes in the blood. The system must adjust itself to raw winds and blustering days. The blood thickens. Appetites increase, but before this actually takes place we undergo, unless we are unusually fortunate, a period of time when we are disfigured not only to ourselves, but to those around us. The readjustment process is never easy, and during this season when we are attuning ourselves to climatic changes we must take particular care of beauty and health.

Skin care is all important now. It is not alone that we must counteract the bad effect of our reckless abandon that has gone before, but we must prepare for the future, and pay particular attention to the present. It is an easy thing in these early days of fall to develop a lack of elasticity and a coarseness of texture which may permanently affect your complexion. Winter faces should be clear, healthy, glowing.

Diet and Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS M. D.
Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet For Children"

TUBERCULOSIS IN DAIRY COWS MAY INFECT THE CHILDREN

Bovine Tuberculosis. "We have a law in Iowa for the testing of dairy cattle. When a certain per cent of stock owners petition for it the state makes a test that becomes compulsory on all."

"Most counties can get the required number of petitioners, but there is in every case a belligerent minority who oppose the test in every way possible. Their idea seems to be that the test is a fraud, gotten up to make the work for the vets. They claim there is no danger to people from bovine tuberculosis. Of course, if they really believe this, it is easy to see why they object to having their cattle condemned. An article on the subject from a reliable and impartial source would be greatly appreciated."

While it is true the adult is rarely affected by bovine tuberculosis, there is a danger, and a grave danger, from it, for according to authentic investigations over 23 per cent of the tuberculosis in children is of the bovine type. It most often infects the lymph glands—especially the neck and the abdominal—and the bones and joints.

It is now believed that most cases of adult tuberculosis, the contracted in childhood. The germs evidently remain quiescent until some great lowering of the body resistance occurs and then they find the conditions favorable for their multiplication. Pottinger believes that this bovine form of tuberculosis contracted in childhood through its growth in the human soil, changes its form to the human form. He has had very great experience in treating and studying tuberculosis, and if his conclusions are correct, then bovine tuberculosis is eventually dangerous to the adult. But even granting it is not, shall we not save the children?

The tuberculin test is the most accurate guide for the recognition of tuberculosis in cows, but such a large percentage of cows have some infection with the disease that if all of them were slaughtered there might be a milk famine. Because of this, other methods besides slaughtering the animals are recommended. The BANG system is considered the most efficient.

The Bang system originated in Denmark where it is used with very great success. Under this system all animals are tested with tuberculin, and those which show advanced tuberculosis are slaughtered, while those that are seriously affected are used for breeding purposes only. However, their calves are separated from them so as not to become infected—tuberculosis is not inherited in cattle or in the human family—and the milk from the mother cows is pasteurized before being given to the calves. All of the milk and cream from suspected cows is pasteurized before being used in any way. The calves are tuberculin tested when they are three months old, and if they prove to be free of the disease they are permitted to enter the sound section of the herd. By this system, a healthy herd is built up.

with life and loveliness, but unless we prepare for that in the fall, we are not likely to be in the fortunate class of women who can boast a beautiful all-year-around skin.

Did you ever get up in the morning on the wrong side of the bed? You probably remember that the whole day went wrong just because you started it wrong. Take that same principle and apply it to the seasons. Don't start off the season by paying attention to the superficial part of loveliness. Begin at the beginning and begin right. Watch your diet. If you suddenly begin filling your system with heavy foods, particularly if you have undergone a light summer-time diet, you are going to suffer for it with a sluggish brain, a sluggish body and sluggish interests. Don't think that all you have to do to nullify the effects of summer exposure is to pat a little powder over your face and trust to luck and rouge to make you look yourself. It never works out. It is just as though you spread a nice coverlet over an unmade bed. The bumps and the creases all show through. Your complexion shows the care you give it, and now is the season when you must plan just the system to result in a beautiful skin until next spring.

"Perhaps," agreed the Gulls, "but wouldn't that be just about as bad for the bird? How would you like to be set free on a strange shore miles and miles from home? To be sure, you could find your way back, but it would be no fun having to fly in all kinds of weather, whether you wished to or not—such an unnecessary waste of strength and wing."

"It is all very well to tire oneself out in doing what one wants to do, but it is altogether a different matter when some one else makes you."

cows, for they are eradicating it. Tuberculosis is on the decrease due to the knowledge being disseminated by various health agencies, and the tuberculin testing of cattle. All milk and cream should be pasteurized except the certified milk, for in case there should be tuberculous germs, either bovine or human or other infectious germs, they will be killed by the pasteurization. This does not mean the tuberculin test should be discarded, for we should build up our cattle to be free from disease and this is one of the methods of doing it.

For those who are interested, we have an article on Tuberculosis which gives a list of books on the subject written by authorities for the layman.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose, nor give personal advice. Your questions, if of general interest, will be answered in the column, in turn. Requests for articles must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and 2 cents in coin for each article, to cover cost of printing and handling. For the pamphlet on reducing and gaining 19 cents in coin, with fully self-addressed, stamped envelope, must be enclosed. Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper.

FEATURES

Behind the Scenes in Washington

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON. — Good news from Europe!

Oil! World statesmen have framed up a scheme guaranteed to straighten out their various countries' difficulties, of war origin, right away.

A plan has been hit on by which Germany can raise money to hurry up payment of the allies' claims against her. This will put everybody on "Easy Street" and promote good feelings all around.

For one thing, it will mean the departure of French troops from the Rhine valley, held by them since 1923.

It will also enable the British, French, Italian and Belgian governments to pay off a great part of their indebtedness to the United States—though it is true they take it for granted we will agree to some pretty liberal discounts for cash.

All this sounds so pleasant that only a very cranky person can ask—

Where is Germany going to get the dough?

It must not be imagined, however, that the old world statesmen have overlooked as important a consideration as that. As promptly as you please, back come their answer, all doped out in advance—

Germany is going to borrow it from the United States.

Washington representatives of the interested powers—the British, French, Italians, Belgians and Germans—oh! so diplomatically! are just beginning to take their neat little scheme up with the state department now.

They are thinking, it seems, of holding a meeting somewhere in Europe, to arrange the final details.

They suppose America will want to have an "observer" there.

There may be a few papers for him to sign on the dotted line—as a mere formality.

Needless to say, it is the same old dodge to make America pay for the war.

The allies' original idea was to take all they could get from Germany and persuade the United States to waive collection of all she had loaned to them, too.

Inasmuch as that failed to "take," the next best thing seemed to be to induce America to put up the funds for German reparations, pay her off with her own money, and leave her to get back from Germany whatever she could, whenever she could.

Of course the allied diplomats are careful not to express themselves in any such crude way.

Nevertheless, ever since the armistice was signed, about every so often they have made the attempt, each time done up in some new kind of an attractive-looking package—evidently under the impression that we will fall for one of them, sooner or later, if they keep at it long enough.

Moreover, a good many people in Washington official circles are sufficiently pessimistic to believe that, probably, so we will.

In the present instance, the theory at the capital is that the wily European negotiators have in mind the initiation of a nice discussion which will slip over into the next administration.

They have not met with very satisfactory results under President Coolidge's regime.

Now a new executive is coming into power, no matter who wins.

Feature Service Correction

In Chicago story of 23,000 fans to see games, mailed from New York, September 27, make it Saturday, October 13, not Saturday, October 6.

Living and Loving

By MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

Girl Finds Life Happiness

After Sacrificing for Family

A short time ago I answered a letter from a girl who was torn between what she thought was her duty to her mother, and her lover, who had waited four years for her and wanted to get married. I told her to marry if she possibly could, as my experience had been that girls sometimes give their own lives to minister to others when there was no absolute necessity. Only too often the one demanding the sacrifice died or no longer needed the ministrations, and then the girl would be left to live her life out alone. I am glad to get a letter from one who has had this problem to face. Her advice differs from mine, however.

"Dear Mrs. Lee: I would like to answer the letter of the girl who has to choose between her lover and her mother. I can answer this out of experience on my own life. Up to the age of 11 I had everything a girl could wish for, with the promise of a brilliant future. I expected to go through college and branch out into something beyond the humdrum life of housekeeping. My father's death changed all that, and in my 12th year my mother was stricken down with neuritis and became a helpless invalid. Three months after that my eldest sister's husband died, leaving her with three small children to support. They also made their home with my mother, while their own mother entered a training school for nursing so as to support and educate them. I was the little mother of the home. Well, God gave me strength to do it. My only amusement consisted of reading. I spent 15 years thus. My nieces went through school and college and not one thought of giving me time to go on with my education. Finally I took a dressmaking course and made money enough to feel independent. My mother's friends were always my friends, and I could have married early if I had been unfaithful to the trust God had placed in me. When my mother no longer needed me and my sister's children were educated, I married a good man who had waited eight years for me.

"Do your duty" is the motto. Other lovers come as he goes. You can get another lover, but you'll never get another mother. And the spiritual satisfaction of a duty well done will always be yours. Now I am happy with a husband and two sons. Do you think I would have been happier if I had run away from my duty and developed my own life earlier? I'm sure I would not have been."

"DUTY."

In your case the sacrifice was necessary and you were still young when you were freed. One could not be happy in deserting loved ones who needed one, but so often, as I stated before, one could not be spared if the family was unwilling to accept the sacrifice unless it was absolutely necessary.

Morwenna: The ring is only the symbol of the engagement, dear, and your fiancé probably has not felt he could afford to give you one yet, but probably will when he can. In the meantime you have the other ring between you and the chest. The understanding is between you and the young man, and you both have nothing to do with it. If you really love him you will have faith that he will keep the vow as you are doing. You cannot altogether avoid the teasing and embarrassment. No one ever does, not even when the engagement is publicly announced. I think your fiancé's attitude is very nice and thoughtful of you, however, and if you and your fiancée could come to an understanding so that you were both free to go with others, letting them know that you were engaged, of course, it would make life easier for you, as well as quieting your brothers' fear that you may change toward your fiancé. This is a matter for you two to decide, however.

how-like enough to hold their precious burdens nor in choosing just the shades of mosses that will match the rocks on which they are to rest. It would take a bright eye to discover Gull's nest, I can tell you."

Next—"Baby Sea Gull" For are just round and shell-like and

"My, how homesick you are making me!" declared another Gull, hanging his head dejectedly. "This is the first year since I was married that I have not watched the children growing up."

"Why did I ever leave home at this season? Do any of you fellows know anything lovelier to look upon than the eggs that our wives lay? Are there any others in all the world of such lovely shades of blue and gray, or so faintly painted in brown and blue and purple? How pretty they look lying in the nests with the sun shining upon them!"

"Can any one truthfully say that there are any better nests than those of the Gull? No other birds take such care in weaving and winding the moss, and the seaweed together until they

NEVER HAD THE LEAST IDEA THAT THE TWO-LEGS EVER NOTICED US BIRDS OF THE SEA.

RESERVES TO MEET
DAYTON ALL-STARS
IN TWO-GAME SERIES

Reserves will open a two-game series next Sunday afternoon with the All-Stars, a baseball team from the colored Y. M. C. A. of Dayton, it is announced.

The Dayton team is exactly what its name implies, according to Manager Jesse Chambliss, as it will draw its players from all parts of the country and will not be confined to talent from Dayton or nearby cities.

It is planned to close the season following the coming series. However, if the Dayton nine does not provide interesting competition for the Reserves in the opener Sunday, the local management will probably cancel the remaining game and book the Dayton Yellow-Jackets for the concluding contest the following Sunday.

Don Clark, Dayton hurler, who registered thirty strike-outs in defeating the Springfield Eddie Tailors on successive Sundays, will not be available to pitch Sunday but Manager Chambliss is dickering for the services of another twirler, said to be equally as good.

JAMESTOWN MEETS
SOUTH VIENNA TEAM

The Jamestown baseball team, will strive for another victory when they meet the strong South Vienna nine, at Price Park, Jamestown, Sunday afternoon in what will probably be the last game of the season for Jamestown.

In comparison, the teams should be evenly matched. South Vienna has defeated most every team in Clark County this season, while Jamestown has defeated most every team in Greene County this season.

Sportistory

Wednesday, Oct. 3

1901—The American yacht Columbia beats the British yacht Shamrock for the second time in the America's cup races.

1902—Tommy Ryan knocks out Barney Walsh in two rounds at Kansas City, Mo.

1903—World series, third game: Pittsburgh Nationals, 4; Boston Americans, 2. Batteries—Phillips and Phelps; Hughes, Young and Craig.

1913—Tom McCormick, one-time welter champ of England, kayoes Sgt. Baker in two rounds at Plymouth, England.

1919—World series, third game: Chicago Americans, 3; Cincinnati Nationals, 0. Batteries—Kerr and Schalk; Fisher, Laque and Rariden.

1925—Babe Ruth hits his 25th and final home run of the season.

EAST END NEWS

The Zion Baptist Missionary will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. D. Hilliard, E. Main St.

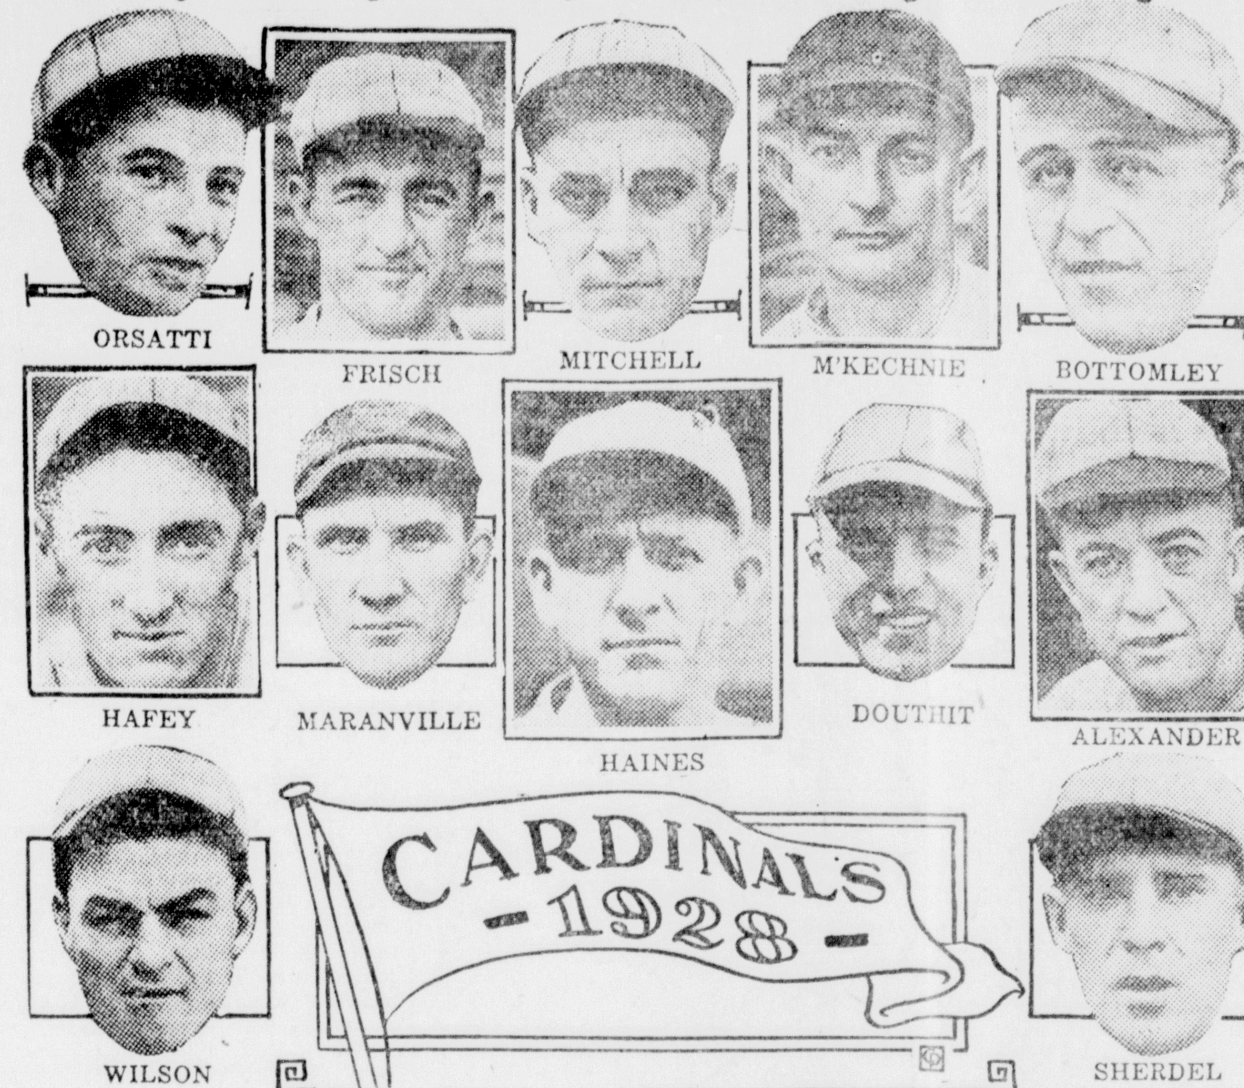

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Hutchinson, pastor of the St. John's A. M. E. Church, Dr. and Mrs. P. A. Nichols, presiding elders and Mrs. Ophelia Rogers, left Tuesday morning for Portsmouth, O., to attend the southern Ohio conference in session there this week with the A. M. E. Church of which the Rev. W. E. Lewis is pastor.

Mr. William Hargraves, teacher of mathematics and science in East High School had as his Sunday visitors, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hammond A. Hargraves, his brother, Mr. Langford Hargraves and Miss Lulu Barry and little sister, Miss Edith, all of Oxford, Ohio. While here they were all entertained at dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Granville Bramblett, E. Market St. They visited friends at Wilberforce in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stewart and daughter Ellen of Greenfield, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. G. Bramblett, E. Market St.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hawkins of Florida, were the week end guests of his mother, Mrs. Jennie Gilbert and brother, Mr. J. C. Hawkins, E. Market St.

CHAMPIONS!

Yellow Springs

Judson Wilson, 68, died Thursday morning at the city hospital in Springfield, where he had been ill for several weeks. The funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Littleton funeral parlors by the I. O. O. F. Lodge of which he was a member. Burial was in Glen Forest Cemetery.

Mrs. A. C. Swinnerton went to Xenia, Friday, where she had a tonsil operation. She was able to return home Saturday.

Rally Day was observed in the Sunday School of the Presbyterian Church Sunday. The primary department had charge of the exercises. At this time promotion of classes took place.

Mrs. L. L. Taylor spent the past week in Painesville, the guest of her daughter, Mary. Mary returned home with her Saturday returning to Painesville Sunday where she is instructor of music in the schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee moved into the Downey bungalow on Xenia Ave., Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lucas moved into the house vacated by the Lees, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Johnson (Anna Fleckenstein) returned Friday

from their wedding trip. They are residing at the Fleckenstein home on Walnut Street.

Mrs. Charles Birch had the misfortune to fall and dislocate her shoulder Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Morelock and daughter, Mrs. T. Neil Jones, of Paducah, Ky., spent the week end with Mrs. Morelock's sister, Miss Irene Hawes.

Miss Anna Jacobs spent the week end with relatives in Springfield, Ohio.

Miss Jean Carr has accepted a position with the Antioch Press. Miss Carr has taken charge of the work Miss Fleckenstein gave up when she became Mrs. Joe Johnson.

Mrs. George Drake is in Cleveland visiting her daughter, Mrs. Wilbur Corry.

David Fitz and his sister, Mrs. Leon Trader of Xenia, motored to Jefferson City, Mo., where they spent a week with their brother, Mr. Eichman and family. Miss Katherine Fitz who has been there for the past three weeks returned home with them Saturday.

Mrs. O'Hara of Clifton and sister, Mrs. Issler, of Springfield, have moved here and are living in the Young property on Limestone St.

SUCCEEDS BURTON

Albert Duprey, Columbus, O., service officer of the American Legion of Ohio, was appointed Tuesday to succeed Lieut. Col. Charles V. Burton as manager of the central claims bureau in Cleveland, O. The appointment is to become effective immediately.

Burton is now superintendent of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home at Xenia. His home is in Cleveland, O.

MAYOR'S COURT

RETURNED TO DAYTON
Harry Robinette, 50, and John Barwise, 50, residents of the National Military Home at Dayton, arrested Tuesday night on intoxication charges by Patrolmen Charles Thompson and George Robinson, were each given suspended fines of $25 and costs and suspended sentences of ten days in the County Jail Wednesday by Mayor John W. Prugh, who then ordered them sent back to the Dayton institution.

DURNBAUGH LOSES GROUND BUT STILL LEADS RESERVE HITTERS

Falling to hit safely in four times at bat Sunday, Durnbaugh clipped seventeen points off his season's batting average but still leads the Reserve hitters by a wide margin with a mark of .397. The team batting average dropped four points to .314. Batting records follow:

| Player | AB | R | H | SB | 2B | 3B | HR | Pct. |
|-------------|-----|-----|-----|----|----|----|----|------|
| H. Frank | 9 | 2 | 5 | 1 | 2 | 0 | 0 | .555 |
| B. Frank | 4 | 2 | 2 | 0 | 2 | 0 | 0 | .500 |
| D. Pierce | 6 | 3 | 3 | 3 | 0 | 0 | 0 | .500 |
| Lang | 2 | 1 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | .500 |
| Klee | 12 | 4 | 5 | 3 | 1 | 1 | 1 | .416 |
| Durnbaugh | 98 | 27 | 39 | 12 | 3 | 5 | 8 | .397 |
| Conley | 92 | 32 | 33 | 7 | 2 | 4 | 5 | .358 |
| Weller | 75 | 24 | 26 | 3 | 5 | 3 | 0 | .346 |
| Barlow | 84 | 24 | 29 | 7 | 10 | 0 | 0 | .345 |
| Benson | 3 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | .333 |
| Johnson | 82 | 22 | 26 | 8 | 3 | 0 | 0 | .317 |
| S. Tangeman | 84 | 20 | 26 | 7 | 8 | 3 | 2 | .309 |
| Fisher | 26 | 11 | 8 | 2 | 1 | 1 | 1 | .307 |
| Schliff | 64 | 13 | 17 | 2 | 2 | 1 | 1 | .265 |
| McMichael | 50 | 10 | 13 | 2 | 5 | 0 | 0 | .260 |
| Cyphers | 82 | 9 | 21 | 5 | 4 | 0 | 0 | .256 |
| Clark | 8 | 1 | 2 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 0 | .250 |
| Randall | 9 | 2 | 2 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 | .222 |
| Furnas | 14 | 3 | 3 | 2 | 0 | 0 | 0 | .214 |
| Wirtz | 5 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 0 | .200 |
| Coy | 18 | 5 | 3 | 1 | 1 | 0 | 0 | .166 |
| J. Tangeman | 8 | 1 | 1 | 1 | 1 | 0 | 0 | .125 |
| K. Pierce | 4 | 1 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 | .000 |
| Eckert | 3 | 1 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 | .000 |
| D. Cyphers | 3 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | .000 |
| Sanford | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | .000 |
| Totals | 854 | 219 | 269 | 70 | 51 | 19 | 18 | .314 |

GRID CAPTAINS

AL LASSMAN

Al Lassman, giant tackle of the New York University eleven, is leading that team on the gridiron this fall.

Up to the time of his injury, when he broke his leg in the scoreless tie with Colgate last season, Al was a tower of strength in the line.

He is six feet four inches tall and weighs 210 pounds.

GRANTED DIVORCE

Vivian D. Beatty has been granted a divorce from Clark A. Beatty in Clark County common pleas court, Springfield, on the grounds of gross neglect of duty. The plaintiff was given exclusive custody of the children. They are former Xenians.

DAILY MARKETS

LIVE STOCK

XENIA LIVESTOCK

| | |
|--------------|---------------|
| Lights | $ 9.50@ 9.75 |
| Mediums | 10.00@ 10.40 |
| Heavyweights | 10.00@ 10.40 |
| Pigs | 9.50@ 9.75 |
| Calves | 12.00@ 17.00 |
| Roughs | 9.50@ 10.75 |
| Sheep | 4.75 |
| Lambs | 10.50@ 11.50 |

DAYTON LIVESTOCK

Receipts, 4 cars; mkt., 10@25c higher.

| | |
|----------------------------|------------|
| Ex-heavyweights, 350 lbs. | $11.00 |
| Heavyweights, 275-300 lbs. | 11.25 |
| Heavyweights, 225-275 lbs. | 11.25 |
| Mediums, 150-200 lbs. | 10.75 |
| Lights, 140-175 lbs. | 10.00 |
| Sows | 8.50@ 9.50 |
| Pigs, 140 lbs. down | 8.00@ 9.00 |
| Stags | 6.00@ 7.00 |

CATTLE

Receipts, light; mkt., steady.

| | |
|---------------------|----------------|
| Best butcher steers | $12.50@ 14.00 |
| Med. butcher steers | 10.50@ 12.50 |
| Best fat heifers | 10.50@ 12.50 |
| Best fat cows | 8.00@ 9.00 |
| Medium heifers | 8.00@ 10.00 |
| Boisogna cows | 4.50@ 5.50 |
| Bulls | 7.50@ 9.00 |
| Veal calves | 8.00@ 16.00 |

Medium cows 11.00@ 7.50

SHEEP

Sheep $ 2.00@ 5.00
Spring Lambs 9.00@ 11.00

PRODUCE

CHICAGO BUTTER

CLEVELAND PRODUCE

CLEVELAND, Oct. 2.—
CLEVELAND, Oct. 3.—Potatoes: 150 lb. sacks, round whites, Michigan, $1.90@2.10; mostly $2; Wis. and Minn., $2@2.10; Maine and W. Va., and Ohio, $2.15@2.25. Poultry: Heavy fowls, 31@32c; Leghorns, 23@25c; heavy springers, 33@35c; Leghorn springers, 29@31c; ducks, 23@25c; young geese, 20@22c; old, 15c@17c; old cocks, 16@18c.
Butter: Extras in tub lots, 50@52c; extra firsts, 46@48 1-2c; seconds, 42 1-2@44 1-2c.
Eggs: Extras, 39c a doz.; extra firsts, 38c; firsts, 34c; ordinaries, 30c.

DAYTON GRAIN

Corn, per cwt., $1.45.
Wheat, No. 1, per bu., $1.38.
Rye, No. 2, per bu., $1.00.
Oats, No. 2, per bu., 40c.

DAYTON PRODUCE

Wholesale Eggs
Fresh Eggs, per dozen 37c
Retail Price

Fresh Eggs, per dozen 40c
Butter, per lb. 38c
Live Roosters, per pound 20c
1928 Fries, 1-2 lbs. 33c
Hens, per pound 40c
Spring Ducks 40c

Prices Being Paid at Plant for Live Poultry and Eggs
Hens, per pound 24c
Leghorn hens, 4 pounds up 18c
1928 Fries, 1-2 lbs. 33c
Eggs, per dozen 33c
Spring Ducks, per lb. 18c
(By Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Producers Ass'n)

Butter, per lb. 51c
XENIA
Leghorns, 15c.
Good hens, 32c.
Eggs, 32c.
Good springers, 27c.
Leghorn springers, 20c.

FOR FIFTY YEARS

Cuticura

Soap and Ointment

has afforded the purest, sweetest and most satisfactory method of caring for the skin and hair.

Fleischmann's

Pleasant, healing, Liquid Zemo massaged into the scalp destroys dandruff. Irritations, soreness and itching frequently disappear overnight. Zemo penetrates, soothes and cleanses the scalp, keeps it healthy and prevents dandruff. It is a clean, safe, healing liquid—and the sure way to eradicate and prevent itching scalp and dandruff. All druggists—35c, 60c, $1.00.

ZEMO

FOR SKIN IRRITATIONS

COME TO McCOY'S

For Complete Specialized Motor Service

A SOUND INVESTMENT

Kelly
Springfield
Tires

When you buy Kelly Balloons you are buying long mileage at a much lower rate per mile than other tires and the price on Kellys is so low that any one can afford them. For Kelly's to fit any car see us.

CALL

Phone
51

For Road
Battery
And Tire
Service

TRY OUR ETHYL

AND

Loreco

GASOLINES

They Are Snappy

Winter Gases

Overhauled

Just like NEW!

THAT'S THE WAY YOUR MOTOR WILL RUN AFTER WE HAVE OVERHAULED IT. OUR MECHANICS ARE EXPERTS. DRIVE YOUR CAR IN TODAY BEFORE COLD WEATHER SETS IN

Notice Buick Owners

BE SURE TO GET OUR PRICES ON THAT REPAIR JOB BEFORE GOING ELSEWHERE. WE SPECIALIZE IN BUICK REPAIR.

SAVE MONEY

—WITH—

EXIDE
Batteries

As A Special Offer

FOR A LIMITED TIME
WE WILL PAY YOU

$3.00

FOR YOUR OLD
BATTERY ON A
NEW EXIDE

FILLING STATION

GARAGE

McCOY'S

CORNER GALLOWAY And MAIN STREETS

RESERVES TO MEET DAYTON ALL-STARS IN TWO-GAME SERIES

Reserves will open a two-game series next Sunday afternoon with the All-Stars, a baseball team from the colored Y. M. C. A. of Dayton, it is announced.

The Dayton team is exactly what its name implies, according to Manager Jesse Chambliss, as it will draw its players from all parts of the country and will not be confined to talent from Dayton or nearby cities.

It is planned to close the season following the coming series. However, if the Dayton nine does not provide interesting competition for the Reserves in the opener Sunday, the local management will probably cancel the remaining game and book the Dayton Yellow Jackets for the concluding contest the following Sunday.

Don Clark, Dayton hurler, who registered thirty strike-outs in defeating the Springfield Eddie Tailors on successive Sundays, will not be available to pitch Sunday but Manager Chambliss is dickering for the services of another twirler, said to be equally as good.

JAMESTOWN MEETS SOUTH VIENNA TEAM

The Jamestown baseball team will strive for another victory when they meet the strong South Vienna nine, at Price Park, Jamestown, Sunday afternoon in what will probably be the last game of the season for Jamestown.

In comparison, the teams should be evenly matched. South Vienna has defeated most every team in Clark County this season, while Jamestown has defeated most every team in Greene County this season.

Sportistory

Wednesday, Oct. 3

1901—The American yacht Columbia beats the British yacht Shamrock for the second time in the America's cup races.

1902—Tommy Ryan knocks out Barney Walsh in two rounds at Kansas City, Mo.

1903—World series, third game: Pittsburgh Nationals, 4; Boston Americans, 2. Batteries—Phillips and Phelps; Hughes, Young and Crisp.

1913—Tom McCormick, one-time welter champ of England, kayoes Sgt. Baker in two rounds at Plymouth, England.

1919—World series, third game: Chicago Americans, 3; Cincinnati Nationals, 0. Batteries—Kerr and Schalk; Fisher, Luque and Rariden.

1925—Babe Ruth hits his 25th and final home run of the season.

EAST END NEWS

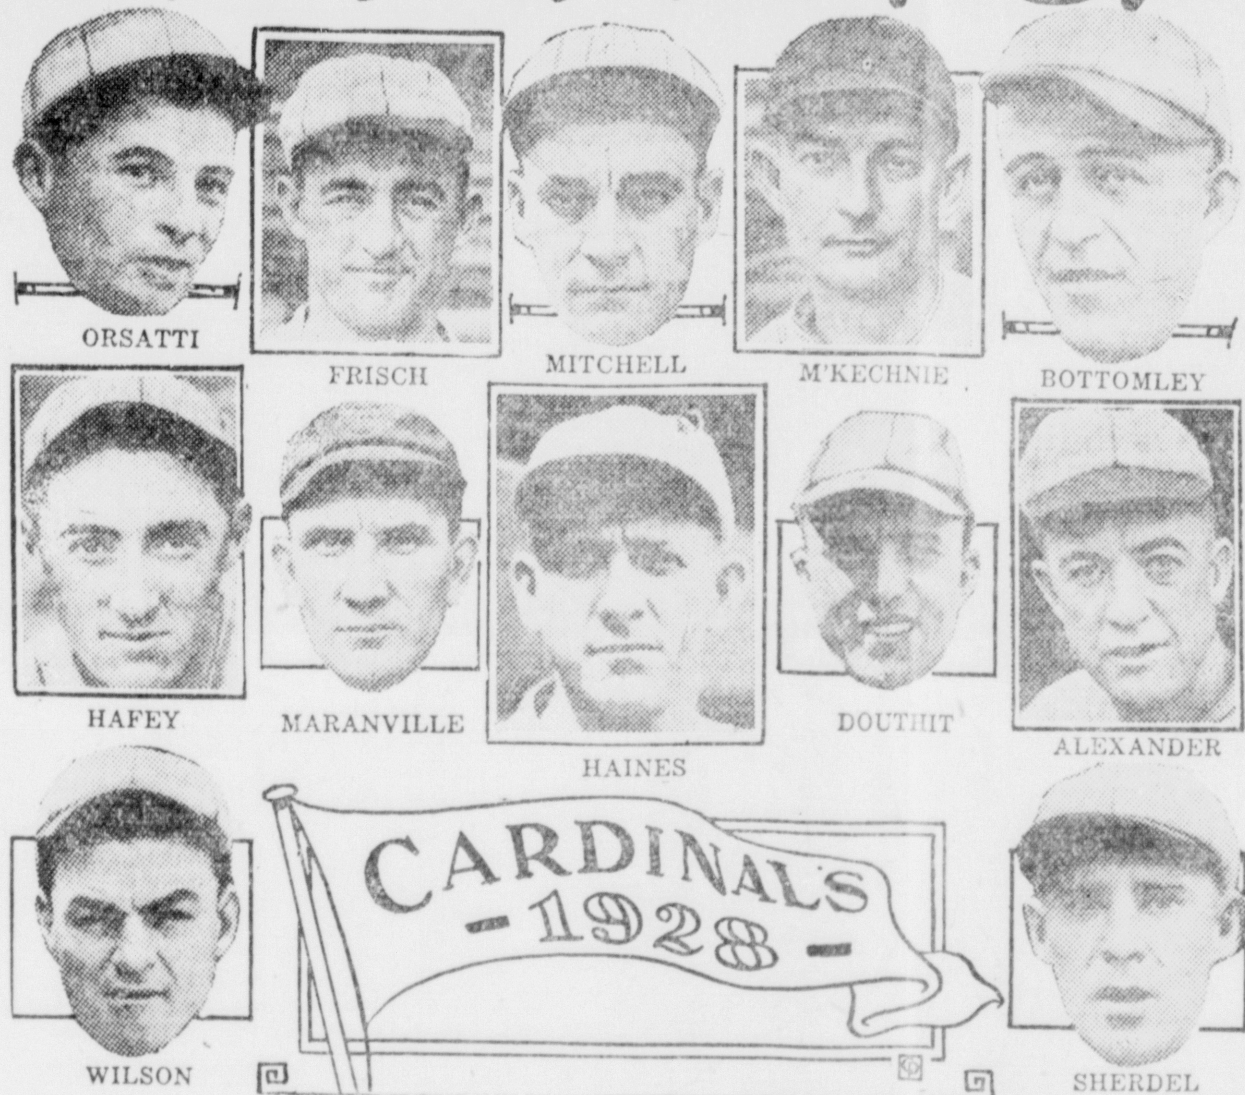

The Zion Baptist Missionary will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. D. Hilliard, E. Main St.

Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Hutchinson, pastor of the St. John's A. M. E. Church, Dr. and Mrs. P. A. Nichols, presiding elders and Mrs. Ophelia Rogers, left Tuesday morning for Portsmouth, O., to attend the southern Ohio conference in session there this week with the A. M. E. Church of which the Rev. W. E. Lewis is pastor.

Mr. William Hargraves, teacher of mathematics and science in East High School had as his Sunday visitors, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hammond A. Hargraves, his brother, Mr. Langford Hargraves and Miss Lulu Barry and little sister, Miss Edith, all of Oxford, Ohio. While here they were all entertained at dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Granville Bramblett, E. Market St. They visited friends at Wilberforce in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stewart and daughter Eileen of Greenfield, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. G. Bramblett, E. Market St. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hawkins of Florida, were the week end guests of his mother, Mrs. Jennie Gilbert and brother, Mr. J. C. Hawkins, E. Market St.

CHAMPIONS!

Yellow Springs

Judson Wilson, 68, died Thursday morning at the city hospital in Springfield, where he had been ill for several weeks. The funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Littleton funeral parlors by the I. O. O. F. Lodge of which he was a member. Burial was in Glen Forest Cemetery.

Mrs. A. C. Swinnerton went to Xenia, Friday, where she had a tonsil operation. She was able to return home Saturday.

Daily Day was observed in the Sunday School of the Presbyterian Church Sunday. The primary department had charge of the exercises. At this time promotion of classes took place.

Mrs. L. L. Taylor spent the past week in Painesville, the guest of her daughter, Mary. Mary returned home with her Saturday returning to Painesville Sunday where she is instructor of music in the schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee moved into the Downey bungalow on Xenia Ave., Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lucas moved into the house vacated by the Lees, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Johnson (Anna Fleckenstein) returned Friday

from their wedding trip. They are residing at the Fleckenstein home on Walnut Street.

Mrs. Charles Birch had the misfortune to fall and dislocate her shoulder Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Moredock and daughter, Mrs. T. Nell Jones, of Paducah, Ky., spent the week end with Mrs. Moredock's sister, Miss Irene Hawes.

Miss Anna Jacobs spent the week end with relatives in Springfield, Ohio.

Miss Jean Carr has accepted a position with the Antioch Press. Miss Carr has taken charge of the work Miss Fleckenstein gave up when she became Mrs. Joe Johnson.

Mrs. George Drake is in Cleveland visiting her daughter, Mrs. Wilbur Corry.

David Pittz and his sister, Mrs. Leon Trader of Xenia, motored to Jefferson City, Mo., where they spent a week with their brother, Mr. Eichman and family. Miss Katherine Pittz who has been there for the past three weeks returned home with them Saturday.

Mrs. O'Hara of Clifton and sister, Mrs. Isler, of Springfield, have moved here and are living in the Young property on Limestone St.

SUCCEEDS BURTON

Albert Duprey, Columbus, O., service officer of the American Legion of Ohio, was appointed Tuesday to succeed Lieut. Col. Charles V. Burton as manager of the central claims bureau in Cleveland, O. The appointment is to become effective immediately.

Burton is now superintendent of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphan's Home at Xenia. His home is in Cleveland, O.

MAYOR'S COURT

RETURNED TO DAYTON
Harry Robinson, 50, and John Barwise, 50, residents of the National Military Home at Dayton, arrested Tuesday night on intoxication charges by Patrolmen Charles Thompson and George Robinson, were each given suspended fines of $25 and costs and suspended sentences of ten days in the County Jail Wednesday by Mayor John W. Prugh, who then ordered them sent back to the Dayton institution.

DURNBAUGH LOSES GROUND BUT STILL LEADS RESERVE HITTERS

Falling to hit safely in four times at bat Sunday, Durnbaugh clipped seventeen points off his season's batting average but still leads the Reserve hitters by a wide margin with a mark of .397. The team batting average dropped four points to .314. Batting records follow:

| Player | AB | R | H | SB | 2B | 3B | HR | Pct. |
|-------------|-----|-----|-----|----|----|----|----|------|
| H. Frank | 9 | 2 | 5 | 1 | 2 | 0 | 0 | .555 |
| B. Frank | 4 | 2 | 0 | 2 | 0 | 0 | 0 | .500 |
| D. Pierce | 6 | 3 | 3 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | .500 |
| Lang | 2 | 1 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | .500 |
| Klee | 12 | 4 | 5 | 3 | 1 | 1 | 1 | .416 |
| Durnbaugh | 98 | 27 | 39 | 12 | 3 | 5 | 8 | .397 |
| Conley | 92 | 32 | 33 | 7 | 2 | 4 | 5 | .358 |
| Weller | 75 | 24 | 26 | 3 | 5 | 3 | 0 | .346 |
| Barlow | 84 | 24 | 29 | 7 | 10 | 0 | 0 | .345 |
| Benson | 3 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | .333 |
| Johnson | 82 | 22 | 26 | 8 | 3 | 0 | 0 | .317 |
| S. Tangeman | 84 | 20 | 26 | 7 | 8 | 3 | 2 | .309 |
| Fisher | 26 | 11 | 8 | 2 | 1 | 1 | 1 | .307 |
| Schlipf | 64 | 13 | 17 | 2 | 1 | 1 | 1 | .265 |
| McMichael | 50 | 10 | 13 | 2 | 5 | 0 | 0 | .260 |
| Cyphers | 82 | 9 | 21 | 5 | 4 | 0 | 0 | .256 |
| Clark | 8 | 1 | 2 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 0 | .250 |
| Randall | 8 | 0 | 2 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 | .250 |
| Furnas | 9 | 2 | 2 | 1 | 0 | 1 | 0 | .222 |
| Wirtz | 14 | 3 | 3 | 2 | 0 | 0 | 0 | .214 |
| Hopkins | 5 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 0 | .200 |
| Coy | 18 | 5 | 3 | 1 | 1 | 0 | 0 | .166 |
| J. Tangeman | 8 | 1 | 1 | 1 | 1 | 0 | 0 | .125 |
| K. Pierce | 4 | 1 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 | .000 |
| Eckert | 3 | 1 | 0 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 | .000 |
| D. Cyphers | 3 | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | .000 |
| Sanford | 1 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | 0 | .000 |
| Totals | 854 | 219 | 269 | 70 | 51 | 19 | 18 | .314 |

GRID CAPTAINS

Al Lassman, giant tackle of the New York University eleven, is leading that team on the gridiron this fall.

GRANTED DIVORCE
Vivian D. Beatty has been granted a divorce from Clark A. Beatty in Clark County common pleas court, Springfield, on the grounds of gross neglect of duty. The plaintiff was given exclusive custody of the children. They are former Xenians.

DAILY MARKETS

LIVE STOCK XENIA LIVESTOCK

| | | |
|---------|-------|---------------|
| Lights | | $ 9.50@ 9.75 |
| Mediums | | 10.00@ 10.40 |
| Heavies | | 10.00@ 10.40 |
| Pigs | | 9.50@ 9.75 |
| Calves | | 12.00@ 17.00 |
| Roughs | | 9.50@ 10.75 |
| Sheep | | 4.75 |
| Lambs | | 19.50@ 11.50 |

DAYTON LIVESTOCK

| | |
|--|------------|
| Receipts, 4 cars; mkt., 10@25c higher. | |
| Ex-heavy, 350 lbs. | $11.00 |
| Mediums, 275-300 lbs. | 11.25 |
| Heavies, 225-275 lbs. | 11.25 |
| Mediums, 160-200 lbs. | 10.75 |
| Lights, 140-175 lbs. | 10.00 |
| Sows | 8.50@ 9.50 |
| Pigs, 140 lbs. down | 8.00@ 9.00 |
| Stags | 6.00@ 7.00 |

CATTLE

| | |
|--------------------------------|----------------|
| Receipts, light; mkt., steady. | |
| Best butcher steers | $12.50@ 14.00 |
| Med. butcher steers | 10.50@ 12.50 |
| Best fat heifers | 10.50@ 12.50 |
| Best fat cows | 8.00@ 9.00 |
| Medium heifers | 8.00@ 10.00 |
| Polish cows | 4.50@ 6.50 |
| Bulls | 7.50@ 9.00 |
| Veal calves | 8.00@ 16.00 |

Medium cows: 5.50@ 7.50

SHEEP

| | | |
|--------------|-------|---------------|
| Sheep | | $ 2.00@ 5.00 |
| Spring Lambs | | 9.00@ 11.00 |

PRODUCE

CHICAGO BUTTER

CLEVELAND PRODUCE

CLEVELAND, Oct. 2.—
CLEVELAND, Oct. 3.—Potatoes: 150 lb. sacks, round whites, Michigan, $1.90@2.10; mostly $2; Wis. and Minn., $2@2.10; Maine and W. Va., and Ohio, $2.15@2.25. Poultry: Heavy fowls, 31@32c; leghorns, 23@25c; heavy springers, 32@35c; leghorn springers, 29@31c; ducks, 23@25c; young geese, 20@22c; old, 15c@17c; old cocks, 16@18c.
Butter: Extras in tub lots, 50@52c; extra firsts, 40@48 1-2c; seconds, 42 1-2@44 1-2c.
Eggs: Extras, 39c a doz.; extra firsts, 38c; firsts, 34c; ordinaries, 30c.

DAYTON GRAIN

Wheat, No. 1, per bu. $1.38.
Rye, No. 2, per bu. $1.00.
Oats, No. 2, per bu. 40c.
DAYTON PRODUCE

Wholesale Eggs
Fresh Eggs, per dozen 37c
Retail Price

Fresh Eggs, per dozen 40c
Butter, per lb. 58c
Live Roosters, per pound 20c
1928 Fries, 4 pounds up 50c
Hens, per pound 40c
Spring Ducks 40c

Prices Being Paid at Plant for Live Poultry and Eggs

Hens, per pound 24c
Leghorn hens, 4 pounds up 18c
1928 Fries, 2 1-2 lbs. 23c
Eggs, per dozen 33c
Spring Ducks, per lb. 18c
(By Miami Valley Co-operative Milk Producers Ass'n)
Butter, per lb. 51c
XENIA
Leghorns, 15c.
Good hens, 23c.
Eggs, 32c.
Good springers, 27c.
Leghorn springers, 20c.

FOR FIFTY YEARS

Cuticura

Soap and Ointment
have afforded the purest, sweetest and most satisfactory method of caring for the skin and hair.

Prevent Dandruff

Pleasant, healing, Liquid Zemo massaged into the scalp destroys dandruff. Irritations, soreness and itching frequently disappear overnight. Zemo penetrates, soothes and cleanses the scalp, keeps it healthy and prevents dandruff. It is a clean, safe healing liquid—and the sure way to eradicate and prevent itching scalp and dandruff. All druggists—35c, 60c, $1.00.

Zemo

FOR SKIN IRRITATIONS

COME TO McCOY'S

For Complete Specialized Motor Service

A SOUND INVESTMENT

Kelly
Springfield
Tires

When you buy Kelly Balloons you are buying long mileage at a much lower rate per mile than other tires and the price on Kelly's is so low that any one can afford them. For Kelly's to fit any car see us.

CALL

Phone
51

For Road
Battery
And Tire
Service

TRY OUR ETHYL

AND

Loreco

GASOLINES

They Are Snappy

Winter Gases

Overhauled

THAT'S THE WAY YOUR MOTOR WILL RUN AFTER WE HAVE OVERHAULED IT. OUR MECHANICS ARE EXPERTS. DRIVE YOUR CAR IN TODAY BEFORE COLD WEATHER SETS IN

Notice Buick Owners

BE SURE TO GET OUR PRICES ON THAT REPAIR JOB BEFORE GOING ELSEWHERE. WE SPECIALIZE IN BUICK REPAIR.

McCOY'S

CORNER GALLOWAY AND MAIN STREETS

SAVE MONEY

—WITH—

EXIDE

Batteries

As A Special Offer

FOR A LIMITED TIME
WE WILL PAY YOU

$3.00

FOR YOUR OLD
BATTERY ON A
NEW EXIDE

FILLING STATION

GARAGE

Try the THE MARKET-PLACE of the MULTITUDE Use the

Classified - to Buy - Sell - Trade - Rent - Lease - Invest or Find - TELEPHONE

Classified Advertising

THE GAZETTE IS THE MEDIUM

through which the general public can always have its wants supplied.

THE GAZETTE will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of an advertisement.

Notice of errors, typographical or otherwise, must be given in time for correction before next insertion.

Advertisements are restricted to proper classification style and type.

THE GAZETTE reserves the right to edit or reject any advertisement.

Closing time for classified advertisement for publication the same day is 9:30 a. m.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

1. Death Notices.
2. Card of Thanks.
3. In Memoriam.
4. Florists, Monuments.
5. Taxi Service.
6. Notices, Meetings.
7. Personal.
8. Lost and Found.

BUSINESS CARDS

9. Cleaning, Dressing, Laundering.
10. Dressmaking, Millinery.
11. Beauty Culture.
12. Professional Services.
13. Roofing, Plumbing, Heating.
14. Electricians, Wiring.
15. Building, Contracting.
16. Painting, Papering.
17. Repairing, Refinishing.
18. Commercial Handling, Storage.

EMPLOYMENT

19. Help Wanted—Male.
20. Help Wanted—Female.
21. Help Wanted—Male or Female.
22. Help Wanted—Agents, Salesmen.
23. Situations Wanted.
24. Help Wanted—Instruction.

LIVE STOCK—POULTRY—PETS

25. Dogs—Canaries—Pets.
26. Poultry—Eggs—Supplies.
27. Horses—Cattle—Hogs.
28. Miscellaneous.
29. Miscellaneous For Sale.
30. Musical Instruments—Radio.
31. Household Goods.
32. Wearing Apparel—Shoes.
33. Groceries—Meats.

RENTALS

34. Where To Eat.
35. Rooms—With Board.
36. Rooms For Rent—Furnished.
37. Rooms For Rent—Unfurnished.
38. Houses—Flat—Unfurnished.
39. Houses—Flat—Furnished.
40. Office and Desk Rooms.
41. Miscellaneous For Rent.
42. Wanted to Rent.
43. REAL ESTATE
44. Houses For Sale.
45. Lots For Sale.
46. Real Estate For Exchange.
47. Farms For Sale.
48. Business Opportunities.
49. Wanted Real Estate.
50. AUTOMOTIVE
51. Automobile Insurance.
52. Auto Laundries—Painting.
53. Tires—Tubes—Batteries.
54. Parts—Service—Repairing.
55. Motorcycle—Bicycles.
56. Auto Agencies.
57. Used Cars For Sale.
58. PUBLIC SALES
59. Auctioneers.
60. Auction Sales.

2 Card of Thanks

WE WISH TO THANK all of the kind friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy extended us during the sickness and death of our dear mother, the late Julia Ann Coffelt. Also for the beautiful floral offerings. C. W. Coffelt, Mrs. James Hubbard, Mrs. Frank Buck, Mrs. J. C. Bingham.

4 Florists, Monuments

CUT FLOWERS—Also trees, shrubs and perennials. R. O. Douglas, Phone 549-W. Cor. Washington and Monroe Sts.

8 Lost and Found

LOST—Sun, night, between Spring Valley and Xenia, child's black suit-case. Leave at 305 W. Market. Mrs. Boyce, Reward.

FOUND—Automobile tire, rim and carrier for Ford truck. License P-C 12437. Phone County 15-R-4.

LOST—Mon., a small coin purse in business section of town. Reward. Leave at Gazette Office.

12 Professional Services

Improving Sight
Relieving Nerve Strain
That's what Our Glasses are doing
TIFFANY, REG. OPT.

12 Professional Services

RADIO REPAIRING—Supplies and service calls. Galloway Radio and Electric Shop. Phone 46-W. N. King St.

13 Roofing, Plumbing

PIPES—Valves and fittings for all purposes. Bocklet's line of plumbing and heating supplies are the best. The Bocklet-King Co. 415 W. Main St.

18 Commercial Hauling

HAULING DAILY. Dayton to Xenia. Xenia to Wilmington. House to house delivery. Jesse E. Gilbert.

23 Situations Wanted

WANTED—Cistern cleaning; now is the time. Also repair work done. Phone 669-R.

22 Help Wanted—Agents

WANTED

Experienced Salesman
The National Refining has an opening for a salesman to work local territory.
See Mr. Sams at Cherry Hotel, Washington C. H.

25 Dogs—Canaries—Pets

CANARY BIRDS for sale, guaranteed singers, $3.00 and $3.50 while they last. Phone 766 or 1015 W. Second St.

27 Horses—Cattle—Hogs

DUROC HOG SALE Thursday, Oct. 25th. We will sell 50 head of boars, sows and gilts. Sale at Cedar-Vale Farm. Send for catalog. R. C. Watt and Son, Cedarville, O.

PURE BRED big type Poland-China male pigs. Loren Johnson, R. No. 4, Xenia, O.

FOR SALE—Fresh cow with heifer calf. H. E. Fulkerson. Phone County 26-F-4.

FOR SALE—Two one-year-old Delaware rams, good ones. County 95-2. T. C. Wolford.

29 Miscellaneous For Sale

FOR SALE—Baby bed, high chair, go-cart, two men's overcoats, antique table and chest. Phone 372-W.

THE CHICKEN MILL will run Friday of each week instead of Thursdays. Sarah Harner, County 29-F-21.

WOOD—Any size and length, $1.00 and $2.00 per load. 2 yr. old dairy manure for flowers and gardens, $1.00 and $2.00 per load. Ph. 669-R or call at 339 E. Third.

HAND-MADE willow baby bed for sale. Also willow baskets and chairs re-caned. 113 Bellbrook Ave.

PEARS FOR SALE at John Harbison's farm, Wilmington Pike. Phone County 82-F-5. 75c per bu.

FOR SALE—100 bu. of re-cleaned wheat at $1.50 per bu. Phone 748 Thurman Barley.

FOR SALE—Trumbull seed wheat, $1.50 per bu. Phone 20-K-4, Spring Valley.

FURNITURE SALE—Saturday afternoon only beds, tables, chairs and other things. John Harbison, Allen Bldg.

30—Musical—Radio

PIANOS FOR SALE—$5.00 monthly. John Harbison, Allen Building.

36 Rooms—Furnished

2 ROOMS furnished for light house-keeping. Inquire 239 E. Third or Phone 265-R.

37 Rooms—Unfurnished

SEVERAL nice rooms for rent. Northwest corner of Detroit and Third Sts. Phone 216-R.

38 Houses—Unfurnished

5 ROOM modern cottage for rent. See Dr. A. C. Messenger, No. 4 East Second St.

FOR RENT—5 room house, gas, garage, big garden, $17. Also 7 room house, new paint and paper, gas, electricity, water and toilet inside, garden, 4 1/2 blocks to Court House, $20. M. J. Behb, 32 E. Market St.

43 Houses For Sale

DESIRABLE modern home. Good location. Newly decorated. Shrubbery. Garage. Will sell under $5,000. See this home before buying. Phone 667-W.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

MONEY TO LOAN ON EASY PAYMENTS

On any kind of security you have to offer—HOUSEHOLD GOODS, LIVESTOCK or AUTOMOBILES.

AMERICAN LOAN CO.
Steele Bldg. Terms 4 Mo. To 4 Yrs.

46 Farms For Sale

CHattel Loans. Notes Bought. Second Mortgages. John Harbison, Allen Building.

47 Business Opportunities

WE HAVE for sale several small farms, close in around Xenia and other towns, city properties of all descriptions, priced to sell. Harbison & Bales, 17 Allen Bldg.

FARM LOANS at five per cent. John Harbison, Allen Building.

TEACHERS DISCUSS PROBLEMS AT FIRST MEETING LAST WEEK

Teachers of Xenia Twp., held their first meeting of the school term last Friday in the office of the board of education. Helen Smith, chairman and Dorothy B. Pawcett, secretary, were in charge of the meeting. The teachers took part in a discussion of the following subjects: "The Teacher's Responsibility in Reference to the Care of Text Books and other School Property," Cora Matthews, J. A. White.

"Profitable Seat Work for Grades One and Two," Mrs. Mary McCollum, Reva Cavender.

"How Are We Finding the Work of the New Arithmetic and English," "Are the Teachers' Manuals Proving Helpful," Faye Murry, Elizabeth M. Hampton, Dorothy Quay.

A general discussion followed each subject. A question box, in which each teacher had placed a question of general importance, was an interesting feature of the program. Mrs. Mary McCollum and Miss Elizabeth Ray were selected as chairman and secretary for the October meeting.

ELEAZER

Mr. and Mrs. Asber Mann, Ashley, O., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Masen, and Mrs. Mina Oglesbee.

Mrs. Charley Lewis will entertain the Eleazer Aid Society Thursday afternoon.

Miss Ida Himmels, Columbus, is the guest of Mrs. L. H. Hartsock. Mr. Tip Hupman and Everett Hupman and son, spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hartsock and enjoyed hunting.

ISAAC SCHOLES IS REMOVED BY DEATH

Isaac Scholes, 74, former Xenian and father of Mrs. Fred C. Kelly, died at his home, 1205 S. Fountain Ave., Springfield, Tuesday at 6:20 p. m. He was well known in that city, where he had been employed as mail carrier thirty-one years.

Death was caused by heart disease. He had been ill several years.

Born in Denison, O., in 1854, Mr. Scholes moved to Xenia in 1874 and was engaged in the carpentry business here. He married Miss Letitia Taggart, sister of Thomas Taggart, French Lick, Ind., in 1876 and the following year moved to Springfield. In 1889 he became a letter carrier and served in that capacity until his retirement in 1920.

He leaves his widow and one daughter, Mrs. Kelly of Washington, D. C.

Funeral services will be held at his home Thursday at 2 p. m., with burial in Ferncliff Cemetery, Springfield.

First Radio Pastor

She had bought a pumpkin from Leo, the vegetable man, and turned it into a jack-o'-lantern for the center of Emmy's lunch table.

"You watch the supper," she added, as the struggle-bug's horn sounded from the street, "and if I'm not home by a quarter to seven, put it on the table. That's if your father here—" She hurried out into the brown dusk.

Mr. Milburn came home at half past six, with Perry. The chances were that if he did not come with Perry, he would not be home much before ten or eleven. Mrs. Milburn's last words to her son every morning when he left the house were: "Try to bring your father home with you to-night." There seemed to be some sort of secret understanding between them.

Tonight Mr. Milburn was very good-natured, very charming, quite the head of a family.

"Well, Mother certainly has the old place spick-and-span for the party, hasn't she?" he called out to Emmy from his arm chair in the sitting room. "She's a great one, Emmy! You can't beat her."

"She's a wonder," agreed Emmy, glancing in at him from the dining room where she was setting the table by the light of the Dying Gladiator.

He was very good looking in his immaculate white collar, with his red hair brushed straight back from a high square forehead. When she had bought a pumpkin from Leo, the vegetable man, and turned it into a jack-o'-lantern for the center of Emmy's lunch table.

"You watch the supper," she added, as the struggle-bug's horn sounded from the street, "and if I'm not home by a quarter to seven, put it on the table. That's if your father here—" She hurried out into the brown dusk.

Mr. Milburn came home at half past six, with Perry. The chances were that if he did not come with Perry, he would not be home much before ten or eleven. Mrs. Milburn's last words to her son every morning when he left the house were: "Try to bring your father home with you to-night." There seemed to be some sort of secret understanding between them.

Tonight Mr. Milburn was very good-natured, very charming, quite the head of a family.

"Well, Mother certainly has the old place spick-and-span for the party, hasn't she?" he called out to Emmy from his arm chair in the sitting room. "She's a great one, Emmy! You can't beat her."

"She's a wonder," agreed Emmy, glancing in at him from the dining room where she was setting the table by the light of the Dying Gladiator.

He was very good looking in his immaculate white collar, with his red hair brushed straight back from a high square forehead. When she had bought a pumpkin from Leo, the vegetable man, and turned it into a jack-o'-lantern for the center of Emmy's lunch table.

"You watch the supper," she added, as the struggle-bug's horn sounded from the street, "and if I'm not home by a quarter to seven, put it on the table. That's if your father here—" She hurried out into the brown dusk.

Mr. Milburn came home at half past six, with Perry. The chances were that if he did not come with Perry, he would not be home much before ten or eleven. Mrs. Milburn's last words to her son every morning when he left the house were: "Try to bring your father home with you to-night." There seemed to be some sort of secret understanding between them.

Tonight Mr. Milburn was very good-natured, very charming, quite the head of a family.

"Well, Mother certainly has the old place spick-and-span for the party, hasn't she?" he called out to Emmy from his arm chair in the sitting room. "She's a great one, Emmy! You can't beat her."

"She's a wonder," agreed Emmy, glancing in at him from the dining room where she was setting the table by the light of the Dying Gladiator.

He was very good looking in his immaculate white collar, with his red hair brushed straight back from a high square forehead. When she had bought a pumpkin from Leo, the vegetable man, and turned it into a jack-o'-lantern for the center of Emmy's lunch table.

"You watch the supper," she added, as the struggle-bug's horn sounded from the street, "and if I'm not home by a quarter to seven, put it on the table. That's if your father here—" She hurried out into the brown dusk.

The Little Yellow House

By BEATRICE BURTON -- RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSN. © 1928

READ THIS FIRST:

Over the poverty and discontent in the little yellow house broods a mother's love, which transmutes the dingy home to a palace of love and beauty. Emmy, the only daughter, is disappointed with her surroundings, envious of her wealthy relatives, eager to leave. There is quiet, hard-working Robb, who loves her, but who represents to her only a moneyless, boring future. She decides to get away from dingy Flower Street and live her own life in a little apartment of her own, where she can entertain as she likes. Mrs. Milburn, after a talk with her husband, decides to ask Uncle Bill Parks, who owns the house, if he will give it to them, since they have paid rent for twenty-five years.

Uncle Bill says to wait until he feels good enough to get down town to his office. He will then decide, Mrs. Milburn discovers her husband has taken Dan, the son, about fourteen years old, to a pool room.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV

"Oh, I do think so!" Mrs. Milburn's voice was hurried and full of apology. "I'm not saying a word about you, Charlie, I'm only asking you not to take Dan into pool rooms and such places, especially on Sundays. He seems so young—"

"He's nearly seventeen," the man interrupted her. "You leave him to me, I'll look after him. He's a Milburn all the way through, that kid. He's got red blood in him."

You can just bet you'll never be able to put him into art school and stick a drawing pencil into his lily-white hand!" Perry had gone to art school for a term, and his father never had got over it. He said no red-blooded man would ever be an artist.

"I don't want him to go to art school," Charlie, Mrs. Milburn's voice came, clear and low. "I just want him to grow up to be—decent. That's all."

Silence after that. Then Mrs. Milburn's voice once more: "You'd better take that jump downstairs and fill it, Rosy. There's not much oil in it, and I may wake up and want to read."

He often read at night. Detective stories and stories of the western plains in the romantic old days. Stories of "red-blooded" men. Dan read them, too—when he read any thing.

Mrs. Milburn began to get the house in readiness for Emmy's party a full week before the first Saturday in November.

She gave the stairs a fresh coat of white paint. She washed every curtain in the house. She pasted a piece of heavy paper over the place where the colored widow, who the stairs were broken; and with a few colors she painted it the pale pink of the glass itself. From her old brown "treasure" trunk in the attic, she brought a Spanish shawl of rich crimson silk and draped it over one end of the piano in the sitting room.

On Friday afternoon at half-past five Emmy walked into the house to find her all dressed to go out.

"Robb's going to drive me out beyond Center Row for some red leaves. If there are any left," she said. "And even if there aren't, there are sure to be some brown oak leaves and some chestnut berries. They'll look all right with that pumpkin."

She had bought a pumpkin from Leo, the vegetable man, and turned it into a jack-o'-lantern for the center of Emmy's lunch table.

"You watch the supper," she added, as the struggle-bug's horn sounded from the street, "and if I'm not home by a quarter to seven, put it on the table. That's if your father here—" She hurried out into the brown dusk.

Mr. Milburn came home at half past six, with Perry. The chances were that if he did not come with Perry, he would not be home much before ten or eleven. Mrs. Milburn's last words to her son every morning when he left the house were: "Try to bring your father home with you to-night." There seemed to be some sort of secret understanding between them.

Tonight Mr. Milburn was very good-natured, very charming, quite the head of a family.

"Well, Mother certainly has the old place spick-and-span for the party, hasn't she?" he called out to Emmy from his arm chair in the sitting room. "She's a great one, Emmy! You can't beat her."

"She's a wonder," agreed Emmy, glancing in at him from the dining room where she was setting the table by the light of the Dying Gladiator.

He was very good looking in his immaculate white collar, with his red hair brushed straight back from a high square forehead. When she had bought a pumpkin from Leo, the vegetable man, and turned it into a jack-o'-lantern for the center of Emmy's lunch table.

"You watch the supper," she added, as the struggle-bug's horn sounded from the street, "and if I'm not home by a quarter to seven, put it on the table. That's if your father here—" She hurried out into the brown dusk.

Mr. Milburn came home at half past six, with Perry. The chances were that if he did not come with Perry, he would not be home much before ten or eleven. Mrs. Milburn's last words to her son every morning when he left the house were: "Try to bring your father home with you to-night." There seemed to be some sort of secret understanding between them.

Tonight Mr. Milburn was very good-natured, very charming, quite the head of a family.

"Well, Mother certainly has the old place spick-and-span for the party, hasn't she?" he called out to Emmy from his arm chair in the sitting room. "She's a great one, Emmy! You can't beat her."

"She's a wonder," agreed Emmy, glancing in at him from the dining room where she was setting the table by the light of the Dying Gladiator.

He was very good looking in his immaculate white collar, with his red hair brushed straight back from a high square forehead. When she had bought a pumpkin from Leo, the vegetable man, and turned it into a jack-o'-lantern for the center of Emmy's lunch table.

"You watch the supper," she added, as the struggle-bug's horn sounded from the street, "and if I'm not home by a quarter to seven, put it on the table. That's if your father here—" She hurried out into the brown dusk.

Mr. Milburn came home at half past six, with Perry. The chances were that if he did not come with Perry, he would not be home much before ten or eleven. Mrs. Milburn's last words to her son every morning when he left the house were: "Try to bring your father home with you to-night." There seemed to be some sort of secret understanding between them.

Tonight Mr. Milburn was very good-natured, very charming, quite the head of a family.

"Well, Mother certainly has the old place spick-and-span for the party, hasn't she?" he called out to Emmy from his arm chair in the sitting room. "She's a great one, Emmy! You can't beat her."

"She's a wonder," agreed Emmy, glancing in at him from the dining room where she was setting the table by the light of the Dying Gladiator.

He was very good looking in his immaculate white collar, with his red hair brushed straight back from a high square forehead. When she had bought a pumpkin from Leo, the vegetable man, and turned it into a jack-o'-lantern for the center of Emmy's lunch table.

"You watch the supper," she added, as the struggle-bug's horn sounded from the street, "and if I'm not home by a quarter to seven, put it on the table. That's if your father here—" She hurried out into the brown dusk.

"I wish your father would come home."

nowadays, and he doesn't see very well—especially if he happens to have a headache or his eyes itchy. I worry about him."

A church clock, somewhere across the roofs, was striking midnight. It had a melancholy, ominous sound.

"I wish he would come home," she said again.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

On The Air From Cincinnati

WABC:

- 8:10—Scores, stocks, weather, time.
- 8:15—Book review.
- 8:30—Republican National Committee.
- 9:00—United Grand Opera Co. 10:00—Radio hour.
- 10:30—United Military Band.
- 11:00—Scores, weather, time.

WLW:

- 6:15—Markets, orchestra.
- 7:00—Tracy-Brown's Orchestra.
- 7:35—National Farm Council talk.
- 7:45—"Political Squatin To-night," E. W. Wie, Washington.
- 8:00—Warner Brothers Hour.
- 8:30—Sylvania Foresters, New York.
- 9:00—Smith Brothers Program.
- 9:30—Professor Kyrcek.
- 10:00—Weather.
- 10:15—Variety Hour, with Mary Zoller and Co.
- 10:30—McDowell Orchestra.
- 12:00—Larry Andrews, organist.
- 12:30—XAL (WLW) Testing on high power.

Try the THE MARKET-PLACE of the MULTITUDE Use the

CLASSIFIED - to Buy - Sell - Trade - Rent - Lease - Invest or Find - TELEPHONE

Classified Advertising

THE GAZETTE IS THE MEDIUM

through which the general public can always have its wants supplied.

THE GAZETTE will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of an advertisement.

Notice of errors, typographical or otherwise, must be given in time for correction before next insertion.

Advertisements are restricted to proper classification style and type.

THE GAZETTE reserves the right to edit or reject any advertisement.

Closing time for classified advertisement for publication the same day is 9:30 a. m.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

- 1 Death Notices.
- 2 Card of Thanks.
- 3 In Memoriam.
- 4 Florists; Monuments.
- 5 Taxi Service.
- 6 Notices, Meetings.
- 7 Personal.
- 8 Lost and Found.

BUSINESS CARDS

- 9 Cleaning, Pressing, Laundering.
- 10 Dressmaking, Millinery.
- 11 Beauty Culture.
- 12 Professional Services.
- 13 Roofing, Plumbing, Heating.
- 14 Electricians, Wiring.
- 15 Building, Contracting.
- 16 Painting, Papering.
- 17 Repairing, Refinishing.
- 18 Commercial Hauling, Storage.

EMPLOYMENT

- 19 Help Wanted—Male.
- 20 Help Wanted—Female.
- 21 Help Wanted—Male or Female.
- 22 Help Wanted—Agents, Salesmen.
- 23 Situations Wanted.
- 24 Help Wanted—Instruction.

LIVE STOCK—POULTRY—PETS

- 25 Dogs—Canaries—Pets.
- 26 Poultry—Lge—Supplies.
- 27 Horses—Cattle—Hogs.

MISCELLANEOUS

- 28 Wanted to Buy.
- 29 Miscellaneous For Sale.
- 30 Musical Instruments—Radio.
- 31 Household Goods.
- 32 Wearing Apparel—Shoes.
- 33 Groceries—Meats.

RENTALS

- 34 Where To Eat.
- 35 Rooms—With Board.
- 36 Rooms For Rent—Furnished.
- 37 Rooms For Rent—Unfurnished.
- 38 Houses—Flats—Unfurnished.
- 39 Houses—Flats—Furnished.
- 40 Office and Desk Rooms.
- 41 Miscellaneous For Rent.

REAL ESTATE

- 42 Houses For Sale.
- 43 Lots For Sale.
- 44 Real Estate For Exchange.
- 45 Farms For Sale.
- 46 Business Opportunities.
- 47 Wanted Real Estate.

AUTOMOTIVE

- 48 Automobile Insurance.
- 49 Auto Laundries—Painting.
- 50 Tires—Tubes—Batteries.
- 51 Parts—Service—Repairing.
- 52 Motorcycle—Bicycles.
- 53 Auto Agencies.
- 54 Used Cars For Sale.

PUBLIC SALES

- 55 Auctioneers.
- 56 Auction Sales.

2 Card of Thanks

WE WISH TO THANK all of the kind friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy extended us during the sickness and death of our dear mother, the late Julia Ann Coffelt. Also for the beautiful floral offerings.

C. W. Coffelt,
Mrs. James Hubbard,
Mrs. Frank Buck,
Mrs. J. C. Bingham.

4 Florists, Monuments

CUT FLOWERS—Also trees, shrubs and perennials. R. O. Douglas, Phone 549-W. Cor. Washington and Monroe Sts.

8 Lost and Found

LOST—Sun, night, between Spring Valley and Xenia, child's black suit-case. Leave at 305 W. Market. Mrs. Boyce, Reward.

FOUND—Automobile tire, rim and carrier for Ford truck. License P-C 12437. Phone County 15-R-4.

LOST—Mon, a small coin purse in business section of town. Reward. Leave at Gazette Office.

12 Professional Services

Improving Sight
Relieving Nerve Strain
That's what Our Glasses are doing
TIFFANY, REG. OPT.

12 Professional Services

RADIO REPAIRING—Supplies and service calls. Galloway Radio and Electric Shop, Phone 46-W. N. King St.

13 Roofing, Plumbing

PIPES—Valves and fittings for all purposes. Bocklet's line of plumbing and heating supplies are the best. The Bocklet-King Co. 415 W. Main St.

18 Commercial Hauling

HAULING DAILY, Dayton to Xenia, Xenia to Wilmington. House to house delivery. Jesse E. Gilbert.

23 Situations Wanted

WANTED—Cistern cleaning; now is the time. Also repair work done. Phone 669-R.

22 Help Wanted—Agents

WANTED

Experienced Salesman
The National Refining has an opening for a salesman to work local territory.

See Mr. Sams at Cherry Hotel, Washington C. H.

25 Dogs—Canaries—Pets.

CANARY BIRDS for sale, guaranteed singers, $2.00 and $3.50 while they last. Phone 766 or 1015 W. Second St.

27 Horses—Cattle—Hogs

DUROC HOG SALE Thursday, Oct. 25th. We will sell 60 head of boars, sows and gilts. Sale at Cedar-Vale Farm. Send for catalog. R. C. Watt and Son, Cedarville, O.

3 PURE BRED big type Poland-China male pigs. Loren Johnson, R. No. 4, Xenia, O.

FOR SALE—Fresh cow with heifer calf. H. E. Fulkerson. Phone County 26-F-4.

FOR SALE—Two one-year-old DeLaine rams, good ones. County 95-2. T. C. Wolford.

29 Miscellaneous For Sale

FOR SALE—Baby bed, high chair, go-cart, two men's overcoats, antique table and chest. Phone 372-W.

THE CIDER MILL will run Friday of each week instead of Thursdays. Sarah Harner, County 29-F-21.

WOOD—Any size and length, $1.00 and $2.00 per load. 2 yr. old dairy manure for flowers and gardens, $1.00 and $2.00 per load. Ph. 669-R or call at 239 E. Third.

HAND-MADE willow baby bed for sale. Also willow baskets and chairs re-caned. 113 Bellbrook Ave.

PEARLS FOR SALE at John Harbino's farm, Wilmington Pike. Phone county 82-F-5. 75c per bu.

FOR SALE—100 BU. of re-cleaned wheat at $1.50 per bu. Phone 745 Thurman Harley.

FOR SALE—Trumbull seed wheat, $1.50 per bu. Phone 20-K-1, Spring Valley.

FURNITURE SALE—Saturday afternoon only beds, tables, chairs and other things. John Harbino, Allen Bldg.

30—Musical—Radio

PIANOS FOR SALE—$5.00 monthly. John Harbino, Allen Building.

36 Rooms—Furnished

2 ROOMS furnished for light house-keeping. Inquire 239 E. Third or Phone 265-R.

37 Rooms—Unfurnished

SEVERAL nice rooms for rent. Northwest corner of Detroit and Third Sts. Phone 216-R.

38 Houses—Unfurnished

5 ROOM modern cottage for rent. See Dr. A. C. Messenger, No. 4 East Second St.

FOR RENT—5 room house, gas, garage, big garden, $17. Also 7 room house, new paint and paper, gas, electricity, water and toilet inside, garden, 4 1/2 blocks to Court House, 129 M. J. Bebb, 32 E. Market St.

43 Houses For Sale

DESIRABLE modern home. Good location. Newly decorated. Shrubbery. Garage. Will sell under $5,000. See this home before buying. Phone 667-W.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

MONEY TO LOAN ON EASY PAYMENTS
On any kind of security you have to offer—HOUSEHOLD GOODS, LIVESTOCK or AUTOMOBILES.
AMERICAN LOAN CO.
Steel Bldg. Terms 4 Mo To 4 Yrs.

46 Farms For Sale

CHATEL LOANS. Notes Bought, Second Mortgages. John Harbino, Allen Building.

47 Business Opportunities

WE HAVE for sale several small farms, close in around Xenia and other towns, city properties of all descriptions, priced to sell. Harbino & Bates, 17 Allen Bldg.

FARM LOANS at five per cent. John Harbino, Allen Building.

TEACHERS DISCUSS PROBLEMS AT FIRST MEETING LAST WEEK

Teachers of Xenia Twp. held their first meeting of the school term last Friday in the office of the board of education. Helen Smith, chairman and Dorothy B. Fawcett, secretary, were in charge of the meeting. The teachers took part in a discussion of the following subjects: "The Teacher's Responsibility in Reference to the Care of Text Books and other School Property", Cora Matthews, J. A. White; "Profitable Seat Work for Grades One and Two", Mrs. Mary McCollum, Reva Cavender; "How Are We Finding the Work of the New Arithmetic and English", "Are the Teachers' Manuals Proving Helpful", Paye Murry, Elizabeth M. Hampton, Dorothy Quary.

A general discussion followed each subject. A question box, in which each teacher had placed a question of general importance, was an interesting feature of the program. Mrs. Mary McCollum and Miss Elizabeth Ray were selected as chairman and secretary for the October meeting.

ELEAZER

Mr. and Mrs. Asher Mann, Ashley, O., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mann, and Mrs. Mima Oglesbee.

Mrs. Charley Lewis will entertain the Eleazer Aid Society Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Ida Timmons, Columbus, is the guest of Mrs. L. H. Hartsock.

Mr. Tip Hupman and Everett Hupman and son, spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hartsock and enjoyed hunting.

ISAAC SCHOLES IS REMOVED BY DEATH

Isaac Scholes, 74, former Xenian and father of Mrs. Fred C. Kelly, died at his home, 1205 S. Fountain Ave., Springfield, Tuesday at 6:20 p. m. He was well known in that city, where he had been employed as mail carrier thirty-one years.

Death was caused by heart disease. He had been ill several years.

Born in Denison, O., in 1854, Mr. Scholes moved to Xenia in 1874 and was engaged in the carpentry business here. He married Miss Letitia Taggart, sister of Thomas Taggart, French Lick, Ind.; in 1876 and the following year moved to Springfield. In 1889 he became a letter carrier and served in that capacity until his retirement in 1920.

He leaves his widow and one daughter, Mrs. Kelly of Washington, D. C.

Funeral services will be held at his home Thursday at 2 p. m. with burial in Ferncliff Cemetery, Springfield.

First Radio Pastor

The Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, president of Federal Council of Churches in America and long regarded as one of outstanding religious leaders, who has accepted call to "national radio pastorate" at salary of $25,000 annually. His sermons will be non-sectarian.

He was very good looking in his immature white collar, with his red hair brushed straight back from a high square forehead. When he was a boy, he was a very good looking, very charming, quite the head of a family.

"Well, Mother certainly has the old place spick-and-span for the party, hasn't she?" he called out to Emmy from his arm chair in the sitting room. "She's a great one, Emmy! You can't beat her."

"She's a wonder," agreed Emmy, glancing in at him from the dining room where she was setting the table by the light of the dying fire.

He was very good looking in his immature white collar, with his red hair brushed straight back from a high square forehead. When he was a boy, he was a very good looking, very charming, quite the head of a family.

"Well, Mother certainly has the old place spick-and-span for the party, hasn't she?" he called out to Emmy from his arm chair in the sitting room. "She's a great one, Emmy! You can't beat her."

"She's a wonder," agreed Emmy, glancing in at him from the dining room where she was setting the table by the light of the dying fire.

He was very good looking in his immature white collar, with his red hair brushed straight back from a high square forehead. When he was a boy, he was a very good looking, very charming, quite the head of a family.

"Well, Mother certainly has the old place spick-and-span for the party, hasn't she?" he called out to Emmy from his arm chair in the sitting room. "She's a great one, Emmy! You can't beat her."

"She's a wonder," agreed Emmy, glancing in at him from the dining room where she was setting the table by the light of the dying fire.

He was very good looking in his immature white collar, with his red hair brushed straight back from a high square forehead. When he was a boy, he was a very good looking, very charming, quite the head of a family.

"Well, Mother certainly has the old place spick-and-span for the party, hasn't she?" he called out to Emmy from his arm chair in the sitting room. "She's a great one, Emmy! You can't beat her."

"She's a wonder," agreed Emmy, glancing in at him from the dining room where she was setting the table by the light of the dying fire.

He was very good looking in his immature white collar, with his red hair brushed straight back from a high square forehead. When he was a boy, he was a very good looking, very charming, quite the head of a family.

The Little Yellow House

By BEATRICE BURTON -- RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSN. © 1928

READ THIS FIRST:

Over the poverty and discontent in the little yellow house broods a mother's love, which transmutes the dingy home to a palace of love and beauty. Emmy, the only daughter, is disappointed with her surroundings, envious of her wealthy relatives, eager to leave. There is quiet, hard-working Robb, who loves her, but who represents to her only a moneyless, boring future. She decides to get away from dingy Flower Street and live her own life in a little apartment of her own, where she can entertain as she likes. Mrs. Milburn, after a talk with her husband, decides to ask Uncle Bill Parks, who owns the house, if he will give it to them, since they have paid rent for twenty-five years.

Uncle Bill says to wait until he feels good enough to get down town to his office. He will then decide. Mrs. Milburn discovers her husband has taken Dan, the son, about fourteen years old, to a pool room.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIV

"Oh, I do think so!" Mrs. Milburn's voice was hurried and full of apology. "I'm not saying a word about you, Charlie. I'm only asking you not to take Dan into pool rooms and such places, especially on Sundays. He seems so young."

"He's nearly seventeen," the man interrupted her. "You leave him to me. I'll look after him. He's a Milburn all the way through, that kid. He's got red blood in him."

You can just bet you'll never be able to put him into art school and stick a drawing pencil into his lily-white hand!" Perry had gone to art school for a term, and his father never had got over it. He said no red-blooded man would ever be an artist.

"I don't want him to go to art school, Charlie," Mrs. Milburn's voice came, clear and low. "I just want him to grow up to be—decent. That's all."

Silence after that. Then Mr. Milburn's voice once more: "You'd better take that lamp down stairs and fill it, lousy. There's not much oil in it, and I may wake up and want to read."

He often read at night. Detective stories and stories of the western plains in the romantic old days. Stories of "red-blooded" men. Dan read them, too—when he read anything.

Mrs. Milburn began to get the house in readiness for Emmy's party a full week before the first Saturday in November.

She gave the stairs a fresh coat of white paint. She washed every curtain in the house. She pasted a piece of heavy paper over the place where the colored window on the stairs was broken; and with water colors she painted it the pale pink of the glass itself. From her old brown "treasure" trunk in the attic, she brought a Spanish shawl of rich crimson silk and draped it over one end of the plant in the sitting room.

On Friday afternoon at half-past five Emmy walked into the house to find her all dressed to go out.

"Robb's going to drive me out beyond Center Road for some red leaves. If there are any left," she said. "And even if there aren't, there are sure to be some brown oak leaves and some chestnut burrs. They'll look all right with that pumpkin."

She had bought a pumpkin from Leo, the vegetable man, and turned it into a jack-o'-lantern for the center of Emmy's lunch table.

"You watch the supper," she added, as the struggle-bug's horn sounded from the street, "and if I'm not home by a quarter to seven, put it on the table. That's if your father's here."

She hurried out into the brown dusk.

Mr. Milburn came home at half-past six with Perry. The chances were that if he did not come with Perry, he would not be home much before ten or eleven. Mrs. Milburn's last words to her son every morning when he left the house were: "Try to bring your father home with you tonight." There seemed to be some sort of secret understanding between them.

Tonight Mr. Milburn was very good-natured, very charming, quite the head of a family.

"Well, Mother certainly has the old place spick-and-span for the party, hasn't she?" he called out to Emmy from his arm chair in the sitting room. "She's a great one, Emmy! You can't beat her."

"She's a wonder," agreed Emmy, glancing in at him from the dining room where she was setting the table by the light of the dying fire.

He was very good looking in his immature white collar, with his red hair brushed straight back from a high square forehead. When he was a boy, he was a very good looking, very charming, quite the head of a family.

"Well, Mother certainly has the old place spick-and-span for the party, hasn't she?" he called out to Emmy from his arm chair in the sitting room. "She's a great one, Emmy! You can't beat her."

"She's a wonder," agreed Emmy, glancing in at him from the dining room where she was setting the table by the light of the dying fire.

He was very good looking in his immature white collar, with his red hair brushed straight back from a high square forehead. When he was a boy, he was a very good looking, very charming, quite the head of a family.

"Well, Mother certainly has the old place spick-and-span for the party, hasn't she?" he called out to Emmy from his arm chair in the sitting room. "She's a great one, Emmy! You can't beat her."

"She's a wonder," agreed Emmy, glancing in at him from the dining room where she was setting the table by the light of the dying fire.

He was very good looking in his immature white collar, with his red hair brushed straight back from a high square forehead. When he was a boy, he was a very good looking, very charming, quite the head of a family.

"Well, Mother certainly has the old place spick-and-span for the party, hasn't she?" he called out to Emmy from his arm chair in the sitting room. "She's a great one, Emmy! You can't beat her."

"She's a wonder," agreed Emmy, glancing in at him from the dining room where she was setting the table by the light of the dying fire.

He was very good looking in his immature white collar, with his red hair brushed straight back from a high square forehead. When he was a boy, he was a very good looking, very charming, quite the head of a family.

"Well, Mother certainly has the old place spick-and-span for the party, hasn't she?" he called out to Emmy from his arm chair in the sitting room. "She's a great one, Emmy! You can't beat her."

"She's a wonder," agreed Emmy, glancing in at him from the dining room where she was setting the table by the light of the dying fire.

He was very good looking in his immature white collar, with his red hair brushed straight back from a high square forehead. When he was like this it was perfectly well—especially if he happened to have a headache or his teeth a little sore. "I worry about him."

"I wish your father would come home."

A church clock, somewhere across the roofs, was striking midnight. It had a melancholy, ominous sound.

"I wish he would come home," she said again.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

On The Air From Cincinnati

WLWG:

8:10—Scores, stocks, weather, time.

8:15—Book review.

8:20—Republican National Committee.

9:00—United Grand Opera Co.

10:00—Radio hour.

10:30—United Military Band.

11:00—Scores, weather, time.

WLW:

6:15—Markets, orchestra.

7:00—Tracy Brown's Orchestra.

7:30—National Farm Council talk.

7:35—"Political Squat in Tonight", F. W. Wie, Washington.

8:00—Warner Brothers Hour.

8:30—Sylvia Forrester, New York.

9:00—Smith Brothers Program.

9:30—Professor Kyreok.

10:00—Weather.

10:00—Variety Hour, with Mary Zoller and Co.

10:30—McDowell Orchestra.

By SIDNEY SMITH

The Theater

By DOROTHY HERZOG

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 3.—Ordinarily the postman is a charming man in blue whose arrival fills me with glee. Particularly when he presents a bit of envelope from Mr. Premier Syndicate that promises another week of sustenance. But today! Verily, I shall flee to shelter, for, with San Quentin's condemned row overwhelmingly full, far be it from me to commit homicide in the name of Wednesday, Oct. 3.

A virgin month makes one so her voice was low and shaky, but coldly calculating. One spies a smartly dressed actress in new fall mode. One is not content with admiring her smartness. One recalls the morning gift from the postman itemizing fatal frocks. One estimates: "Um, Miss So-and-So swanks in the tune of about three hundred and fifty dollars net." Indeed, today is a grievous day and its tragedy is doomed to shadow a few tomorrows.

Hollywood, so a style connoisseur informs me, has chosen its colors for the winter season: the brown, black and wine red, in the order named for daytime wear. Formal occasions are to glimpse blue, in all hues, white and black. At that, a mately latitude is offered to capricious tastes. Personally, I shall cleave to calico festooned with the seven veils of terpsichore.

Twenty Years '08- Ago -'28

"Mother Knows Best" enjoyed a dress parade premiere toter eve. The picture features Madge Bellamy, Louise Dresser and Barry Norton and professes to be an adaptation of Edna Ferber's short story. In short story form, "Mother Knows Best" was sprightly hemming directed at a famed impersonator. In screen form, the story loses sprightliness and hemming. Nevertheless, Louise Dresser's performance as the mother was splendid. It is destined to rank with the really beautifully performances of the year.

When Bobby Clark, master of ceremonies, introduced Miss Dresser thunderous applause rocked the spacious theater. It was sincere applause. No relatives lent volume to it. Miss Dresser had to make a speech in response to the cries. She was so unnerved by the unexpected ovation that she could scarcely control her voice, but she succeeded and made a speech that in its way is classical: "If you have liked the daughter,"

Xenia High School's football team was defeated on the local gridiron 11 to 9 by East High School of Dayton.

Arthur Kelly, Xenia, played a large part in the football victory of Wooster University over Ohio State, 8 to 0.

A party of ten motorcyclists, including four women, from Dayton and Miamisburg, passed through Xenia on their way to Jamestown. They stopped in Xenia at noon and took dinner at the Collins Hotel. Ed Hunt and Martin Schmidt accompanied the party to Jamestown on their cycles.

When Bobby Clark, master of ceremonies, introduced Miss Dresser thunderous applause rocked the spacious theater. It was sincere applause. No relatives lent volume to it. Miss Dresser had to make a speech in response to the cries. She was so unnerved by the unexpected ovation that she could scarcely control her voice, but she succeeded and made a speech that in its way is classical: "If you have liked the daughter,"

THE GUMPS—Warden—The Keys.

By LESLIE FORGRAVE

BIG SISTER—A Display of Character.

By PAUL ROBINSON

ETTA KETT—The Mourning After.

By PERCY CROSBY

SKIPPY—The Very Limit.

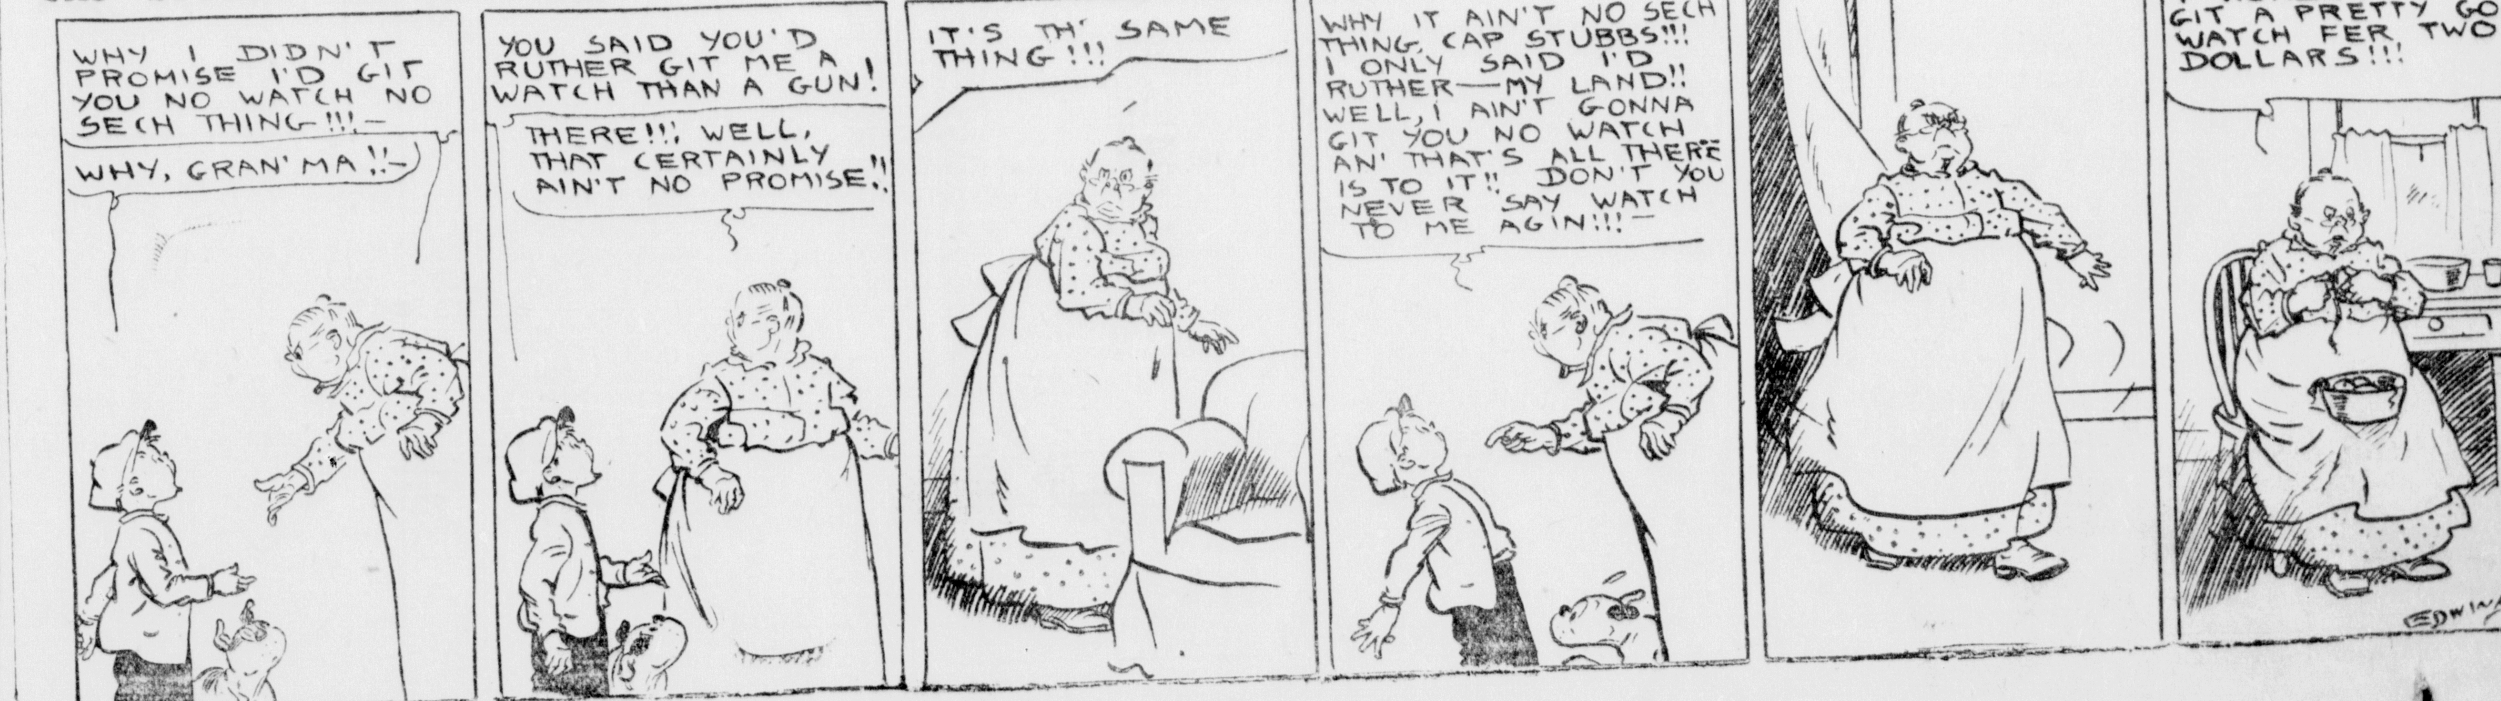

By SWAN

HIGH PRESSURE PETE—Almost—Not

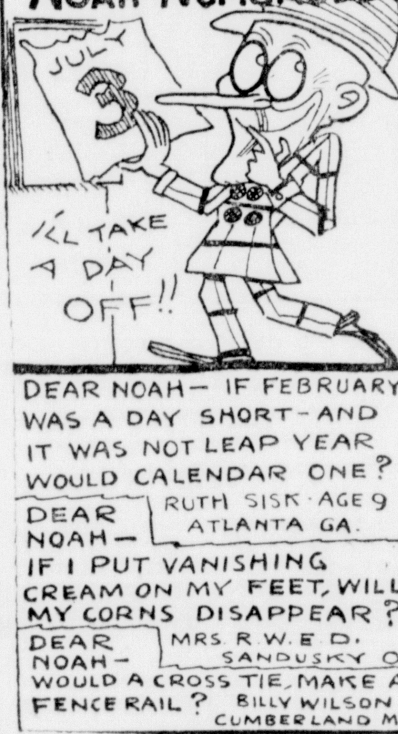

By EDWIN

"CAP" STUBBS—And That's That!

NOAH NUMSKULL

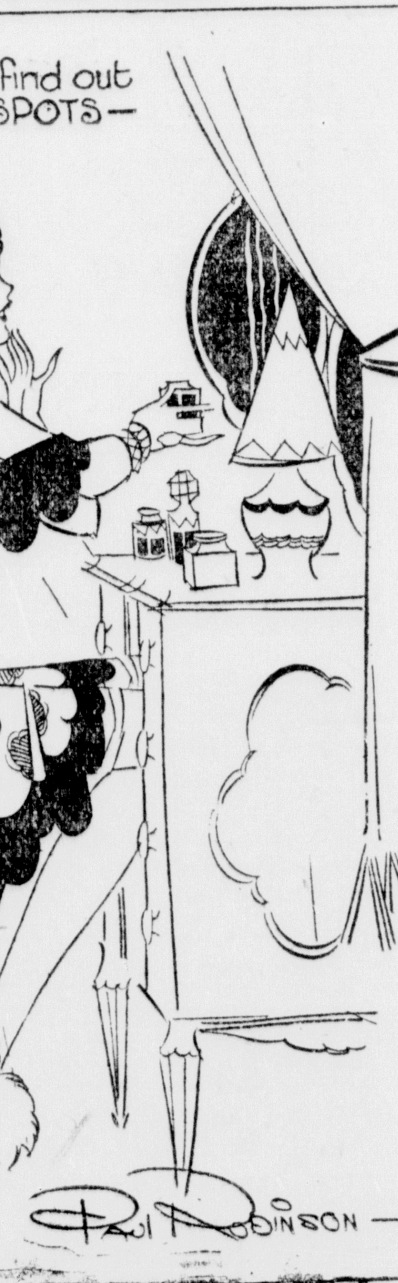

SALLY'S SALLIES

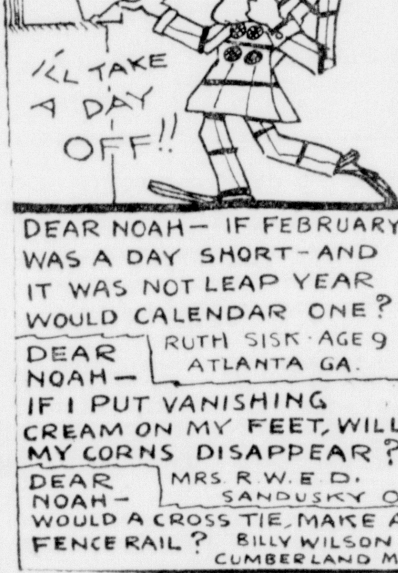

Men who worry about their money are relieved of their worries by women.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

By EDWIN

JIMMY JAMS

NONSENSE

IDEAS! THE LADEN NORTH TIMES OFFICE CITY SENT KANSAS CITY SENT US THIS AND ONE WE WANT IDEAS!

The Theater

By DOROTHY HERZOG

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 3.—Ordinarily the postman is a charming man in blue whose arrival fills me with glee. Particularly when he presents a bit of envelope from Mr. Premier Syndicate that promises another week of sustenance. But today! Verily, I shall flee to shelter, for, with San Quentin's condemned row overwhelmingly full, far be it from me to commit homicide in the name of Wednesday, Oct. 3.

A virgin month makes one so coldly calculating. One spies a smartly dressed actress in new fall mode. One is not content with admiring her smartness. One recalls the morning gift from the postman (tempering fatal frocks. One estimates: "Um, Miss So-and-So swanks in to the tune of about three hundred and fifty dollars net."

Indeed, today is a grievous day and its tragedy is doomed to shadow a few tomorrows. Hollywood, so a style connoisseur informs me, has chosen its colors for the winter season: brown, black and wine red, in the order named for daytime wear. Formal occasions are to glimpse blue, in all hues, white and black. At that, a matly latitude is offered to capricious tastes. Personally, I shall cleave to calico festooned with the seven veils of terpsichore.

"Mother Knows Best" enjoyed a dress parade premiere 'tother eve. The picture features Madge Bellamy, Louise Dresser and Barry Norton and professes to be an adaptation of Edna Ferber's short story. In short story form, "Mother Knows Best" was sprightly hemming directed at a famed impersonator. In screen form, the story loses sprightliness and hemming. Nevertheless, Louise Dresser's performance as the mother was splendid. It is destined to rank with the really beautifully performances of the year.

When Bobby Clark, master of ceremonies, introduced Miss Dresser thunderous applause rocked the spacious theater. It was sincere applause. No relatives lent volume to it. Miss Dresser had to make a speech in response to the cries. She was so unnerved by the unexpected ovation that she could scarcely control her voice, but she succeeded and made a speech that in its way is classical:

"If you have liked the daughter,"

Twenty Years '08- Ago -'28

Xenia High School's football team was defeated on the local gridiron 11 to 0 by East High School of Dayton.

Arthur Kelly, Xenia, played a large part in the football victory of Wooster University over Ohio State, 8 to 0.

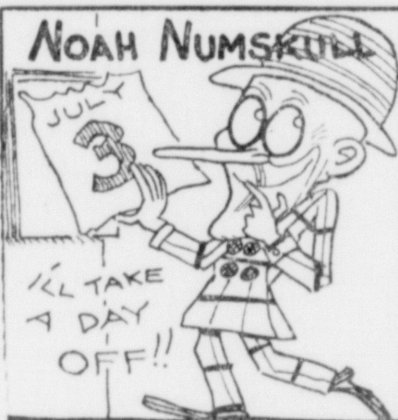

A party of ten motorcycleists, including four women, from Dayton and Miamisburg, passed through Xenia on their way to Jamestown. They stopped in Xenia at noon and took dinner at the Collins Hotel. Ed Hunt and Martin Schmidt accompanied the party to Jamestown on their cycles.

When Bobby Clark, master of ceremonies, introduced Miss Dresser thunderous applause rocked the spacious theater. It was sincere applause. No relatives lent volume to it. Miss Dresser had to make a speech in response to the cries. She was so unnerved by the unexpected ovation that she could scarcely control her voice, but she succeeded and made a speech that in its way is classical:

"If you have liked the daughter,"

"If you have liked the daughter,"

JIMMY JAMS

DEAR NOAH— IF FEBRUARY WAS A DAY SHORT— AND IT WAS NOT LEAP YEAR— WOULD CALENDAR ONE? DEAR RUTH SISK AGE 9 NOAH— ATLANTA GA. IF I PUT VANISHING CREAM ON MY FEET, WILL MY CORNS DISAPPEAR? DEAR MRS R W E D. NOAH— SANDUSKY O. WOULD A CROSS TIE MAKE A FENCE RAIL? BILLY WILSON CUMBERLAND MD.

SALLY'S SALLIES

Men who worry about their money are relieved of their worries by women.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

THE GUMPS—Warden—The Keys.

BIG SISTER—A Display of Character.

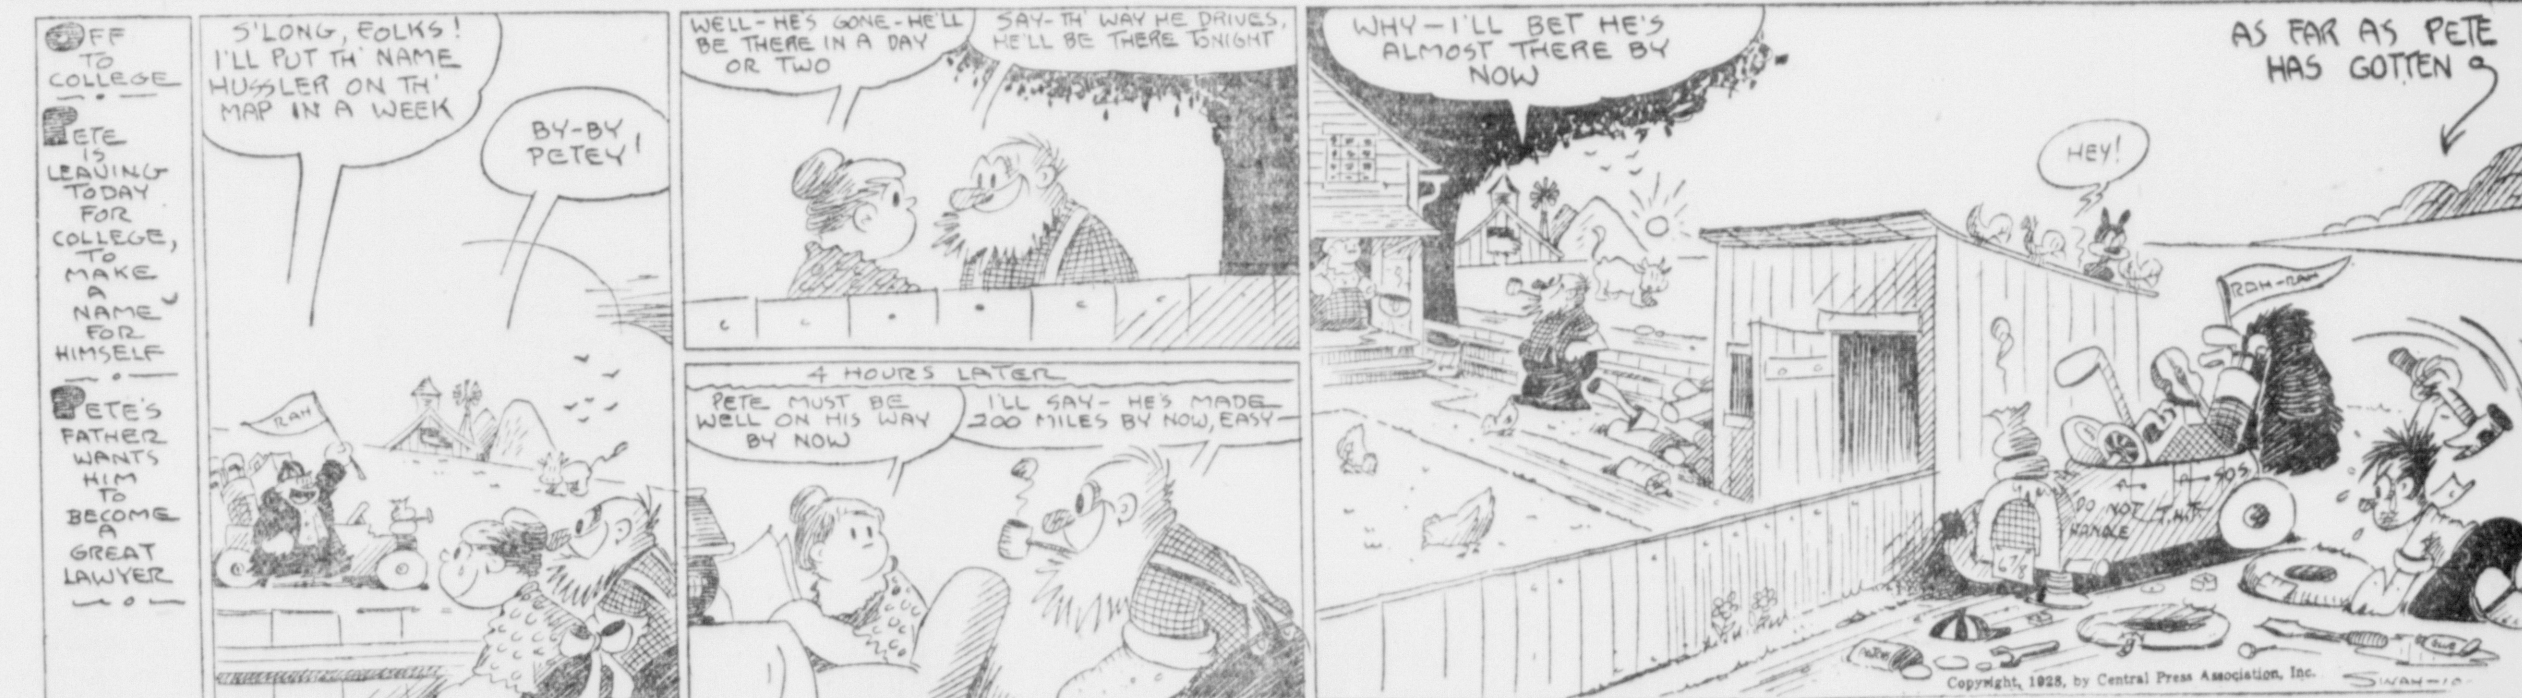

ETTA KETT—The Mourning After.

SKIPPY—The Very Limit.

HIGH PRESSURE PETE—Almost—Not

"CAP" STUBBS—And That's That!

HUSBAND SEEKING DIVORCE DECREE; OTHER COURT NEWS

After more than thirty-five years of married life, William H. Parsons has brought suit for divorce from Mary E. Parsons in Common Pleas Court, charging his wife nagged and fussed with him and refused to accompany him any place as a wife should do. The plaintiff claims that such action amounts to extreme cruelty.

The plaintiff claims that he owns four $1,000 bonds now in the possession of the defendant and that she threatens to sell them and place the money beyond his reach. He also owns property in both Greene County and Barnesville, O., according to the petition.

A temporary restraining order is asked by the plaintiff, who asks that his wife be required to turn the bonds over to him.

HEIRS ARE NUMEROUS

Sixty-nine defendants are named in a partition suit filed in Common Pleas Court by E. T. Ballard and Rosa B. Lewis against Anna L. Ballard and others. Plaintiffs and defendants are all heirs of Elizabeth B. Evans, deceased. Marshall and Marshall are attorneys for the plaintiff.

SUES ON NOTE

Suit for $375, alleged due on a promissory note, has been filed in Common Pleas Court by Joseph L. Reissenzein against A. A. Hitt.

GIVEN JUDGMENT

S. B. Harner has been awarded a cognovit note judgment for $1,413.75 against John T. Barnett and Marion R. Barnett in Common Pleas Court.

SALE APPROVED

Sale of property to Carl A. Ross for $10,952.70, plus interest, has been confirmed by the court in the case of Raymond S. Bull against Ralph E. Bull and others in Common Pleas Court. The court also determined priority of liens.

SALE ORDERED

Refusing partition, the court approved appraisal of property at $1,200 and ordered its sale at public auction in the case of Fremont Bowen against Rose Anderson and others in Common Pleas Court.

PETITION DISMISSED

Petition filed in Common Pleas Court by J. Warren Penmore and others against Orville B. Armstrong and others has been dismissed by the court, which ruled that the contract and quit claim deed pleaded in the petition is a valid contract between the parties.

APPOINTED EXECUTOR

Harvey E. Fulkerson has been appointed executor of the estate of W. L. Fulkerson, late of Xenia Twp., without bond in Probate Court.

NAMED GUARDIAN

Ozni H. Cornwell has been named guardian of Edward H. Cornwell, 15, child of Eber H. and Mary S. Cornwell, deceased, and has filed $1,000 bond in Probate Court.

EAST END NEWS

MRS. JAMES HARRIS
Correspondent
Tel. 91-R

St. John's A. M. E. Sunday School will give a chicken pie social at the residence of Mr. Loyd W. Clark next Friday night, October 5. Supper will be ready at five o'clock.

C. M. E. weekly services Wednesday, devotional services 7:30 p. m., Rev. Hargrave presiding. Friday evening, general class and love feast, Rev. Ware presiding. Come out and enjoy a spiritual feast, 938 E. Main St. There will also be a donkey social Saturday evening. Pastor in charge, Evan-elist M. Lewis.

Marries in Paris

The former Miss Gwendoline Foulke Smith, popular member of the younger set in the national capital, who became bride of Albert B. Dewey, Jr., of Chicago, at a brilliant wedding in Paris. The couple will tour the old world on their honeymoon.

Mr. And Mrs. Lampert Observe Golden Wedding

MR. AND MRS. J. J. LAMPERT

Fifty years ago Mr. and Mrs. Jacob J. Lampert exchanged their marriage vows before a company of relatives and friends in St. Brigid's Church, this city.

Wednesday morning, in the same church, but with another company present and surrounded by their children, they in spirit repeated those vows, and received Holy Communion, at a special Mass arranged in honor of the golden anniversary celebrated by the Rev. David Powers, pastor.

It was the beginning of a day devoted to the celebration of their fifty years together. In the afternoon there was "open house" at the Lampert home, 836 N. King St., when Mr. and Mrs. Lampert received their friends informally, and were showered with felicitations upon the happy event. Many gifts also came, significant of the occasion. Wednesday evening thirty-five relatives will be entertained at dinner at the home, this event completing the observance of the day.

Mr. Lampert is Xenia's oldest florist, head of the business which he has conducted on the spot it occupies at the site of the home-stand on N. King St., for forty-five years. For fifty-two years he has been a florist in Xenia. Three of his five sons are following the business of their father. George P. and Harry W. Lampert are partners in the Lampert Floral Co., on the Springfield Pike, originally a branch of their father's business. They specialize in the raising and wholesaling of flowers and evergreens, have forty-five acres of nursery and 45,000 feet of glass in their greenhouses. Edward Lampert, another son is owner of the Engle Floral Co., on Dayton Ave., a large and progressive business firm.

Mr. Lampert was born, so to speak, in the flower business. His father, Jacob Lampert, a veteran of the Mexican War was a florist and vegetable gardener in Avondale, Cincinnati suburb. His mother was a French woman, Mary Jacobs. Chance brought the son to Xenia. His mother, at their vegetable stand in the market one day heard a Xenian, Erastus Bonner, say he was looking for a young man to work for him. She told her son. He was anxious to broaden out, and he hunted up Mr. Bonner, applied for and got the job in the fall of 1876 when he was 24. He built the Bonner greenhouses on the New Burlington Pike, south of Xenia, and worked for Bonner for two years. He was getting ready to return to Cincinnati when by chance, through her brother who was his friend, he met the girl who became his wife. That changed his plans. He remained in Xenia and went to work for Harry Mathewson, now of Dayton, who owned a greenhouse on N. King St. He married and lived across the street. Three years later he bought the property of Mr. Mathewson, where he is still conducting his floral business. Mrs.

ALL KINDS OF FINE FURNITURE AT SURPRISINGLY LOW PRICES ALL THE TIME COME DOWN AND LOOK YOU ARE ALWAYS WELCOME

A. THORNHILL & SON

W. Third St., Between Detroit And King

ORPHIUM

TONIGHT

William Fox Presents
MADGE BELLAMY
In a thrilling comedy drama
"VERY CONFIDENTIAL"
Also "WHY GIRLS SAY NO" A Pathe 2 reel comedy

THURSDAY

William Fox Presents
"ROAD HOUSE"
With Maria Alba, Warren Burke, Lionel Barrymore
Also "THE SCARLET ARROW" with Francis X. Bushman, Jr.
A new thrilling chapter play.

SOLICITORS SEEK FUNDS FOR WORK OF PRINTING FOR BLIND

So that those who are blind may read, solicitors are in Xenia this week asking funds for the support of The Christian Record Publishing Association, College View, Neb., which publishes a magazine and books for the blind.

Through the raised letters of the magazine and of the books, the blind are entertained and are inspired to carry on under the affliction that has darkened their days. The publications are printed in Braille or the New York point system, and circulated to those who know either of these systems.

Those who have not learned to make their finger tips see for them will be taught the Braille method by the publication company in a home course. The course is free and the magazine is also circulated free of charge. The books are kept in a circulating library and are also loaned free to the afflicted.

Since the organization operates on a charity basis, it must be supported by the more fortunate. C. P. Robinson and W. J. Couts, representing the association, are soliciting funds for the work with the endorsement of the Xenia Retail Merchants Association.

Records show there are sixty-two blind people in Greene County, forty-one of whom are living in Xenia. To these the literature printed by the association, free to all blind of any creed or race, helps bring a ray of sunshine into the lives of the afflicted.

Calendar Of Events

(Notices of coming events in social or fraternal circles, lodge meetings, club gatherings or benefits will be published in this column free of charge. Phone notices not more than ten days preceding the event itself.)

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 3:
Church Prayer meetings.
Jr. O. U. A. M.
L. O. O. F.
K. of P.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 4:
Robekahs.
Red Men
P. of X. D. of A.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5:
D. of V.
Eagles.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 8:
Modern Woodmen.
D. of P.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 11:
Obedient Council D. of A.
Kiwanis.
Rotary.
Xenia I. O. O. F.

Xenia I. O. O. F.

Bisou

TONIGHT AND THURSDAY
NORMA TALMADGE
In
"THE DOVE"
Also Latest News Events
Matinee Every Day At 2:30

Now Over 350,000 Owners Are Driving General Motors' Lowest Priced Six

PONTIAC SIX

PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS

Photo shows Major John Coupal, U. S. A., personal physician to President Coolidge, who has been instructed by chief executive to hasten to New Haven, Conn., and attend Wilfrid Veno, well-known hockey player, and his mother, both of whom were injured when their car collided with that of Governor Trumbull of Connecticut, in which John, the President's son, was returning to his railway job. The latter was unhurt.

A Sudden End to Stomach Trouble

PAIN or discomfort following a meal doesn't mean you must go on a "diet." Nine times out of ten indigestion, acidity, flatulence and heartburn are caused by excess stomach acid and food fermentation.

After too hasty a lunch, or too heavy a dinner, a little "Pape's Diapepsin" instantly neutralizes excess acidity, stops that fermentation, and soothes and heals the acid-inflamed stomach lining as if by magic. Your recovery is quick and complete. Make a special point of getting a 60-cent package of "Pape's Diapepsin" from your druggist today, and so follow the example of millions all over the world who use "Pape's Diapepsin" to end indigestion and allied stomach troubles.

With "Pape's Diapepsin" handy you can eat and enjoy whatever you fancy without fear of pain or discomfort to follow. At any rate, it's worth the trial, for lots of folks have found a new freedom at the table.

DESCENDANTS MARK GRAVE OF JOHN CAMPBELL AT MT. HOLLY

Many descendants of John Campbell, pioneer Greene Countian, from different parts of the country attended the unveiling of the permanent marker to his memory, at the old Bethel Cemetery, one mile west of Mount Holly, near the Cincinnati Pike, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The marker has been given by M. C. Campbell, Wichita, Kansas, who is the oldest living descendant of John Campbell who bears the name of Campbell.

Members of the Kansas City, Mo., chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will place a tablet on the marker. Among those present at the ceremonies were Mrs. John Craig, New York City; M. C. Campbell and Mrs. Peter Burnaugh, Mrs. Stanley and Mrs. J. C. Harper, Wichita, Kan., and Mrs. L. D. Temple, Upland, Calif., besides many descendants from the surrounding country.

The exercises were open to the public. The program included an address by M. C. Campbell, Wichita, Kansas, and by Mrs. Stanley and Mrs. Harper, representing the D. A. R., and reading of deeds, wills, etc., which were left by John Campbell and his sons.

The total number of fires in 1927 was exceeded Wednesday three months before the year 1928 expired when firemen responded to the one hundred and first alarm of the year at 8:05 a. m.

The alarm was sent in as a result of a short circuit in the wiring which ignited a gasoline pump in front of Gordon Brothers Garage, E. Second St. No damage resulted. The pump was being repaired

GASOLINE PUMP IS FIRED FROM WIRES

The total number of fires in 1927 was exceeded Wednesday three months before the year 1928 expired when firemen responded to the one hundred and first alarm of the year at 8:05 a. m.

The alarm was sent in as a result of a short circuit in the wiring which ignited a gasoline pump in front of Gordon Brothers Garage, E. Second St. No damage resulted. The pump was being repaired

SPECIAL FALL SALE

—OF—
CANNED GOODS

LEAVE YOUR ORDERS NOW

| FRUITS | VEGETABLES |
|--|--|
| White Cherries 45c can, 3 cans $1.29, dozen $5.00. | Premier Tiny Tot Peas 35c can or 3 cans for $1.00. |
| Peaches 25c per can or $2.75 per dozen. | Premier Sweet Wrinkled Peas 25c can, or 3 for 69c. |
| Apricots 27c per can or $3.00 per dozen. | Premier Sifted Sugar Peas 20c a can or 3 for 55c. |
| Pears 39c per can or 3 cans for $1.10. | Premier Golden Bantam Corn 20c can, or 3 cans for 55c. |

FRESH ROASTED COFFEE EVERY DAY—BEST 35c COFFEE IN THE CITY

FETZ BROS.

100 South Detroit St. Phones 42 And 73

ROYAL ANNE CHERRIES

HAVE YOU EVER TASTED "E" FRESH PRUNES?

If you have never known the sprightly, luscious flavor found in the golden meat of the ripe purple prune you have been missing one of nature's most delightful surprises. A dish of these big tender prunes, covered deep with rich, purple juice, is as decorative as it is delicious. Try them for luncheon, dinner or breakfast and see how much of pleasure and interest they will add to the meal.

3 SIZED CANS

8 oz. cans
1 lb. cans
Large sized cans

AT LAST! A SUPERB CHERRY AT 25c A Can

Housekeepers who have been deprived of the luxury of canned sweet cherries because of the high price will find a rare treat in these big, luscious, wonderfully flavored ROYAL ANNE CHERRIES. Each plump pink tinged cherry is tender clear to the seed but is as firm and fresh flavored as if just from the tree. Until you have tried them you will not believe that the whole of the delicate, delightful favor of the sweet cherry can be so perfectly preserved. There are no finer cherries on the market today and it is a truly remarkable privilege to get this wonderful fruit at our low price.

ONLY 25c A CAN AT YOUR GROCERS

The Eavey Company
WHOLESALE GROCERS
More Than 60 Years of Business Integrity
Back of All "E" Brand Products
Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Refunded

CHICHESTERS PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND
Ladies Ask your Druggist for Chichester's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold wrapper. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for Chichester's Diamond Brand Pills.

Vern L. Faires
Represents
America's Oldest Life Ins. Co.
The Mutual Life Ins. Co.
OF NEW YORK
Allen Bldg. Phone 240
Xenia, Ohio.

HUSBAND SEEKING DIVORCE DECREE; OTHER COURT NEWS

After more than thirty-five years of married life, William H. Parsons has brought suit for divorce from Mary E. Parsons in Common Pleas Court, charging his wife nagged and russed with him and refused to accompany him any place as a wife should do. The plaintiff claims that such action amounts to extreme cruelty.

The plaintiff claims that he owns four $1,000 bonds now in the possession of the defendant and that she threatens to sell them and place the money beyond his reach. He also owns property in both Greene County and Barnesville, O., according to the petition.

A temporary restraining order is asked by the plaintiff, who asks that his wife be required to turn the bonds over to him.

HEIRS ARE NUMEROUS

Sixty-nine defendants are named in a partition suit filed in Common Pleas Court by E. T. Ballard and Rosa B. Lewis against Anna L. Ballard and others. Plaintiffs and defendants are all heirs of Elizabeth B. Evans, deceased. Marshall and Marshall are attorneys for the plaintiff.

SUES ON NOTE

Suit for $375, alleged due on a promissory note, has been filed in Common Pleas Court by Joseph L. Reissenzenh against A. A. Hitz.

GIVEN JUDGMENT

S. B. Harner has been awarded a cognovit note judgment for $1,413.75 against John T. Barnett and Marion R. Barnett in Common Pleas Court.

SALE APPROVED

Sale of property to Carl A. Ross for $10,952.70, plus interest, has been confirmed by the court in the case of Raymond S. Bull against Ralph E. Bull and others in Common Pleas Court. The court also determined priority of liens.

SALE ORDERED

Refusing partition, the court approved appraisal of property at $1,200 and ordered its sale at public auction in the case of Fremont Bowen against Rose Anderson and others in Common Pleas Court.

PETITION DISMISSED

Petition filed in Common Pleas Court by J. Warren Fenimore and others against Orville B. Armstrong and others has been dismissed by the court, which ruled that the contract and quit claim deed pleaded in the petition is a valid contract between the parties.

APPOINTED EXECUTOR

Harvey E. Pulkerson has been appointed executor of the estate of W. L. Pulkerson, late of Xenia Twp., without bond in Probate Court.

NAMED GUARDIAN

Ozni H. Cornwell has been named guardian of Edward H. Cornwell, 15, child of Eber H. and Mary S. Cornwell, deceased, and has filed $1,000 bond in Probate Court.

EAST END NEWS

MRS. JAMES HARRIS Correspondent 91-R

St. John's A. M. E. Sunday School will give a chicken pie social at the residence of Mr. Loyd W. Clark next Friday night, October 5. Supper will be ready at five o'clock.

C. M. E. weekly services Wednesday, devotionals services 7:30 p. m., Rev. Harrgrave presiding. Friday evening, general class and love feast, Rev. Ware presiding. Come out and enjoy a spiritual feast, 938 E. Main St. There will also be a donkey social Saturday evening. Pastor in charge, Evangelist M. Lewis.

Marries in Paris

The former Miss Gwendoline Ffoulke Smith, popular member of the younger set in the national capital, who became bride of Albert B. Dewey, Jr., of Chicago, at a brilliant wedding in Paris. The couple will tour the old world on their honeymoon.

Mr. And Mrs. Lampert Observe Golden Wedding

MR. AND MRS. J. J. LAMPERT

Fifty years ago Mr. and Mrs. Jacob J. Lampert exchanged their marriage vows before a company of relatives and friends in St. Bridget's Church, this city.

Wednesday morning, in the same church, but with another company present and surrounded by their children, they in spirit repeated those vows, and received Holy Communion, at a special Mass arranged in honor of the golden anniversary celebrated by the Rev. David Powers, pastor.

It was the beginning of a day devoted to the celebration of their fifty years together. In the afternoon there was "open house" at the Lampert home, 836 N. King St., when Mr. and Mrs. Lampert received their friends informally, and were showered with felicitations upon the happy event. Many gifts also came, significant of the occasion. Wednesday evening thirty-five relatives will be entertained at dinner at the home, this event completing the observance of the day.

Mr. Lampert is Xenia's oldest florist, head of the business which he has conducted on the spot it occupies at the site of the home-stand on N. King St., for forty-five years. For fifty-two years he has been a florist in Xenia. Three of his five sons are following the business of their father. George P. and Harry W. Lampert are partners in the Lampert Floral Co. on the Springfield Pike, originally a branch of their father's business. They specialize in the raising and wholesaling of flowers and evergreens, have forty-five acres of nursery and 45,000 feet of glass in their greenhouses. Edward Lampert, another son, is owner of the Enzie Floral Co., on Dayton Ave., a large and progressive business firm.

Mr. Lampert was born, so to speak, in the flower business. His father, Jacob Lampert, a veteran of the Mexican War was a florist and vegetable gardener in Avondale, Cincinnati suburb. His mother was a French woman, Mary Jacobs. Chance brought the son to Xenia. His mother, at their vegetable stand in the market one day heard a Xenian, Erasmus Bonner, say he was looking for a young man to work for him. She told her son. He was anxious to broaden out, and he hunted up Mr. Bonner, applied for and got the job in the fall of 1876 when he was 24. He built the Bonner greenhouses on the New Burlington Pike, south of Xenia, and worked for Bonner for two years. He was getting ready to return to Cincinnati when by chance, through her brother who was his friend, he met the girl who became his wife. That changed his plans. He remained in Xenia and went to work for Harry Matthews, now of Dayton, who owned a greenhouse on N. King St. He married and lived across the street. Three years later he bought the property of Mr. Matthews, where he is still conducting his floral business. Mrs.

ALL KINDS OF FINE FURNITURE AT SURPRISINGLY LOW PRICES ALL THE TIME COME DOWN AND LOOK YOU ARE ALWAYS WELCOME

A. THORNHILL & SON

W. Third St., Between Detroit And King

ORPHIUM

TONIGHT

William Fox Presents MADGE BELLAMY In a thrilling comedy drama "VERY CONFIDENTIAL" Also "WHY GIRLS SAY NO" A Pathe 2 reel comedy

THURSDAY

William Fox Presents "ROAD HOUSE" With Maria Alba, Warren Burke, Lionel Barrymore Also "THE SCARLET ARROW" with Francis X. Bushman, Jr. A new thrilling chapter play.

SOLICITORS SEEK FUNDS FOR WORK OF PRINTING FOR BLIND

So that those who are blind may read, solicitors are in Xenia this week asking funds for the support of The Christian Record Publishing Association, College View, Neb., which publishes a magazine and books for the blind.

Through the raised letters of the magazine and of the books, the blind are entertained and are inspired to carry on under the affliction that has darkened their days. The publications are printed in Braille or the New York point system, and circulated to those who know either of these systems.

Those who have not learned to make their finger tips see for them will be taught the Braille method by the publication company in a home course. The course is free and the magazine is also circulated free of charge. The books are kept in a circulating library and are also loaned free to the afflicted.

Since the organization operates on a charity basis, it must be supported by the more fortunate. C. E. Robinson and W. J. Courts, representatives of the association, are in Xenia soliciting funds for the work with the endorsement of the Xenia Retail Merchants Association.

Records show there are sixty-two blind people in Greene County, forty-one of whom are living in Xenia. To these the literature printed by the association, free to all blind of any creed or race, helps bring a ray of sunshine into the lives of the afflicted.

Calendar Of Events

(Notices of coming events in social or fraternal circles, lodge meetings, club gatherings or benefits will be published in this column free of charge. Phone notices not more than ten days preceding the event itself.)

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 3: Church Prayer meetings. Jr. O. U. A. M. L. O. O. M. K. of P.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 4: Rebekahs. Red Men. P. of X. D. of A.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5: D. of V. Eagles.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 8: Modern Woodmen. D. of P.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 11: Obedient Council D. of A. Kiwanis. Rotary. Xenia I. O. O. F.

Mr. Lampert recalled Wednesday that his parents, his paternal grandfather and grandmother and his great-grandfather and great-grandmother had all celebrated their golden wedding anniversaries.

THREE to FIVE MINUTES to FORTY THEATRES AND ALL SHOWS

HOTEL ST. JAMES

Much favored by women traveling without escort. ROOMS 12 up with bath $5.00. Send postal for Rates & Booklet. W. JOHNSON QUINN President.

Now Over 350,000 Owners Are Driving General Motors' Lowest Priced Six

PURDOM & McFARLAND

PONTIAC SIX

PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS

Graceful Gesture

Photo shows Major John Coupal, U. S. A., personal physician to President Coolidge, who has been instructed by chief executive to hasten to New Haven, Conn., and attend Wilfrid Veno, well-known hockey player, and his mother, both of whom were injured when their car collided with that of Governor Trumbull of Connecticut, in which John, the President's son, was returning to his railway job. The latter was unhurt.

A Sudden End to Stomach Trouble

PAIN or discomfort following a meal doesn't mean you must go on a "diet." Nine times out of ten indigestion, acidity, flatulence and heartburn are caused by excess stomach acid and food fermentation.

After too hasty a lunch, or too hearty a dinner, a little "Pape's Diapepsin," instantly neutralizes excess acidity, stops that fermentation, and soothes and heals the acid-inflamed stomach lining as if by magic. Your recovery is quick and complete. Make a special point of getting a 60-cent package of "Pape's Diapepsin" from your druggist today, and so follow the example of millions all over the world who use "Pape's Diapepsin" to end indigestion and allied stomach troubles.

With "Pape's Diapepsin" handy you can eat and enjoy whatever you fancy without fear of pain or discomfort to follow. At any rate, it's worth the trial, for lots of folks have found a new freedom at the table.

DESCENDANTS MARK GRAVE OF JOHN CAMPBELL AT MT. HOLLY

Many descendants of John Campbell, pioneer Greene Countian, from different parts of the country attended the unveiling of the permanent marker to his memory, at the old Bethel Cemetery, one mile west of Mount Holly, near the Cincinnati Pike, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The marker has been given by M. C. Campbell, Wichita, Kansas, and by Mrs. Stanley and Mrs. Harper, representing the D. A. R., and reading of deeds, wills, etc., which were left by John Campbell and his sons.

Members of the Kansas City, Mo., chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will place a tablet on the marker. Among those present at the ceremonies were Mrs. John Craig, New York City; M. C. Campbell and Mrs. Peter Burnaugh, Mrs. Stanley and Mrs. J. C. Harper, Wichita, Kan., and Mrs. L. D. Temple, Upland, Calif., besides many descendants from the surrounding country.

The exercises were open to the public. The program included an address by M. C. Campbell, Wichita, Kansas, and by Mrs. Stanley and Mrs. Harper, representing the D. A. R., and reading of deeds, wills, etc., which were left by John Campbell and his sons.

GASOLINE PUMP IS FIRED FROM WIRES

The total number of fires in 1927 was exceeded Wednesday three months before the year 1928 expired when firemen responded to the one hundred and first alarm of the year at 8:05 a. m.

The alarm was sent in as a result of a short circuit in the wiring which ignited a gasoline pump in front of Gordon Brothers Garage, E. Second St. No damage resulted. The pump was being repaired

SPECIAL FALL SALE

—OF—

CANNED GOODS

LEAVE YOUR ORDERS NOW

| | |
|--|--|
| FRUITS | VEGETABLES |
| White Cherries 45c can, 3 cans $1.29, dozen $5.00. | Premier Tiny Tot Peas 35c can or 3 cans for $1.00. |
| Peaches 25c per can or $2.75 per dozen. | Premier Sweet Wrinkled Peas 25c can, or 3 for 69c. |
| Apricots 27c per can or $3.00 per dozen. | Premier Sifted Sugar Peas 20c a can or 3 for 55c. |
| Pears 39c per can or 3 cans for $1.10. | Premier Golden Bantam Corn 20c can, or 3 cans for 55c. |

FRESH ROASTED COFFEE EVERY DAY—BEST 35c COFFEE IN THE CITY

FETZ BROS.

100 South Detroit St. Phones 42 And 73

HAVE YOU EVER TASTED "E" FRESH PRUNES?

If you have never known the sprightly, luscious flavor found in the golden meat of the ripe purple prune you have been missing one of nature's most delightful surprises. A dish of these big, tender prunes, covered deep with rich, purple juice, is as decorative as it is delicious. Try them for luncheon, dinner or breakfast and see how much of pleasure and interest they will add to the meal.

3 SIZED CANS

8 oz. cans
1 lb. cans
Large sized cans

AT LAST! A SUPERB CHERRY AT 25c A Can

ROYAL ANNE CHERRIES

Housekeepers who have been deprived of the luxury of canned sweet cherries because of the high price will find a rare treat in these big, luscious, wonderfully flavored ROYAL ANNE CHERRIES. Each plump pink tinged cherry is tender clear to the seed but is as firm and fresh flavored as if just from the tree. Until you have tried them you will not believe that the whole of the delicate, delightful favor of the sweet cherry can be so perfectly preserved. There are no finer cherries on the market today and it is a truly remarkable privilege to get this wonderful fruit at our low price.

ONLY 25c A CAN AT YOUR GROCERS

The Eavey Company

WHOLESALE GROCERS

More Than 60 Years of Business Integrity Back of All "E" Brand Products Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Refunded

CHICHESTERS PILLS

Vern L. Faires

Represents America's Oldest Life Ins. Co. The Mutual Life Ins. Co. OF NEW YORK

Allen Bldg. Xenia, Ohio. Phone 240